Literacy and Reading Programmes for Children and Young People: Case Studies from Around the Globe Patrick Lo, Stephanie H. S. Wu, Andrew J. Stark, Bradley Allard, 2022-01-26 Literacy and Reading Programmes for Children and Young People Case Studies from Around the Globe presents interviews with over 40 librarians from around the world who tell of their library programs The volumes are arranged geographically with Volume 1 offering interviews from library professionals from the USA and Europe and with Volume 2 sharing programs from Asia Africa Australia and the Middle East The volumes highlight the diversity of the types of programs catering to the varying needs of children and young adults throughout the world Case studies featured in this book outline the details of programs events and activities provided by over 40 organizations in the context of social capital and social inclusion Each interview chapter discusses the contributions made to literacy development and community building of children and teens With the many variations and examples of best practice librarians and educators can glean new ideas for their own programs The interviews reveal the challenges and issues faced and the work being achieved in vastly different environments in many geographic areas and in diverse economic social and cultural contexts The programs include those of national and state libraries public libraries and mobile libraries carried out by public libraries NGOs and commercial organizations in both developed and developing countries They also feature programs of multicultural libraries libraries for indigenous people and libraries for refugees This publication complements the range of initiatives and activities carried out by IFLA's Libraries for Children and Young Adults Section that supports library services and reading promotion initiatives catering to children and young adults around the world. These volumes are rich in variety and will provide much food for thought for creating unique and successful library programs. Evaluating and Promoting Nonfiction for Children and Young Adults Don Latham, 2025-01-07. Evaluating and Promoting Nonfiction for Children and Young Adults isn't another bibliography that will quickly become outdated. Instead, it situates nonfiction resources within the recent emphasis on reading nonfiction as a way of enhancing critical thinking and combating susceptibility to fake news. Donald Latham offers strategies for evaluating nonfiction for the purposes of collection development, providing readers advisory and developing programs using nonfiction for children and young adults. The book includes lists of professional resources as well as recommended nonfiction titles. Catalogue of the University of Michigan University of Michigan, 1967. Announcements for the following year included in some vols. Library Books, Supplementary Reading, Reference Books, Maps, Globes, Charts, Projection Apparatus, and Illustrative Materials Indiana. Department of Public Instruction, 1924. Reference and Information Services Melissa A. Wong, Laura Saunders, 2020-05-04. This revised and updated sixth edition of Reference and Information Services continues the book's rich tradition covering all phases of reference and information services with less emphasis on print and more emphasis on strategies and scenarios. Reference and Information Services is the go-to textbook for MSLIS and iSchool courses on reference services and related topics. It is also a helpful handbook for practitioners. Authors include LIS faculty and professionals who have relevant degrees in their areas and who have published extensively on their topics. The first half of the book provides an overview of reference services and techniques for service provision, including the reference interview, ethics instruction, reader's advisory, and services to diverse populations, including children. This part of the book establishes a foundation of knowledge on reference service and frames each topic with ethical and social justice perspectives. The second part of the book offers an overview of the information life cycle and dissemination of information, followed by an in-depth examination of information sources by type, including dictionaries, encyclopedias, indexes, and abstracts, as well as by broad subject areas, including government statistics and data, health, and legal information. This second section introduces the tools and resources that reference professionals use to provide the services described in the first half of the text. Empowering the Children's and Young People's Workforce Simon Brownhill, 2014-02-03. While the provision in Children's and Young People's Services endures much change and turbulence, the calling for well-qualified and critically reflective practitioners remains ever present. This innovative and accessible core textbook explores the key themes, ideas, concepts, and topics that are central to practitioners working across the 0-19 sector. It aims to help students develop the professional knowledge, practical skills, and core values they need to work effectively with children and young people. Clearly divided into four sections: the practitioner, the learner, the workplace and the community the book covers a broad range of issues including The different roles and responsibilities of the workforce Multi agency working and its challenges Working with parents carers and the community Supporting children with additional needs and meeting the needs of gifted learners Work based reflective practice Language learning and communication At each stage the book facilitates opportunities for personal and professional reflection discussion debate and action through case studies activities reflective tasks areas for further consideration and annotated further readings The text also features a glossary of terms and links to practice standards The book is supported by a free companion website featuring instructor resources such as assignable case studies reflective tasks and activities tables and figures from the book available to download and sample chapters from the book and student resources including helpful links to further information links to relevant video material and an interactive flashcard glossary Empowering the Children s and Young People s Workforce seeks to empower the reader by supporting their initial and continuing professional development enabling them to positively influence provision for children and young people It is essential reading for anyone studying or working in this sector
