Critical Theories of Psychological Development John M.

Broughton,2013-06-29 Something instructive occurred in the process of entitling the present collection Both editor and publisher sought a simple and succinct rubric for the various pieces of work But they rapidly and reluctantly reached the consensus that by either intellectual or marketing criteria the insertion of the adjective psychological to qualify the noun development was a communicative necessity Much to the chagrin of the developmental psychologist the term development still connotes to the world at large as well as the general community of publishers librarians and computer archivists the modernization of nation states Inside and outside the university I find that when asked What are you interested in I am not at liberty to reply The concept of development without being absorbed immediately into a discussion of Third World studies The approach of the present volume should be taken as an exhortation to psychologists to take the genealogy of development seriously The history of the discipline is not so different from the history of the word and as we shall discover the concern with developmental progress cannot easily be separated from the urge for dominion This volume presents a selection from the recent critical scholarship on psychological development The emphasis is on rethinking the field of developmental psychology at the level of theory

Henri Lefebvre: Key Writings Stuart Elden, Eleonore Kofman, Elizabeth Lebas,2006-10-12

Henri Lefebvre is now recognized as one of the most influential social theorists of the Twentieth Century In English his writings on cities everyday life and the production of space have become hugely influential across Cultural Studies Sociology Geography and Architecture Henri Lefebvre Key Writings presents for the first time the full range of Lefebvre's thought The selection reinforces the centrality of Lefebvre to current debates in social and spatial theory but also sets Lefebvre's work in the context of his broader philosophical and political concerns The extracts are divided into sections each separately introduced by the editors Philosophy and Marxism The Critique of Everyday Life The Country and the City History Time and Space Politics Nearly all the extracts presented here are new translations and most have never appeared in English before

Henri Lefebvre 1901 1991 held a range of academic posts both in France and America and wrote over seventy books including The Production of Space and Critique of Everyday Life

Karl Marx David McLellan,1973-12-01

Thinking with Marx Today, Volume 2 Lucien Sève,2025-09-12 Instead of abstract man Marx argued that there is an ensemble of societal relations that underpins social formations of various kinds as well as a variety of forms of individuality In this second volume of Thinking with Marx Today Lucien Sève presents what he calls Marx's revolution in anthropology He deftly analyzes the philosophical preconditions and the fundamental concepts of this anthropology This is followed by critiques of Nietzsche Heidegger and contemporary primatology coupled with borrowings from Freud Politzer Vygotsky and contemporary literature on biography Sève's aim is nothing less than to outline a science of human individuality
