Sell Globally, Tax Locally Michael S. Greve, 2003 This book discusses the flaws of destination based taxation and makes the theoretical case for origin based taxation Global Perspectives on E-Commerce Taxation Law Dr Subhajit Basu, 2013-01-28 In its most advanced form e commerce allows unidentified purchasers to pay obscure vendors in electronic cash for products that are often goods services and licenses all rolled into one This book considers the implications for the domestic and international tax systems of the growth of e commerce It covers a wide variety of activities from discussion of the principles governing direct and indirect taxation to explanation of the implementation and use of e commerce on the part of businesses as well as the application of existing tax principles in this field With its focus on the broader issues surrounding the expansion of e commerce and its attention to the problems arising internationally in this field Global Perspectives in E Commerce Taxation Law will appeal to scholars worldwide Informing Public Policy Stefanie Haeffele, Abigail R. Hall, Adam Millsap, 2019-04-25 Market process theory illustrates how the market is the most effective institution for overcoming the knowledge problem Specifically the institutional characteristics of private property monetary prices and the disciplining mechanisms of profit and loss guide actors to utilize knowledge dispersed among society to allocate resources effectively and to adjust their behavior when errors occur to provide valuable goods and services to society The chapters in this manuscript explore through applications to issues within the United States and internationally contemporary issues in public policy through the theoretical framework of knowledge problems and market process economics Utilizing this approach as well as other fundamental insights from economics these chapters aim to illustrate how individuals in society address pressing public issues the problems faced by policymakers and the potential for novel solutions to policy challenges Authored by individuals from a variety of disciplines with interests in public policy this work includes discussions of education child welfare urban planning and U S healthcare policy as well as topics in e commerce the Global War on Terror international trade and economic development Smoking Environments in China Ross Barnett, Tingzhong Yang, Xiaozhao Y. Yang, 2021-12-09 This book fills a major gap in research into smoking and tobacco control in China In recent decades few studies have explored the significance of geographical factors and the role they have played either in affecting the prevalence of smoking or in tobacco control responses to the smoking epidemic in China In light of this the book investigates the importance of national regional and local environmental factors affecting smoking in China It shows how geographical social and institutional contexts have influenced the implementation and success of tobacco control initiatives and situates smoking trends in China in a broader global context The authors synthesize Chinese and western research on the smoking epidemic and uniquely focus on the importance of environmental factors and Chinese cultural perspectives in understanding smoking behaviour and the ineffectiveness of many tobacco control initiatives especially how these conflict with Chinese economic policy The book is aimed at academic and policy audiences both internationally and inside China and will be of interest to a wide audience not only geographers but also epidemiologists sociologists and others working in public health
