Moving Beyond Sectarianism Religion Conflict And Reconciliation In Northe:

Moving Beyond Sectarianism Joseph Liechty, Cecelia Clegg, 2001 A six year research project of the Irish School of Ecumenics concerned with Christianities and sectarianism in Northern Ireland and offering a detailed analysis of sectarian dynamics

Anti-Sectarianism and Reconciliation in Northern Ireland Cillian McGrattan, 2024-08-12 This book addresses the limitations of dominant ways of thinking about and doing politics in Northern Ireland Arguing for the foregrounding of anti sectarianism as a way of displacing the divisive dynamics of religion and nationalism it provides a new lens for studying Northern Ireland Drawing upon a close reading of the political philosophy of Jacques Rancière the book aligns anti sectarianism to the ways that people refuse affiliation with the traditional ethnic values and practices It describes this refusal as dis identification and reveals how dissensus acts as an alternative to the displacing of equality Returning equality and equality claims making to a clear position of visibility the book provides a radical rethinking of Northern Ireland a quarter century beyond the 1998 peace accord It will appeal to all those interested in politics and peacebuilding studies

Explorations in Reconciliation David Tombs, Joseph Liechty, 2016-04-15 Theologians and scholars of religion draw on rich resources to address the complex issues raised by political reconciliation in the Middle East the former Yugoslavia South Africa Northern Ireland and elsewhere The questions addressed include Can truth set a person or a society free How is political forgiveness possible Are political personal and spiritual reconciliation essentially related Explorations in Reconciliation brings Catholic Protestant Mennonite Jewish and Islamic perspectives together within a single volume to present some of the most relevant theological work today The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/e> ISBN has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license The support of the Irish School of Ecumenics Trust in making this OA version possible is gratefully acknowledged

Assessing the Impact of Transitional Justice Hugo Van der Merwe, Victoria Baxter, Audrey R. Chapman, 2009 In Assessing the Impact of Transitional Justice fourteen leading researchers study seventy countries that have suffered from autocratic rule genocide and protracted internal conflict

Irish Quaker Hybrid Identities Maria Kennedy, 2019-09-02 Dr Kennedy's work is a sociological study of Quakers that investigates the impact that sectarianism has had on identity construction within the Religious Society of Friends in Ireland The research highlights individual Friends complex and hybrid cultural national and theological identities mirrored by the Society's corporate identity This monograph focuses specifically on examples of political and theological hybridity These hybrid identities resulted in tensions which impact on relationships between Friends and the wider organisation How Friends negotiate and accommodate these diverse identities is explored It is argued that Irish Quakers prioritise relational unity and have developed a distinctive approach to complex identity management Kennedy asserts that in the two Irish states Quaker represents a meta identity that is counter cultural in its non sectarianism although this is more problematic within the organisation Furthermore by modelling an alternative non sectarian identity Quakers in Ireland contribute to building capacity for transformation from oppositional binary identities to more fluid and inclusive ones Jihadism, Sectarianism and Politics in a Changing Middle East Adib Abdulmajid, 2021-05-07 Jihadism Sectarianism and Politics in a Changing Middle East tackles questions of core significance for understanding the current religio political scene in the Middle East It addresses the doctrinal tenets associated with the emergence of influential Islamist organizations the rise of sectarian based extremist groups and the challenges encountered by the culturally diverse populations amidst such developments It constitutes an exploration of sectarianism Islamism Salafism and jihadism This book also delves into the historical events that have shaped the Middle East as we know it today It further examines the key factors behind the rise of the most influential sectarian guided jihadi based extremist groups in the recent years The emergence and growth of sectarian Islamist militant organizations whether Sunni or Shia is deemed to be the fruit of the emerging radical interpretations and elucidations of the conception of jihad and the evolution of the movement of Islamism in general The main objective of this book is to help the reader understand the complex religio political scene in today s Middle East and the ideological principles and agendas of key influential movements whose beliefs and actions constitute a serious threat to cultural diversity in the region Politics of Identity in Post-Conflict States Éamonn Ó Ciardha, Gabriela Vojvoda, 2015-12-14 Ireland and the Balkans have come to represent divided and re united communities They both provide effective microcosms of national ethnic political military religious ideological and cultural conflicts in their respective regions and as a result they demonstrate real and imaginary divisions This book will specifically focus on the history politics and literature of Bosnia Herzegovina and Northern Ireland while making comparative reference to some of Europe s other disputed and divided regions Using case studies such as Kosovo and Serbia Lithuania Germany Poland Russia and Belarus Greece and Macedonia it examines space place and border discourse the topography of war and violence post war settlement and reconciliation and the location and negotiation of national ethnic religious political and cultural identities The book will be of particular interest to scholars and students of cultural studies history politics Irish studies Slavonic studies area studies and literary studies The Real Peace Process Siobhan Garrigan, 2016-04-01 The Good Friday Agreement resulted in the cessation of paramilitary violence in Northern Ireland However prejudice and animosity between Protestants and Catholics remains The Real Peace Process draws on extensive fieldwork in Protestant and Catholic churches across Ireland to analyse how Christian worship can become caught up in sectarianism The book examines the need for a peace process that changes hearts and minds and not merely civic structures of their inhabitants Aspects of everyday worship ranging from the spatial and symbolic to the verbal musical and interpersonal are explored as the means by which sectarianism can be challenged and transformed A Theological Odyssey John W. De Gruchy, 2014-09-01 John de Gruchy is one of the greatest and most respected South African theologians of the past five decades His work has left an indelible mark on both the South African and international theological landscapes In this book he describes his theological journey revisiting core themes periods and sources This is an enriching read as De Gruchy engages with some of the greatest theologians in the history of the church notably John Calvin Karl Barth Karl Rahner Dietrich Bonhoeffer and Reinhold Niebuhr as well as with a wide selection of his fellow South African theologians Cas Wepener

The Catholic Church and the Northern Ireland Troubles, 1968-1998 Margaret M. Scull, 2019-09-11 Until surprisingly recently the history of the Irish Catholic Church during the Northern Irish Troubles was written by Irish priests and bishops and was commemorative rather than analytical This study uses the Troubles as a case study to evaluate the role of the Catholic Church in mediating conflict During the Troubles these priests and bishops often worked behind the scenes acting as go betweens for the British government and republican paramilitaries to bring about a peaceful solution However this study also looks more broadly at the actions of the American Irish and English Catholic Churches as well as that of the Vatican to uncover the full impact of the Church on the conflict This critical analysis of previously neglected state Irish and English Catholic Church archival material changes our perspective on the role of a religious institution in a modern conflict
