Self Imitation In The Eighteenth Century Novel:

Self-imitation in the Eighteenth-century Novel Marie-Paule Laden, 1987 Freedom's Empire Laura Doyle, 2008-01-11 A sweeping argument that from the mid seventeenth century until the mid twentieth the English language novel encoded ideas equating race with liberty Imitation and Society Tom Huhn, 2007-08-09 This book reconsiders the fate of the doctrine of mimesis in the eighteenth century Standard accounts of the aesthetic theories of this era hold that the idea of mimesis was supplanted by the far more robust and compelling doctrines of taste and aesthetic judgment Since the idea of mimesis was taken to apply only in the relation of art to nature it was judged to be too limited when the focus of aesthetics changed to questions about the constitution of individual subjects in regard to taste Tom Huhn argues that mimesis rather than disappearing instead became a far more pervasive idea in the eighteenth century by becoming submerged within the dynamics of the emerging accounts of judgment and taste Mimesis also thereby became enmeshed in the ideas of sociality contained often only implicitly within the new accounts of aesthetic judgment The book proceeds by reading three of the foundational treatises in aesthetics Burke's Philosophical Enquiry into the Origin of Our Ideas of the Sublime and Beautiful Hogarth's Analysis of Beauty and Kant's Critique of Judgment with an eye for discerning where arguments and analyses betray mimetic structures Huhn attempts to explicate these books anew by arguing that they are pervaded by a mimetic dynamic Overall he seeks to provoke a reconsideration of eighteenth century aesthetics that centers on its continuity with traditional notions of mimesis The English Novel, 1700-1740 Robert Letellier, 2003-02-28 The English novel written between 1700 and 1740 remains a comparatively neglected area In addition to Daniel Defoe whose Robinson Crusoe and Moll Flanders are landmarks in the history of English fiction many other authors were at work These included such women as Penelope Aubin Jane Barker Mary Davys and Eliza Haywood who made a considerable contribution to widening the range of emotional responses in fiction These authors and many others continued writing in the genres inherited from the previous century such as criminal biographies the Utopian novel the science fictional voyage and the epistolary novel This annotated bibliography includes entries for these works and for critical materials pertinent to them The volume first seeks to establish the existing studies of the era along with anthologies It then provides entries for a wide ranging selection of works which cover fictional theoretical historical political and cultural topics to provide a comprehensive background to the unfolding and understanding of prose fiction in the early 18th century This is followed by an alphabetical listing of novels their editions and any critical material available on each The next section provides a chronological record of significant and enduring works of fiction composed or translated in this period The volume concludes with extensive indexes understandings of the psyche and offer novel insights into strategies of conflict management the role of emotions in international relations and the modern fixation on identity The Not So Blank "blank Page" Thorell Porter

 revises current theories of what narratologists call focalization and applies his revised theory to four eighteenth century French memoir novels Hindsight and Insight contributes to our knowledge of the history and evolution of the novel by demonstrating that France s earliest novelists were already engaged in the kinds of narrative experimentation that are usually associated with modern writers It presents an analysis of the narrative point of view in both its theoretical aspects and its practical applications Edmiston exposes the inadequacies of current concepts of focalization and proposes a revised concept that is applicable to personal narration one that can accommodate all the focal possibilities available to the first person narrator He applies this concept to four French memior novels Les Egarements du coeur et de l esprit by Marivaux Manon Lescaut by Pr vost and La Religieuse by Diderot Each of these well known novels offers a different case study and raises specific theoretical questions of selective focalization forms of reported speech problems of temporal ambiguity manipulation of the reader narratorial reliability and cognitive privilege Edmiston s study proposes a reading of the novels that resolves certain problems of interpretation raised by other recent studies The Memoirs of Lady Hyegyong JaHyun Kim Haboush,2013-09-14 Lady Hyegyong s memoirs which recount the chilling murder of her husband by his father form one of the best known and most popular classics of Korean literature From 1795 until 1805 Lady Hyegyong composed this masterpiece depicting a court life Shakespearean in its pathos drama and grandeur Presented in its social cultural and historical contexts this first complete English translation opens a door into a world teeming with conflicting passions political intrigue and the daily preoccupations of a deeply intelligent and articulate woman JaHyun Kim Haboush s accurate fluid translation captures the intimate and expressive voice of this consummate storyteller Reissued nearly twenty years after its initial publication with a new foreword by Dorothy Ko The Memoirs of Lady Hyegyong is a unique exploration of Korean selfhood and an extraordinary example of autobiography in the premodern era Through a Glass Darkly Ronald Hoffman,Mechal Sobel,Fredrika J. Teute,2012-12-01 These thirteen original essays are provocative explorations in the construction and representation of self in America s colonial and early republican eras Highlighting the increasing importance of interdisciplinary research for the field of early American history these leading scholars in the field extend their reach to literary criticism anthropology psychology and material culture The collection is organized into three parts Histories of Self Texts of Self and Reflections on Defining Self Individual essays examine the significance of dreams diaries and carved chests murder and suicide Indian kinship and the experiences of African American sailors Gathered in celebration of the Institute of Early American History and Culture s fiftieth anniversary these imaginative inquiries will stimulate critical thinking and open new avenues of investigation on the forging of self identity in early America The contributors are W Jeffrey

Bolster T H Breen Elaine Forman Crane Greg Denning Philip Greven Rhys Isaac Kenneth A Lockridge James H Merrell Donna Merwick Mary Beth Norton Mechal Sobel Alan Taylor Laurel Thatcher Ulrich and Richard White British Fiction and the Production of Social Order, 1740-1830 Miranda J. Burgess, 2000-10-26 In British Fiction and the Production of Social Order Miranda Burgess examines what Romantic period writers called romance a hybrid genre defined by a shared role in the negotiation of conflicts between political economy and moral philosophy Reading a broad range of fictional and non fictional works published between 1740 and 1830 Burgess places authors such as Richardson Scott Austen and Wollstonecraft in a new economic social and cultural context She explores the interaction between writing and the formation of community particularly in relation to issues of legitimacy and gender Burgess argues that the romance held a key role in remaking the national order of a Britain dependent on ideologies of human nature for justification of its social economic and political systems
