Fugère, Jennifer P. Leszczynski, Alita J. Cousins, 2017-09-16 Why are we attracted to some people and not to others Are first impressions accurate Why do some romantic relationships succeed while others fail Are our romantic choices influenced by evolution In tackling questions like these The Social Psychology of Attraction and Romantic Relationships reviews the theory and research behind this fascinating area It combines real life anecdotes and popular media examples with the latest psychological studies making it a lively and engaging read Ideal for students of social psychology and intimate relationships courses this is a comprehensive introduction to an everyday subject that on closer investigation proves to be a dynamic intriguing and sometimes surprising area The Self Explained Roy F. Baumeister, 2022-04-12 The idea of the self is immediately familiar to everyone yet elusive to define and understand From pioneering researcher Roy F Baumeister this volume synthesizes a vast body of knowledge to provide a panoramic view of the human self how it develops and functions why it exists and what problems it encounters on the journey through life What are the benefits of self knowledge and how attainable is it Do we have one self or many What is the relationship of self and society In 28 concise chapters Baumeister explains complex concepts with clarity and insight He reveals the central role played by the self in enabling both individuals and cultures to thrive Choosing Unsafe Sex Elisa Janine Sobo, 1995 Choosing Unsafe Sex focuses on the ways in which condom refusal and beliefs regarding HIV testing reflect women s hopes for their relationships and their desires to preserve status and self esteem It also discusses the related issue of seropositivity concealment or non disclosure Many of the inner city women who participated in Dr Sobo s research were seriously involved with one man and they had heavy emotional and social investments in believing or maintaining that their partners were faithful to them Uninvolved women had similarly heavy investments in their abilities to identify or choose potential partners who were HIV negative In either case women sought to present and to view themselves as wise and their men as monogamous Women did not see themselves as being at risk for HIV infection and so they saw no need for condoms But they did recommend that other women use them they saw other women as quite likely to be involved with sexually unfaithful men Choosing Unsafe Sex includes recommendations for educational strategies that are sensitive to cultural expectations for relationships Dr Sobo s findings have significance not only for inner city HIV AIDS educators but for all who seek a deeper understanding of mainstream assumptions about heterosexual relationships
