Male Image Representations Of Masculinity In Postwar Poetry:

The Male Image Ian Gregson, 1999-11-12 This book discusses how masculinity is represented by women poets and gay poets but most of all how it is represented by straight male poets It shows how Robert Lowell and John Berryman both identify a gender malaise in themselves which they struggle with throughout their careers and how Derek Walcott displays a profound gender insecurity in relation to the colonial experience It discusses the impact on Ted Hughes and Seamus Heaney of their belief in a transcendent feminine principle and how C K Williams and Paul Muldoon display the impact of feminism on male poets who are young enough to have encountered it at a formative period

Posting the Male, 2022-06-08 The essays collected in Posting the Male examine representations of masculinity in post war and contemporary British literature focussing on the works of writers as diverse as John Osborne Joe Orton James Kelman Ian Rankin Carol Ann Duffy Alan Hollinghurst Ian McEwan Graham Swift and Jackie Kay The collection seeks to capture the current historical moment of crisis at which masculinity loses its universal transparency and becomes visible as a performative gender construct Rather than denoting just one fixed polarised point on a hierarchised axis of strictly segregated gender binaries masculinity is revealed to oscillate within a virtually limitless spectrum of gender identities characterised not by purity and self containment but by difference and alterity As the contributors demonstrate rather than a gender in crisis millennial manhood is a gender in transition Patriarchal strategies of man making are gradually being replaced by less exclusionary patterns of self identification inspired by feminism Men have begun to recognise themselves as gendered beings and as a result masculinity has been set in motion

Male Poets and the Agon of the Mother Hannah Baker Saltmarsh, 2019-04-23 A thoughtful exploration of male poets contributions to the literature of motherhood In the late 1950s the notion of a mother poem emerged during a confessional literary movement that freed poets to use personal psychosexual material about intimate topics such as parents childhood failed marriages children infidelity and mental illness In Male Poets and the Agon of the Mother Hannah Baker Saltmarsh argues that male poets have contributed to what we think of as the literature of motherhood that confessional and postconfessional modes have been formative in the way male poets have grappled with the stories of their mothers and how those stories reflect on the writers and their artistic identities Through careful readings of formative elegies and homages written by male poets of this time Saltmarsh explores how they engaged with femininity and feminine voices in the 1950s and 60s and sheds light on the inheritance of confessional motifs of gender and language as demonstrated by postconfessional writers responding to the rich subject matter of motherhood within the contexts of history myth and literature A foreword is provided by Jo Gill professor of twentieth century and American literature in the Department of English and associate dean for education at the University of Exeter

Purple Passages Rachel Blau DuPlessis, 2012-03-15 What is patriarchal poetry How can it be both attractive and tempting and yet be so hegemonic that it is invisible How does it combine various mixes of masculinity femininity effeminacy and eroticism At once passionate and dispassionate Rachel Blau DuPlessis meticulously outlines key moments of choice and debate about masculinity among writers as disparate as Ezra Pound T S Eliot Louis Zukofsky Charles Olson Robert Creeley and Allen Ginsberg choices that construct consequential models for institutions of poetic practice As DuPlessis writes There are no genderless subjects in any relationship structuring literary culture not in production dissemination or reception not in objects discourses or practices not in reading experiences or in interpretations And as she reveals in careful and enthralling detail for the poets at the center of this book questions of masculinity loomed large and were continuously articulated in their self creation as writers in literary bonding and in its deployment These gender laden choices debates and contradictions all have a striking influence today In this empathic yet critical historical polemic DuPlessis reveals the outcomes of these many investments in the radical reconstruction of masculinity in their strains incompleteness tensions and failures At the heart of modernist maleness and poetic practices are contradictions and urgencies gender ideas both progressive and defensive In a striking book on male behavior in poetic dyads the third book in a feminist critical trilogy DuPlessis tracks the poetic debates and arguments about gender that continuously affirm patriarchal poetry Pastoral, Pragmatism, and Twentieth-Century American Poetry A. Humanism Betrayed Graham Good,2001 In Humanism Betrayed Graham Good offers a defence of liberal humanism against the illiberal trends political and intellectual that dominate today s university He uses the McEwen Report episode at the University of British Columbia to illustrate the current political climate in universities showing how due process was neglected in favour of ideological inquisition The intellectual trends Good discusses include what he calls the New Sectarianism which rejects individuality in favour of collective identities based on race gender and sexual preference Presentism which rejects the notion of history as a continuous narrative in favour of seeing the past as interpretable in any way that suits the political interests of the present and a Hermeneutic of suspicion in which literary texts are seen as masks for discreditable political motives Good demonstrates that these trends culminate in the prison like Acarceral vision of Michel Foucault and his followers the view that culture is ideology and that culture does not free humans but incarcerates them Good contrasts this view with the liberal vision of culture and society represented by Northrop Frye concluding with an analysis of the relationship between anti humanist theory among academics and the managerial practices of university administrations which he argues neglect or reject basic humanistic values such as free individuality aesthetic greatness and autonomous inquiry Ted Hughes, Nature and Culture Neil Roberts,Mark Wormald,Terry Gifford,2018-09-29 The fourteen contributors to this new collection of essays begin with Ted Hughes s proposition that every child is nature s chance to correct culture s error Established Hughes scholars alongside new voices draw on a range of approaches to explore the intricate relationships between the natural world and cultural environments political as well as geographical which his work unsettles Combining close readings of his encounters with animals and places and explorations of the poets who influenced him these essays reveal Ted Hughes as a writer we still urgently need Hughes helps us manage in his words the powers of the inner world and the stubborn conditions of the other world under which ordinary men and women have to live
