Martello Tower:

Martello Towers Worldwide Bill Clements, 2011-07-04 Martello Towers Worldwide follows the history of the Martello tower from the construction of the early towers built to protect the Mediterranean shores of Spain and Italy right up to the final towers built in the United Kingdom during the First World War The book is illustrated with a large number of contemporary and historic photographs drawings and plans a very large number of which were not included in the earlier Towers of Strength These provide the most detailed information yet published about the development of the Martello towers in Britain and overseas So the book will be of particular interest to those interested in the history of fortifications architectural conservation and military history generally It will also be of interest to an international readership as the book now has a gazetteer of towers outside the United Kingdom that remain today together with a chapter describing a number of towers built in the United States The book supplements the earlier Towers of Strength and such will be an important addition to the existing bibliography of books on Martello towers and fortification Martello Towers Sheila Sutcliffe, 1973 Martello Towers those squat circular buildings on lonely stretches of coastline have been part of the seaside scene for over 150 years This book describes how and why they were built their history and what they are used for today The Historical Development of the Martello Tower in the Channel Islands E. J. Grimsley, 1988 Towers of Strength W. H. Clements, 1998-08-12 Martello towers were built in the early part of the nineteenth century to defend the coast of England against Napoleonic invasion Almost 200 years later forty one of these handsome brick towers still stand along the coast of Kent Sussex Essex and Suffolk The cost of their construction was comparable in relative terms to that of today's Trident missile system The line of towers was never tested in action but acted as an effective deterrent against invasion Today Martello towers are a familiar sight from Aldeburgh in Suffolk to Newhaven in Sussex but it is generally known that similar towers were built by the Royal Engineers to defend British interests in other parts of the world Martello towers were being built as late as the 1850s as far afield as Canada Mauritius Australia and the Mediterranean This book illustrated with numerous photographs and plans is the first comprehensive and detailed study of the known Martello towers built by the British Its description of their construction use current condition and fate will fascinate the enquiring reader as well as being a source of interest to visitors Many of the towers remain landmarks today Fort Denison in Sydney Harbour being a case in point Tybee Island Robert A. Ciucevich, 2005 From Gual Indians and Spanish explorers to its glory days as the queen of south Atlantic beach resorts and beyond Tybee Island's quiet charm hides a rich and occasionally violent history Soldiers rebels and rumrunners all found their place in history here as great battles fires and hurricanes played out over time Through centuries of change Tybee has remained one of the South's most popular resorts Report of the Superintendent of the U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey Showing the Progress of the Work During the Fiscal Year Ending with ... U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, 1912 "Martello Tower" in China and the Pacific in H. server space And by the year 2027 data centres are forecast to consume a third of Ireland's total electricity demand The book aims to raise awareness around the hardware of the global internet and Cloud services which is interwoven with the Irish landscape made manifest through the vast constellation of data centres fibre optic cable networks and energy grids that have come to populate its cities and suburbs over recent decades The publication accompanies and supports Entanglement the Irish Pavilion at the 17th Venice Architecture Biennale by archiving the production of the pavilion filtered through a series of poetic excerpts that describe the form components content and furniture that make up the installation At the same time the book is conceived as more than just a catalog by positioning some of the cultural and spatial implications of data technologies in Ireland within a more universal context through contributions by ANNEX the team selected to produce the pavilion as well as invited contributors from the disciplines of Media Theory Journalism Computer Science Geography History and Architecture
