

Political Identity?

Three levels

Passive identities in the form of lived relationships (class, gender, ethnicity), but not acted on

Active – conscious identities that come to the fore when threatened eg racism

Politicized – a more constant base for actions and how individuals identify themselves

Reflections On Political Identity:

Reflections on Political Identity Anne Norton, 1988 Norton powerfully defends the inevitability and value of those particular concrete traits and actions whereby men differentiate themselves from one another Ethics Identity, Difference William E. Connolly, 2002 Liberalism, Nationalism, Citizenship Ronald Beiner, 2003 Liberals believe that the purpose of politics is to guarantee that individuals do not face unfair impediments in pursuing the lives they choose for themselves Nationalists believe that the purpose of politics is to ensure that a people's sense of authentic nationhood wins full expression in powers of collective sovereignty or self rule Both of these forms of political commitment yield world transforming political philosophies but do either of these visions do adequate justice to a philosophically robust ideal of shared citizenship and civic membership In Liberalism Nationalism Citizenship Ronald Beiner engages critically with a wide range of important political thinkers and current debates in light of the Aristotelean idea that shared citizenship is an essential human calling Virtually every aspect of contemporary political experience globalization international migration secessionist movements the politics of multiculturalism pose urgent challenges to modern citizenship Beiner's work on the philosophy of citizenship is essential reading not just for students of politics and political philosophy but for all those who rightly sense that these kinds of recent challenges Political Identity and the Metaphysics of Politics Gabriele De Anna, Manuele Dozzi, 2023-05-05 The chapters in this volume clarify the notion of political identity by focusing on the metaphysics of politics By analysing the notion of political identity they provide the conceptual resources for a deeper understanding of the theoretical and practical debates on populism the crisis of sovereignty the feasibility of a world government and ethical religious and cultural pluralism What is a political community Any answer to this question lies at the intersection between three fields metaphysics philosophy of action and political philosophy The question concerns how and why a plurality of individuals becomes a political unity what principles or forces keep that unity together and what threats that unity can encounter In this volume the contributors investigate how different metanormative views affect the possible answers to this metaphysical question They explore the role that the individual identities of agents play in grounding common practices that underpin political life They investigate the individual identities of agents as the result of the interplay between natural and cultural factors Finally they observe the ways in which a political community as a collection of individuals who hang together in an attempt to reach common purposes demonstrate a certain metaphysical solidity Political Identity and the Metaphysics of Politics will appeal to researchers and advanced students working in metaphysics political philosophy political theory and philosophy of action Political Mourning Heather Pool, 2021-05-21 Political Mourning examines four case studies the Triangle Fire Emmett Till's murder the attacks of September 11th and the Black Lives Matter movement to shed light on moments when everyday people died when their deaths were the basis of calls for political change and when such a change actually occurred Debating Political Identity and Legitimacy in the European Union Sonia

Lucarelli, Furio Cerutti, Vivien Schmidt, 2012-08-06 How can we conceptualize identity and legitimacy in the context of the European union What is the role of narratives political symbols public debate and institutional practices in the process of identity formation and legitimacy consolidation Debating Political Identity and Legitimacy in the European Union addresses these questions and brings together high profile scholars from various disciplinary backgrounds to debate the ontological and epistemological aspects of research on identity and legitimacy formation in the EU Part I investigates key elements such as the relationship between Europeanization of the EU member states and its effect on the political identity of their citizens the relationship between the politicization of the EU and processes of identity and legitimacy formation and the indispensability of European identity for legitimizing the EU Part II looks at pathways to identity formation and legitimacy construction in the EU by considering alternative types of constitutional legitimacy political symbolism Europeanization and politicization of the debate on EU focusing on the foreign policy domain Bringing together a wide but coherent range of high profile perspectives this book will of interest to students and scholars of European studies Political Science Philosophy Sociology and Law

Identity, Narrative and Politics Maureen Whitebrook, 2014-04-04 Identity Narrative and Politics argues that political theory has barely begun to develop a notion of narrative identity instead the book explores the sophisticated ideas which emerge from novels as alternative expressions of political understanding This title uses a broad international selection of Twentieth Century English language works by writers such as Nadine Gordimer and Thomas Pynchon The book considers each novel as a source of political ideas in terms of content structure form and technique The book assumes no prior knowledge of the literature discussed and will be fascinating reading for students of literature politics and cultural studies

Reflections on Identity in Four African Cities S. B. Bekker, Anne Leildé, 2006 Identity has become the watchword of our times In sub Saharan Africa this certainly appears to be true and for particular reasons Africa is urbanising rapidly cross border migration streams are swelling and globalising influences sweep across the continent Africa is also facing up to the challenge of nurturing emergent democracies in which citizens often feel torn between older traditional and newer national loyalties Accordingly collective identities are deeply coloured by recent urban as well as international experience and are squarely located within identity politics where reconciliation is required between state nation building strategies and sub national affiliations They are also fundamentally shaped by the growing inequality and the poverty found on this continent These themes are explored by an international set of scholars in two South African and two Francophone cities The relative importance to urban residents of race class and ethnicity but also of work space and language are compared in these cities This volume also includes a chapter investigating the emergence of a continental African identity A recent report of the Office of the South African President claims that a strong national identity is emerging among its citizens and that race and ethnicity are waning whilst a class identity is in the ascendance The evidence and analyses within this volume serve to gauge the extent to which such claims ring true in what everyone knows is a much more complex and shifting terrain of shared meanings than can ever be captured by such generalisations

Identity, Rights and Constitutional Transformation Patrick J. Hanafin, Melissa S Williams, 2018-12-21 First published in 1999 this book provides an analysis of the role of constitutional governance from an international and interdisciplinary perspective The range of disciplines represented in the collection of papers aims to open new perspectives on topics that are frequently left to the expert hands of political scientists and lawyers alone It reveals scope for the further study of historical cultural and rhetorical approaches in tandem with traditional approaches The blend of cross national experience and comparisons and the fertilisation of one discipline by another should appeal to a wide interdisciplinary audience

Critical Reflections on Interactive Governance Jurian Edelenbos, Ingmar van Meerkerk, 2016-08-26 In many countries government and society have undergone a major shift in recent years now tending toward smaller government and bigger society This development has lent increased meaning to the notion of interactive governance a concept that this book takes not as a normative ideal but as an empirical phenomenon that needs constant critical scrutiny reflection and embedding in modern societies

Hegel on Political Identity Lydia L. Moland, 2011-04-30 In Hegel on Political Identity Lydia Moland provocatively draws on Hegel's political philosophy to engage sometimes contentious contemporary issues such as patriotism national identity and cosmopolitanism Moland argues that patriotism for Hegel indicates an attitude toward the state whereas national identity is a response to culture The two combine Hegel claims to enable citizens to develop concrete freedom Moland argues that Hegel's account of political identity extends to his notorious theory of world history she also proposes that his resistance to cosmopolitanism be reassessed in response to our globalized world By focusing on Hegel's depiction of political identity as a central part of modern life Moland shows the potential of Hegel's philosophy to address issues that lie at the heart of ethical and political philosophy

Political Identity and Social Change Jamie Frueh, 2012-02-01 Political Identity and Social Change builds upon the constructivist theory of political identity to explore the social changes that accompanied the end of apartheid in South Africa To gain a better understanding of how structures of identity changed along with the rest of South Africa's institutions Frueh analyzes three social and political conflicts the Soweto uprisings of 1976 the reformist constitutional debates of 1983 1984 and post apartheid crime Analyzing these conflicts demonstrates how identity labels function as structures of social discourse how social activity is organized through these structures and how both the labels and their power have changed during the course of South Africa's transition. In this way the book contributes not only to the study of South African society but also provides lessons about the relationship between identity and social change.

Political Identity and Democratic Citizenship in Turbulent Times Kristensen, Niels Noergaard, 2020-06-19. Turbulent times challenge democratic politics and governance in Western countries. Party systems in many instances have failed to produce solutions to vital policy problems like immigration, state borders, welfare or environmental issues. While subjective perceptions of macroeconomic outcomes are consistently related to political trust at the micro level, few studies have explored how individuals develop political engagement and identity. New insights are needed from studies focusing on how people become politically active and how political identities develop. Political Identity and Democratic Citizenship in Turbulent Times is a critical scholarly research publication that investigates, discusses, deconstructs, analyzes and tests the concept of political identity and its evolving role in modern democracy. Moreover, it explores the contours of politics and brings together studies that examine the democratic potential of a diversity of participatory spheres, institutions and arenas. Highlighting topics such as political culture, consumerism and welfare states, this book is ideal for politicians, policymakers, government officials, sociologists, historians, academicians, professionals, researchers and students.

Reflections on Polarisation and Inequalities in Brexit Pandemic Times Katharine Tyler, Susan Banducci, Cathrine Degnen, 2025-03-05. This is the first interdisciplinary edited collection that examines the manifestation of social inequalities and polarisations in Britain throughout the dual crises of the Brexit vote and the Covid 19 pandemic. The volume demonstrates that Brexit and the pandemic are not self-contained events but rather are major ongoing processes that have impacted all aspects of British social and political life. Drawing on an array of empirical case studies conducted in the wake of the Brexit vote and during pandemic lockdowns, chapters trace how these processes illuminate, consolidate and amplify existing and entrenched social inequalities and polarisations that shape the fabric of British society, including racial, ethnic, class, migrant, national and gendered inequalities. The volume is divided into three parts: centred on a) the nation, b) the community and c) the media. Each section draws on diverse analytical frameworks and methodological approaches from across the social sciences, arts and humanities to provide empirically grounded critiques of reductive media-led narratives, with the goal of accounting for and explaining the reproduction of social inequalities and emergence of polarisations in these Brexit pandemic times. In so doing, the case studies include critical analysis of lockdown novels, the speeches of political elites from across the political spectrum.

ordinary people's everyday traditional and social media practices as well as their opinions based on the findings of large scale surveys and in depth place based ethnographic fieldwork conducted across rural urban and suburban areas of England Each chapter also includes artwork by contemporary artist Helen Snell that complements develops and extends the book's core themes and arguments This collection will be insightful reading for students and academics across the social sciences arts and humanities especially from the disciplines of sociology politics social anthropology human geography sociolinguistics contemporary art and literature concerned with questions of social inequality and polarisation Chapters 1 2 7 and 11 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license
