The objective is not only to use the concepts of French and Australian detective fiction productively via the analysis of French and Australian detective fiction novels but also to challenge and undermine the very notion of national detective fictions which are so often assumed to be transparently meaningful. The contributors to this volume focus variously on the following areas: comparative analysis of the genesis of French and Australian detective fiction; translation of Australian and other novels into French; translation as a genre; Frenchness as a stereotype; its role in individual novels and its spectre in all detective fiction; and readings of individual French and Australian detective novels.
