Regarde Regarde Les Lions:

Comparative Literature in Canada Susan Ingram, Irene Sywenky, 2019-11-05 This timely volume takes stock of the discipline of comparative literature and its theory and practice from a Canadian perspective. It engages with the most pressing critical issues at the intersection of comparative literature and other areas of inquiry in the context of scholarship, pedagogy and academic publishing: bilingualism and multilingualism, Indigeneity, multiple canons, literary and other the relationship between print culture and other media, the development of information studies, concerted efforts in digitization and the future of the production and dissemination of knowledge. The authors offer an analysis of the current state of Canadian comparative literature with a dual focus on the issues of multilingualism in Canada's sociopolitical and cultural context and Canada's geographical location within the Americas. It also discusses ways in which contemporary technology is influencing the way that Canadian literature is taught, produced and disseminated and how this affects its readings. The Black Atlantic Reconsidered Winfried Siemerling, 2015-05-01 Readers are often surprised to learn that black writing in Canada is over two centuries old. Ranging from letters, editorials, sermons and slave narratives to contemporary novels, plays, poetry and non-fiction, black Canadian writing represents a rich body of literary and cultural achievement. The Black Atlantic Reconsidered is the first comprehensive work to explore black Canadian literature from its beginnings to the present in the broader context of the black Atlantic world. Winfried Siemerling traces the evolution of black Canadian witnessing and writing from slave testimony in New France and the 1783 Book of Negroes through the work of contemporary black Canadian writers including George Elliott Clarke, Austin Clarke, Dionne Brand, David Chariandy, Wayde Compton, Esi Edugyan, Marlene Nourbae, Philip and Lawrence Hill. Arguing that black writing in Canada is deeply imbricated in a historic transnational network, Siemerling explores the powerful presence of black Canadian history, slavery and the Underground Railroad and the black diaspora in the work of these authors. Individual chapters examine the literature that has emerged from Quebec, Nova Scotia, the Prairies and British Columbia with attention to writing in both English and French. A major survey of black writing and cultural production, The Black Atlantic Reconsidered brings into focus important works that shed light not only on Canada's literature and history but on the transatlantic black diaspora and modernity. How Far is

America from Here? International American Studies Association. World Congress, 2005. Main headings: American studies from an international American studies perspective; International transnational hemispheric America; American social, ethical and religious mentalities; Comparative perspectives; literary counterpoints; American identities; Space and place in American studies. Translating Pain Madelaine Hron, 2010-10-23 In the post-Cold War, post-9/11 era, the immigrant experience has changed dramatically. Despite the recent successes of immigrant and world literatures, there has been little scholarship on how the hardships of immigration are conveyed in immigrant narratives. Translating Pain fills this gap by examining literature from Muslim North Africa, the Caribbean and Eastern Europe to reveal the representation of immigrant suffering in fiction.

Applying immigrant psychology to literary analysis Madelaine Hron examines the ways in which different forms of physical and psychological pain are expressed in a wide variety of texts She juxtaposes post colonial and post communist concerns about immigration and contrasts Muslim world views with those of Caribbean creolite and post Cold War ethics Demonstrating how pain is translated into literature she explores the ways in which it also shapes narrative culture history and politics A compelling and accessible study Translating Pain is a groundbreaking work of literary and postcolonial studies

OK! Megamag Sue Finnie, Danièle Bourdais, 2002-05-15 OK Megamag is a series of ten cross curricular magazine style workbooks aimed at less able pupils at secondary school level including those with a statement of special educational needs Because of its flexibility it can also be used with younger learners It is suitable for pupils who are beginning to study French or who may have some previous experience but would benefit from a fresh start in order to build confidence There are opportunities for listening speaking reading and writing with plenty of activities suitable for pupils who are not good readers writers It can be used to supplement any main course or as a framework for a programme of study Contested Spaces, Counter-Narratives, and Culture from Below in Canada Roxanne Rimstead, Domenico A. Beneventi, 2019-02-28 Contested Spaces Counter narratives and Culture from Below in Canada and Quebec explores strategies for reading space and conflict in Canadian and Quebecois literature and cultural performances posing questions such as how do these texts and performances produce and contest spatial practices What are the roles of the nation city community and individual subject in reproducing space particularly in times of global hegemony and neocolonialism And in what ways do marginalized individuals and communities represent contest or appropriate spaces through counter narratives and expressions of culture from below Focusing on discord rather than harmony and consensus this collection disturbs the idealized space of Canadian multicultural pluralism to carry literary analysis and cultural studies into spaces often undetected and unforeseen including flophouses and slums shantytowns and urban alleyways underground spaces and peep shows and inner city urban parks as they are experienced by minorities and other marginalized groups These essays are the products of sustained high level collaboration across French and English academic communities in Canada to facilitate theoretical exchange on the topic of space and contestation uncover geographies of exclusion and generate new spaces of hope in the spirit of pioneering works by Henri Lefebvre Michel Foucault Michel de Certeau Doreen Massey David Harvey and other prominent theorists of space

Écrits d'Haïti, 2011 La littérature haïtienne occupe une grande place sur la scène internationale Les auteurs haïtiens sont lus sur tous les continents Ils participent des rencontres en Martinique Paris et New York En même temps Haïti accueille de plus en plus d'écrivains étrangers ainsi que des manifestations littéraires Mais en règle générale ces activités littéraires impliquent toujours la même poignée d'auteurs publiant principalement l'étranger. De retour en Haïti après ses études aux États-Unis, Nadève M. Nard se rend compte que ses étudiants lisent surtout les écrivains vivants et publiant principalement en Haïti. Entre les deux littératures, la différence n'est pas seulement au niveau des auteurs et des livres considérés mais aussi des thèmes. La critique étrangère considère l'exil comme le thème dominant, la littérature haïtienne alors qu'en Haïti même ce sont des thèmes universels qui sont voqués et discutés comme la violence, l'amour, la sexualité, la ville. C'est cette littérature que le présent ouvrage expose dans sa diversité en s'arrêtant sur les années 1986-2006, la première date ayant représenté un tournant majeur dans la société haïtienne. L'objectif de ce livre est ainsi de donner une large perspective de la littérature haïtienne contemporaine et d'y inclure autant d'écrivains que possible. Malgré le séisme du 12 janvier 2010, la littérature haïtienne comme le pays continue de vivre.

Conflits de mémoire Véronique Bonnet, 2004. Conflits de mémoire. En quoi la mémoire se prête-t-elle aux conflits ? Comment ces conflits interfèrent-ils dans le mode de restitution de mémoires tragiques en jeu contemporain des sciences humaines et sociales ? Voici quelques-unes des questions auxquelles se consacre ce livre qui poursuit cette question mémorielle pour la période de la Seconde Guerre mondiale et dans les espaces temporels du réel colonial et postcolonial. Figures emblématiques de cette question, les très minoritaires qui accèdent à la parole bouleversent de ce fait le discours académique. Ainsi, la littérature prise dans une spirale de violence perd son caractère banalement illustratif au cœur de cette critique de la guerre et de l'extermination des sujets longtemps situés à la marge des représentations institutionnelles deviennent eux-mêmes sujets de l'histoire. L'irruption du dire minoritaire permet d'envisager la critique comme l'une des possibles configurations de la reconstruction mémorielle. Néanmoins, le présent ouvrage n'lude pas la délicate question du mode de transmission de cette mémoire : comment le travail de mémoire et la nécessité de savoir demeurent le point nodal de la réflexion qui unit les présentes contributions.
