Martin Lister's English Spiders 1678:

Martin Lister's English Spiders 1678 Martin Lister, 1992 This is the first ever English edition of the naturalist Martin Lister's Tractatus de Araneis written in Latin and published in 1678 A founder member of the Royal Society and a friend and regular correspondent of his well known contemporary John Ray Lister was highly regarded in his own day and cited by Linnaeus in the tenth edition of his Systema Naturae 1758 With the demise of Latin as the language of science and the ability to read it so his pioneering contribution to British arachnology has been either overlooked or discounted and he has faded into relative obscurity John Parker's Introduction chronicles Lister's life and times and assesses Lister's contribution to arachnology Notes on the translation explain Lister's precise and well ordered terminology and give further background information The translation of the Tractatus itself follows Book 1 is an introductory section devoted to general spider morphology behaviour biology and lore Book 2 the systematic section divides spiders first into those with two and those with eight eyes and then by their methods of obtaining prey either by web building or hunting in the open Each species description is followed by an editorial Species Note commenting on Lister's observations several of which are unique A superb new colour plate by Michael J Roberts mirrors the original engraved plate other monochrome plates illustrate some of the most important people and places in Lister's life An appendix containing relevant correspondence between Lister and his contemporaries is followed by comprehensive references and an index

The Correspondence of Dr. Martin Lister (1639–1712). Volume Two: 1678–1694, 2025-09-25 Martin Lister 1639 1712 who served as physician to Queen Anne was a prominent Fellow of the Royal Society F R S and he was made an honorary M D by Oxford in 1684 The first scientific arachnologist and conchologist and a major benefactor of the Ashmolean Museum he corresponded regularly on natural history and medicine with its first and second keepers Robert Plot 1640 1696 and Edward Lhwyd 1660 1709 Lister's unpublished papers were among the largest of his donations to Oxford's fledgling museum of science In the mid nineteenth century these collections passed from the Ashmolean to the Bodleian Library They contain the bulk of his correspondence though sizeable quantities of his outgoing letters are held elsewhere chiefly in the Royal Society the Natural History Museum and the British Library's collection of Sloane Manuscripts This volume is a critical edition of this correspondence from 1678 to 1694 encompassing the years he established a medical practice in London and completed his major works on conchology

The Correspondence of Dr. Martin Lister (1639-1712). Volume One: 1662-1677, 2015-02-04 Winner of the 2017 John Thackray Medal awarded by the Society for the History of Natural History U K Martin Lister 1639 1712 was a consummate virtuoso the first arachnologist and conchologist and a Royal physician As one of the most prominent corresponding fellows of the Royal Society many of Lister's discoveries in natural history archaeology medicine and chemistry were printed in the Philosophical Transactions Lister corresponded extensively with explorers and other virtuosi such as John Ray who provided him with specimens observations and locality records from Jamaica America Barbados France

Italy the Netherlands and his native England This volume of ca 400 letters one of three consists of Lister's correspondence dated from 1662 to 1677 including his time as a Cambridge Fellow his medical training in Montpellier and his years as a practicing physician in York

The Salt of the Earth Anna Marie Eleanor Roos, 2007 Consisting of a series of case studies this book is devoted to the concept and uses of salt in early modern science which have played a crucial role in the evolution of matter theory from Aristotelian concepts of the elements to Newtonian chymistry No reliable study on this subject has been previously available Its exploration of natural history's and medicine's intersection with chemical investigation in early modern England demonstrates the growing importance of the senses and experience as causes of intellectual change from 1650 1750 It demonstrates that an understanding of the changing definitions of salt is also crucial to a historical comprehension of the transition between alchemy and chemistry

Web of Nature: Martin Lister (1639-1712), the First Arachnologist Anna Marie Roos, 2011-07-12 This first full length biography of Dr Martin Lister 1639 1712 vice president of the Royal Society Royal Physician and the first arachnologist and conchologist provides an unprecedented picture of a seventeenth century virtuoso Lister is recognized for his discovery of ballooning spiders and as the father of conchology but it is less well known that he invented the histogram provided Newton with alloys and donated the first significant natural history collections to the Ashmolean Museum Just as Lister was the first to make a systematic study of spiders and their webs this biography is the first to analyze the significant webs of knowledge patronage and familial and gender relationships that governed his life as a scientist and physician

Discourse Perspectives on English Risto Hiltunen, Janne Skaffari, 2003-01-01 Covering nearly one thousand years this volume explores medieval and modern English texts from fresh perspectives Within the relatively new field of historical discourse linguistics the synchronic analysis of large textual units and consideration of text external features in relation to discourse has so far received little attention To fill that gap this volume offers studies of medieval instructional and religious texts and correspondence from the early modern period The contributions highlight writer audience relationships the intended use of texts descriptions of text type and questions of orality and manuscript contextualization The topics ranging from the reception of Old English texts to the conventions of practical instruction in Middle English to the epistolary construction of science in early Modern English are directly relevant to historical linguists discourse and text linguists and students of the history of English

The Bird Colin Tudge, 2010-09-07 How are birds so good at flying and navigating Why are birds so like mammals and yet so very different Did birds descend from dinosaurs and if so does that mean birds are dinosaurs How do they court each other and fend off rivals What's being communicated in birdsong Can we ever know how birds think In this fascinating exploration of the avian class Colin Tudge considers the creatures of the air From their evolutionary roots to their flying feeding fighting mating nesting and communicating Tudge provocatively ponders what birds actually do as well as why they do it and how With the same curiosity passion and insight he brought to redwoods pines and palm trees in his widely acclaimed book The Tree Tugger here studies sparrows parrots and even the Monkey eating Eagle to better understand their world and our own There is far more to a bird's existence than gliding gracefully on air currents or chirping sweetly from fence posts the stakes are life and death By observing and explaining the complex strategy that comes into play with everything from migration to social interaction to the timing of giving birth to young Tugger reveals how birds are uniquely equipped biologically to succeed and survive And he offers an impassioned plea for humans to learn to coexist with birds without continuing to endanger their survival Complete with an annotated cast list of all the known birds in the world plus gorgeous illustrations The Bird is a comprehensive and delightfully accessible guide for everyone from dedicated birders to casual birdwatchers that celebrates and illuminates the remarkable lives of birds English Naturalists from Neckam to Ray Charles Earle Raven, 1947 Lesser Living Creatures of the Renaissance Keith Botelho, Joseph Campana, 2023-01-06 Lesser Living Creatures examines literary and cultural texts from early modern England in order to understand how people in that era thought about and with insect and arachnid life Designed for the classroom the book comprises two volumes Insects and Concepts that can be used together or independently Each addresses the collaborative multigenerational research that produced early modern natural history and provides new insights into the old question of what it means to be human in a world populated by beasts large and small Volume 1 Insects examines how insects burrowed into the literal and symbolic economies of the era The contributors consider diminutive creatures such as bees and beetles flies and fleas silkworms and spiders and their depictions in plays poetry fables natural histories and more In doing so they illuminate how early modern science and literature worked as intersecting systems of knowledge production about the natural world and show definitively how insect life was and remains intimately entangled with human life In addition to the editors contributors to this volume include Chris Barrett Roya Biggie Bruce Boehrer Gary Bouchard Dan Brayton Eric Brown Mary Baine Campbell Perry Guevara Shannon Kelley Emily King Karen Raber Kathryn Vomero Santos Donovan Sherman and Steven Swarbrick Liste des travaux arachnologiques, 1988 Moving Sites Victoria Hunter, 2015-03-27 Moving Sites explores site specific dance practice through a combination of analytical essays and practitioner accounts of their working processes In offering this joint effort of theory and practice it aims to provide dance academics students and practitioners with a series of discussions that shed light both on approaches to making this type of dance practice and evaluating and reflecting on it The edited volume combines critical thinking from a range of perspectives including commentary and observation from the fields of dance studies human geography and spatial theory in order to present interdisciplinary discourse and a range of critical and practice led lenses through which this type of work can be considered and explored In so doing this book addresses the following questions How do choreographers make site specific dance performance What occurs when a moving body engages with site place and environment How might we interpret analyse and evaluate this type of dance practice through a range of theoretical lenses How can this type of practice inform wider discussions of embodiment site space place and environment This innovative and exciting book seeks to move beyond description and discussion of site specific dance as a spectacle or novelty and considers site dance as a valid and vital form of contemporary dance practice that explores reflects disrupts contests and develops understandings and practices of inhabiting and engaging with a range of sites and environments Dr Victoria Hunter is Senior Lecturer in Dance at the University of Chichester Early Modern
