Self Crowned Laureates Spenser Jonson Milton And The Literary System:

Self-crowned Laureates Richard Helgerson,1983      The Countesse of Pembrokes Arcadia and the Invention of English Literature J. Davis,2011-11-07 Revises the semiotic paradigm of the early modern literary system dominant since 1983 by adapting methods entailed in the idea that literary works emerge through a series of semiotic events Davis analyzes Philip Sidney's Arcadia and Astrophil and Stella to demonstrate how design elements stage the scene of reading these works

John Milton's Aristocratic Entertainments Cedric C. Brown,1985-09-05 This book is a comprehensive account of Milton's two aristocratic entertainments Arcades and Comus in the context of their original occasions and in the light of Milton's developing sense of vocation as a poet in the earlier part of his career The book is especially original in the amount of socio-historical information it offers about the relationship between the independent and pastorly poet and his aristocratic patrons and about the degree to which Milton was prepared to work within the constraints and decorum of the Caroline masque and country house entertainment A particular feature of the book is the analysis of changes in the texts of the two entertainments from the earliest version in the Trinity College manuscript through to the first printings considering Milton's changing manner of address to the different occasions of performance and publication A degree of tension is discovered between the poet and the organisers of the Ludlow masque and an explanation is given for a kind of censorship in the Bridgewater manuscript of Comus

Placing Elysium in Renaissance Britain Patrick Cheney,2025-10-02 Placing Elysium in Renaissance Britain Poetry Politics Theology Eros is the first study of Elysium as a place in English Renaissance culture The absence of such a study in the fields of literature and geography is surprising from its captivating origin in the oceanic margins of Homer's Odyssey to its presence in the Eden of Milton's Paradise Lost Elysium is a destination to be desired it is the land of the blessed As such Elysium becomes a geographical site for an author's most valued space In Britannia Camden provides leadership for this project by citing Plutarch as locating the blessed place in Britain Following Camden Spenser centralizes the idea of Britain as Elysium Subsequently English authors make the Elysian place the site of a liberating sublimity as the height of artistic renown This authorial template becomes the site for literary inflections in the realms of politics theology and eros However Kyd and Marlowe darken the Spenserian project recalling Virgil's geographical positioning of Elysium next to Hell In turn Drayton Chapman and Marston champion the Spenserian idea of Britain as Elysium As this conversation suggests English authors make Elysium the central place of the Renaissance period concept and they do so in the nation building genre of epic In The Muses Elizium Drayton crowns the Spenserian tradition by making the blessed place the monomyth of national poetry At the centre of the monomyth is the cherished ideal of Renaissance culture the Elysian capacity of the human to become divine

Etymology and the Invention of English in Early Modern Literature Hannah Crawforth,2013-11-07 Crawforth presents a major re-reading of early modern poetry demonstrating its debt to the emergence of linguistics in the period      Alexander Pope in the Making Joseph Hone,2021-01-28 How did Alexander Pope become the greatest poet of the eighteenth century Modern scholarship has typically taken Pope's rise to greatness and subsequent remoteness from lesser authors for granted As a major poet he is treated as the successor of Milton and Dryden or the precursor of Wordsworth Drawing on previously neglected texts and overlooked archival materials Alexander Pope in the Making immerses the poet in his milieu providing a substantial new account of Pope's early career from the earliest traces of manuscript circulation to the publication of his collected Works and beyond In this book Joseph Hone illuminates classic poems such as An Essay on Criticism The Rape of the Lock and Windsor Forest by setting them alongside lesser known texts by Pope and his contemporaries many of which have never received sustained critical attention before Pope's earliest experiments in satire panegyric lyric pastoral and epic are all explored alongside his translations publication strategies and neglected editorial projects By recovering values shared by Pope and the politically heterodox men and women whose works he read and with whom he collaborated this book constructs powerful new interpretive frameworks for some of the eighteenth century's most celebrated poems Alexander Pope in the Making mounts a comprehensive challenge to the Scriblerian paradigm that has dominated scholarship for the past eighty years It sheds fresh light on Pope's early career and reshapes our understanding of the ideological landscape of his era This book will be essential reading for scholars and students of eighteenth century literature history and politics

The Roaring Girl and Other City Comedies Thomas Dekker, 2008-06-12 The Oxford English Drama series offers plays from the 16th to the early 20th centuries in selections that make available both rarely printed and canonical works Each text is freshly edited using modern spelling

Broken English Paula Blank, 2002-11 The English language in the Renaissance was in many ways a collection of competing Englishes Blank investigates the representation of alternative vernaculars in both linguistic and literary works of the time

Concepts of Creativity in Seventeenth-century England Rebecca Herissone, Alan Howard, 2013 The first genuinely interdisciplinary study of creativity in early modern England In the seventeenth century the concept of creativity was far removed from most of the fundamental ideas about the creative act notions of human imagination inspiration originality and genius that developed in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries Instead in this period students learned their crafts by copying and imitating past masters and did not consciously seek to break away from tradition Most new material was made on the instructions of a patron and had to conform to external expectations and basic tenets that we tend to take for granted such as the primacy and individuality of the author were apparently considered irrelevant in some contexts The aim of this interdisciplinary collection of essays is to explore what it meant to create buildings and works of art music and literature in seventeenth century England and to investigate the processes by which such creations came into existence Through a series of specific case studies the book highlights a wide range of ideas beliefs and approaches to creativity that existed in seventeenth century England and places them in the context of the prevailing intellectual social and cultural trends of the period In so doing it draws into focus the profound changes that were emerging in the understanding of human creativity in early modern society transformations that would eventually lead to the development of a more recognisably modern conception of the notion of creativity The contributors work in and across the fields of literary studies history musicology history of art and history of architecture and their work collectively explores many of the most fundamental questions about creativity posed by the early modern English creative arts REBECCA HERISSONE is Head of Music and Senior Lecturer in Musicology at the University of Manchester ALAN HOWARD is Lecturer in Music at the University of East Anglia and Reviews Editor for Eighteenth Century Music Contributors Linda Phyllis Austern Stephanie Carter John Cunningham Marina Daiman Kirsten Gibson Raphael Hallett Rebecca Herissone Anne Hultzsch Freyja Cox Jensen Stephen Rose Andrew R Walkling Amanda Eubanks Winkler James A Winn     Tirso de Molina Esther Fernández, 2023 The first comprehensive study of Tirso de Molina and his work in English Tirso de Molina c 1583 c 1648 may not have written El Burlador de Sevilla but the works of this prolific author one of the three pillars of Golden Age Spanish theatre are notable for their erudition complex characters and wit Informed by a multidisciplinary critical perspective this volume sets Tirso's plays and prose in their social historical literary and cultural contexts Contributors from the United States Canada the United Kingdom and Spain offer a state of the art in current scholarship considering such topics as gender identity spatiality material culture and creative performativity among others The first volume in English to provide a richly detailed overview of Tirso's life and work Tirso de Molina Interdisciplinary Perspectives from the Twenty First Century grounds the reader in canonical theories while suggesting new approaches attuned to contemporary interests to his legacy
