Risjord, 2004-12-10 Populists and Progressives Norman K Risjord s next book in the Representative Americans series gives readers a fascinating glimpse into the tumultuous turn of the twentieth century Risjord brings together brief biographies to explore the political social and cultural dimensions of the period from 1890 1920 The work begins by personifying the rise of big business and the early struggle between capital and labor with profiles of John D Rockefeller and Mother Jones Next a comparison of William Graham Sumner and Lester Frank Ward illuminates the intellectual debate over social Darwinism The Great Plains form of Populism comes to life through the story of William Peffer while Louis Brandeis represents the Wilsonian variety of Progressivism A portrait of Carrie Chapman Catt provides a window into the women s suffrage movement and sketches of Alfred Thayer Mahan Richard Harding Davis and John Hay explore the shaping of American policies and politics Finally John Muir W E B DuBois and Margaret Sanger represent individuals ahead of their time and mark the transition from Progressivism to the liberal thought of the latter half of the twentieth century Studies in the Medieval Atlantic B. Hudson, 2012-06-04 This collection of essays offers fresh analysis of topics in the exciting area of Atlantic World studies Challenging standard assumptions the essays advance the argument that the Atlantic Ocean was a region that encompassed ethnic and political boundaries in which a sub community shaped by culture and commerce arose Resources in Education,1997 Doing History Linda S. Levstik,Keith C. Barton,2022-09-06 Now in its sixth edition Doing History offers a unique perspective on teaching and learning history in the elementary and middle grades Through case studies of teachers and students in diverse classrooms and from diverse backgrounds it shows children engaging in authentic historical investigations often in the context of an integrated social studies curriculum The book is grounded in the view that children can engage in valid forms of historical inquiry asking questions collecting and analyzing evidence examining the varied perspectives and experiences of people in the past and creating evidence based historical accounts and interpretations Grounded in contemporary sociocultural theory and research the text features vignettes in each chapter showing communities of teachers and students doing history in environments rich in literature art writing and discussion The authors explain how these classrooms reflect contemporary principles of teaching and learning and thus the descriptions not only provide specific examples of successful activities but also place them in a context that allows teachers to adapt and apply them in a wide range of settings Doing History emphasizes diversity in two ways Readers encounter students from a variety of backgrounds and see how their diverse experiences can form the foundation for learning and they also see examples of how teachers can engage students with diverse experiences and perspectives in the past including those that led to conflict and oppression The book also discusses principles for working with English learners and newcomers and it provides guidance in using multiple forms of assessment to evaluate the specifically historical aspects of children s learning Updates to this edition include updated historical and instructional examples to ensure currency new suggestions for children s literature to support good teaching expanded attention to teaching about oppressed groups in history and greater attention to when historical perspective taking is and is not appropriate My Country Brenda Van Dixhorn,2006 SRA Open Court Reading ,2002 Suggested Books for Indian Schools United States. Bureau of Indian Affairs,1959 Exploring Vacation and Etiquette Themes in Social Studies Cynthia Williams Resor,2017-03-08 This book introduces a thematic approach to social history that connects the past to the daily lives of students Historical overviews of vacation and manners spanning from the ancient world to twentieth century United States provide detailed context for the teacher emphasize issues related to social class sex and gender and popular culture and examine the methods of social historians Four unique primary source sets reading guides and essential compelling questions for students are provided that encourage inquiry learning and the development of critical literacy skills aligned with the Common Core Standards for Literacy and the College Career and Civic Life C3 Framework for Social Studies State Standards Each themed chapter includes suggestions for extending each theme to current events the local community through placed based education and across content areas for interdisciplinary instruction The final chapter provides guidance on how to research additional historical themes locate relevant primary sources and prepare themed lessons and units Walking the Rails Ethel Erickson Radmer,2012-04-11 For Ethel Erickson

Radmer a child of the 1930s life in Wisconsin was an adventure filled with imagination fun and curiosity Hers was a simple life without computers and cell phones It was a time when people in a small town dropped in on each other to visit and paid their bills in person It was a time when folks honored courtesy and neighborly affection If you knew someone was in the hospital you brought them flowers from your own garden Ethel grew up in a railroad town that bustled with supplies and troops for World War II To a small girl from a small town a Green Bay Western Railroad passenger car represented nothing short of freedom But Ethel found joy in the simple things a playground for roller skating a golf course made just for picnics and sled ding and swinging clubs nearby farmland and barns to explore and a meandering river to quiet her heart It was a simpler time but Ethel Erickson Radmer was no simple girl Walking the Rails is everything a good memoir should be generously detailed disarmingly frank and emotionally moving With wit irony and generosity of spirit Ethel Radmer has woven a heartwarming and lush tapestry of growing up in a loving American family during the difficult days of the Great Depression World War II and its aftermath Dave Wood past vice president of the National Book Critics Circle former book review editor of the Minneapolis Star Tribune and memoirist Roads to Health G. Geltner, 2019-08-02 In Roads to Health G. Geltner demonstrates that urban dwellers in medieval Italy had a keen sense of the dangers to their health posed by conditions of overcrowding shortages of food and clean water air pollution and the improper disposal of human and animal waste He consults scientific narrative and normative sources that detailed and consistently denounced the physical and environmental hazards urban communities faced latrines improperly installed and sewers blocked animals left to roam free and carcasses left rotting on public byways and thoroughfares congested by artisanal and commercial activities that impeded circulation polluted waterways and raised miasmas However as Geltner shows numerous administrative records also offer ample evidence of the concrete measures cities took to ameliorate unhealthy conditions Toiling on the frontlines were public functionaries generally known as viarii or road masters appointed to maintain their community's infrastructures and police pertinent human and animal behavior Operating on a parallel track were the camparii or field masters charged with protecting the city's hinterlands and thereby the quality of what would reach urban markets taverns ovens and mills Roads to Health provides a critical overview of the mandates and activities of the viarii and camparii as enforcers of preventive health and safety policies between roughly 1250 and 1500 and offers three extended case studies for Lucca Bologna and the smaller Piedmont town of Pinerolo In telling their stories Geltner contends that preventive health practices while scientifically informed emerged neither solely from a centralized regime nor as a reaction to the onset of the Black Death Instead they were typically negotiated by diverse stakeholders including neighborhood residents officials artisans and clergymen and fostered throughout the centuries by a steady concern for people's greater health
