Children of God offers a fresh and original commentary on the Gospel of John as a narrative inviting readers both in the evangelist's time and our own to a radical commitment to follow Jesus from within a spirit-filled community. This reading is grounded in a poetics of biblical narrative that balances attention to historical, ideological, and aesthetic aspects of John's Gospel while highlighting its relevance for today. By committing himself to a close analysis of the text as symbolic action, Howard Brook makes it clear how John's Gospel fairly bristles with references to societal conditions that demand a direct response. Throughout the commentary, his close attention to literary structure as well as social background yields new insights into the often obscure message of the Fourth Gospel. NKJV, Jesus Calling Devotional Bible, eBook Sarah Young, 2011-10-10. The Jesus Calling Devotional Bible puts readers in touch with God and His answers for their life situations. Missionary Sarah Young had been journaling her prayers for years when she began listening for what Jesus was saying to her within the words of Scripture. In this commentary, Kanagaraj examines how John projects the church as God's new covenant community, which is characterized by two virtues: love and obedience. Impossible to exhibit under the old covenant based on Moses' Law, these qualities became possible by the initiative, grace, and faithfulness of God revealed in Jesus and demonstrated by the power of the Spirit. God's new community is an inclusive and progressive community because its witness to Jesus in a world that hates and persecutes it has the power to bring in all people so that they may become one flock under one shepherd. Kanagaraj argues that the idea of founding and nurturing a new community was in God's heart even before the time of creation and not just at the time of incarnation. Parliamentary Papers Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons, 1863. Accounts and Papers of the House of Commons Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons, 1874. Feasting on the Word: Year C, Volume 3 David L. Bartlett, Barbara Brown Taylor, 2010-01-27. With this new lectionary commentary series, Westminster John Knox offers the most extensive resource for preaching on the market today. When complete, the twelve volumes of the series will cover all the Sundays in the three-year lectionary cycle along with movable occasions such as Christmas Day, Epiphany, Holy Week, and All Saints Day. For each lectionary text, preachers will find four brief essays, one each on the theological, pastoral, exegetical, and homiletical challenges of the text. This gives preachers sixteen different approaches to the proclamation of the Word on any given occasion. The editors and contributors to this series are world-class scholars, pastors, and writers representing a variety of denominations and traditions. And while the twelve volumes of the series will follow the pattern of the Revised Common Lectionary, each volume will contain an index of biblical passages so that nonlectionary preachers as well as teachers and students may make use of its contents
