Selfish Altruist Relief Work In Famine And War:

The Selfish Altruist Tony Vaux, 2013-06-17 Provides an analysis of some of the most traumatic situations involving famine and war of the last two decades helping us to understand what it takes to be an aid worker and how important humanitarian action is today Famine and war evoke strong emotional reactions and for most people there is a limited amount they can do But the relief worker has to convert emotional responses into practical action and difficult choices whom to help and how Their own feelings have to motivate action for others But can they separate out their own selfish feelings and prejudices in such an emotive climate How do they avoid being partial among those they are helping Are they motivated by altruistic concern or the power they experience or the attention they receive Tony Vaux brings over 20 years experience as one of Oxfam's leading emergency managers to the exploration of the conflicts between subjective impulses and objective judgements and the dilemmas relief workers contend with

The Selfish Altruist Tony Vaux, 2001 Humanitarianism in Question Michael Barnett, Thomas G. Weiss, 2012-05-15 Years of tremendous growth in response to complex emergencies have left a mark on the humanitarian sector Various matters that once seemed settled are now subjects of intense debate What is humanitarianism Is it limited to the provision of relief to victims of conflict or does it include broader objectives such as human rights democracy promotion development and peacebuilding For much of the last century the principles of humanitarianism were guided by neutrality impartiality and independence More recently some humanitarian organizations have begun to relax these tenets The recognition that humanitarian action can lead to negative consequences has forced humanitarian organizations to measure their effectiveness to reflect on their ethical positions and to consider not only the values that motivate their actions but also the consequences of those actions In the indispensable Humanitarianism in Question Michael Barnett and Thomas G Weiss bring together scholars from a variety of disciplines to address the humanitarian identity crisis including humanitarianism's relationship to accountability great powers privatization and corporate philanthropy warlords and the ethical evaluations that inform life and death decision making during and after emergencies

Lang Jr.,2018-08-13 This book assesses the impact of the work of Chris Brown in the field of International Political Theory The volume engages with general issues of IPT as well as basic issues such as the use and role of practical reasoning and presents a nuanced understanding about issues regarding the legitimacy of war and violence It explores questions that pertain to human rights morality and ethics and generally an outlook for devising a better world The project is ideal for audiences with interest in International Relations Ethics and Morality Studies and International Political Theory Mitigating Conflict Henry F. as Advocates for Development in a Globalising World Barbara Rugendyke, 2007-12-12 This book traces the recent growth in NGO advocacy Barbara Rugendyke presents empirical findings about the impacts of NGO advocacy activity on the policies and practices of global and regional institutions The research reveals the mixed successes of advocacy as a strategy for addressing the ongoing causes of poverty in developing nations Case studies illustrate the advocacy work of Australian NGOs of British NGOs policies about engaging with multinationals of Oxfam International s advocacy directed at World Bank policies and NGO advocacy in the Mekong Region Adopting an interdisciplinary approach the mixed successes of advocacy as a strategy used by NGOs in attempting to address the ongoing causes of poverty in developing nations are examined This volume is a useful aid to researchers students and lecturers and to development practitioners interested in advocacy as a development strategy
