years later and neither have the stories He had the most vivid dream of his life which magically eventually led him to his lovely bride They have now shared the past quarter of a century together including kids and grandkids It s all there along with the lessons and confessions The Journey Prize Stories 25 Various,2013-10-08 This year eighty one different stories battled for our affections ranging in content from a post apocalyptic suburb coping with rumours of cannibalism to a movie theatre in Mauritius where dreams of a better future flicker onscreen to a mattress store where a long lasting friendship threatens to come undone For each of us it was a chance to partake in a process that now stretches back twenty five years a sneak peak at authors who in the future will likely become favourites Miranda Hill Mark Medley and Russell Wangersky from their Introduction Among the stories this year Brimming with restless energy Doretta Lau s How Does a Single Blade of Grass Thank the Sun is a sometimes provocative portrait of adolescent angst and rebellion set among a gang of dragoons growing up in Vancouver It vividly brings to life a twenty first century culture clash and illuminates the struggles and alienation of Chinese youth whether from Hong Kong or the Mainland now living in Lotus Land Doretta Lau s story positively hums the language a well shaken cocktail of influences ranging from hip hop and Asian cinema to Chinese history and the slang of the West As vibrant and colourful as graffiti Well timed and yet still carefully fractured enough to be jarring Eliza Robertson s My Sister Sang is a marvel of unexpected directions and sharp edges A deftly told story of two eavesdroppers one a linguist the other professionally tuned to acoustics who listen over and over to every scrap of a tragedy Even with the distance and detachment of its characters from the centre of its disaster there is no easy peace no mere scientific examination of cause and effect this is writing as carefully crafted and fine as pastry with thin perfect layers where every line serves to strengthen the rest Nabeh Ruthnum s Cinema Rex is as rich and visual as the films at its centre which play on the new movie screen in one neighbourhood of Mauritius in the 1950s The author beautifully draws the connections between the changing community inundated by Hollywood and after school English lessons and a season of vital shifts for three friends transitioning out of boyhood Full of heady sensory details Ruthnum s deft observations of family and class interactions create an entire world of established histories and hierarchies even though the reader is only privy to a sliver of these stories

Journey's End Victoria Brewster,Julie Saeger Nierenberg,2017-07-20 In Journey s End many and varied collaborators write about death dying and the end of life We attempt to describe real life issues and circumstances and we discuss ways to proactively deal with them Useful training resource and reference material is also included Death dying and end of life are topics many prefer to avoid This book suggests that we benefit from having frank discussions living life to the fullest and planning for our own journey s end whenever that may be Everyone who is born eventually will die whether or not we want to embrace that fact Though few of us know when we will die we and our family or friends can be well prepared We can have discussions and create written directives for what we want if we are unable to verbally state them ourselves Do we want life support Do we want interventions that may or may not have any benefit to our quality of life if we are in the hospital or in an accident Do we want to be involved in planning our funeral memorial or celebration of life The submissions within are from professionals in the field of death and bereavement support and from laypeople all of whom share stories of dying family members friends clients and patients Julie and Victoria the coauthors of this book also share stories from their personal and professional experiences Journey s End is a broadly comprehensive book about death dying and the end of life American Ringer Alan Benning,2023-10-06 To most it would seem that English businessman and horse racing aficionado Richard Montrose has it all with three successful businesses a car dealership and a small farm in Norfolk England and a development corporation in Barcelona Spain as well as the affectionate devotion of the beautiful Jennifer who loves him unconditionally But he still wants more Ambitious and determined his dream is to have a horse of his own run in the Kentucky Derby and win a dream that gets just a bit closer to becoming a reality when he stumbles across a unique family of thoroughbreds all of which look identical despite their varied ages Recognizing their once in a lifetime potential and with his head filled with revitalized dreams of horse racing glory he purchases them and begins to plan Unfortunately between a dishonest bank manager who carefully pins the blame for his illegal activities on Richard threatening to implicate Jennifer unless he takes the fall and the Spanish mafia who ve taken offense at his doing business in Barcelona without kissing the proverbial ring his luck with horses isn't carrying over to his interactions with animals of the two-legged variety most of whom have schemes and dreams of their own not all of which are legal or even survivable Although fictionalized about 65 percent of American Ringer a story of love deceit danger and determination is based on experiences gained from the author's actual life Of course this begs a very simple and intriguing question Which parts of this story actually did happen Journeys of the Mind-Book 2 Leonard J. Jeffrey, 2012-05-30 Continuing in the same vein as book 1 this book features a collection of short fictional stories dealing with experiences that children and young adults might go through while taking the reader on journeys to imaginary places and times You will find stories that teach life lessons about right and wrong as well as fictional mystery stories that will keep young minds guessing The stories in this book will make you think as well Some are deeply touching and talk about relationships between people between people and animals and even a story or two about relationships between animal and animal There probably has been no other book like this but if there has there should even be more Marty Aardvark Barbara deRubertis, 2021-10-19 Let's Read Together books merge rhyme and vowel sounds in delightfully zany stories kids will want to read again and again Each of the 15 books in this classic series by award-winning author educator Barbara deRubertis will give your child a jumpstart on reading success Story lines are silly and inventive and recall Dr Seuss's Cat in the Hat for the building of rhythm and rhyming words School Library Journal Marty Aardvark sets off to sea and finds more excitement than she expected This easy-to-read story features the ar vowel combination Paradoxes of Time Travel Ryan Wasserman, 2018 Ryan Wasserman explores a range of fascinating puzzles raised by the possibility of time travel with entertaining examples from physics science fiction and popular culture and he draws out their implications for our understanding of time tense freedom fatalism causation counterfactuals laws of nature persistence change and mereology
