See The Child A Novel:

The Child, the State and the Victorian Novel Laura C. Berry, The Child the State and the Victorian Novel traces the the story of victimized childhood to its origins in nineteenth century Britain Almost as soon as childhood became a distinct category Laura C Berry contends stories of children in danger were circulated as part of larger debates about child welfare and the role of the family in society Berry examines the nineteenth century fascination with victimized children to show how novels and reform writings reorganize ideas of self and society as narratives of childhood distress Focusing on classic childhood stories such as Oliver Twist and novels that are not conventionally associated with particular social problems such as Dickens's Dombey and Son the Brontë sisters Wuthering Heights and The Tenant of Wildfell Hall and George Eliot's Adam Bede Berry shows the ways in which fiction that purports to deal with private life particularly the domain of the family nevertheless intervenes in public and social debates At the same time she examines medical legal charitable and social relief writings to show how these documents provide crucial sources in the development of social welfare and modern representations of the family

The Child's Own Story Terry Philpot, Richard Rose, 2004-10-15 The authors explain the concepts of attachment separation loss and identity using these contexts to describe how to use techniques such as family trees wallpaper work and eco and geno scaling They offer guidance on interviewing relatives and carers and how to gain access to key documentation including social workers case files

Greenwell, 2024-11-20 The Child Gaze Narrating Resistance in American Literature theorizes the child gaze as a narrative strategy for social critique in twentieth and twenty first century US literature for children and adults Through a range of texts including James Baldwin's Little Man Little Man Mildred D Taylor's Roll of Thunder Hear My Cry Toni Morrison's The Bluest Eye Gene Luen Yang's American Born Chinese and more Amanda M Greenwell focuses on children and their literal acts of looking Detailing how these acts of looking direct the reader she posits that the sightlines of children serve as signals to renegotiate hegemonic ideologies of race ethnicity creed class and gender In her analysis Greenwell shows how acts of looking constitute a flexible and effective narrative strategy capable of operating across multiple points of view focalizations audiences and forms Weaving together scholarship on the US child visual culture studies narrative theory and other critical traditions The Child Gaze explores the ways in which child acts of looking compel readers to look at and with a child character whose gaze encourages critiques of privileged visions of national identity Chapters investigate how child acts of looking allow texts to redraw circles of inclusion around the locus of the child gaze and mobilize childhood as a site of resistance The powerful child gaze can thus disrupt dominant scripts of power widening the lens through which belonging in the US can be understood The Child's Story Bible
