Why Does Literature Matter? Frank B. Farrell,2018-07-05 Literature matters because it allows for experiences important to the living out of a sophisticated and satisfying human life because other arenas of culture cannot provide them to the same degree and because a relatively small number of texts carry out these functions in so exceptional a manner that we owe it to past and future members of the species to keep such texts alive in our cultural traditions from Chapter One Frank B Farrell defends a rich conception of the space of literature that retains its links to issues of self formation and metaphysics and does not let that space collapse into just another reflection of social space He maintains that recent literary theory has badly misread findings in the philosophy of language and the theory of subjectivity That misreading Farrell says has tended to endorse ways of understanding literature that make one question why it matters at all Farrell here opposes some recent theoretical trends and through a mix of philosophical and literary studies tells us why in his view literature does truly matter Among the writers Farrell discusses are John Ashbery Samuel Beckett Amit Chaudhuri Cormac McCarthy James Merrill Marcel Proust Thomas Pynchon Salman Rushdie W G Sebald and John Updike The philosophers important to his arguments include Donald Davidson Daniel Dennett and Bernard Williams G W F Hegel Martin Heidegger Friedrich Nietzsche and Ludwig Wittgenstein play roles as well Among the literary theorists addressed are Stephen Greenblatt Paul de Man and Marjorie Perloff In addition to his close readings of literary philosophical and critical texts Farrell considers cultural studies and postcolonial studies more generally and speculates on the possible contributions of object relations theory in psychology to the study of literature

Politics, Desire, and the Hollywood Novel Chip Rhodes,2008-09 The story of what happens when a serious writer goes to Hollywood has become a cliché the writer is paid well but underappreciated treated like a factory worker and forced to write bad formulaic movies Most fail become cynical drink to excess and at some point write a bitter novel that attacks the film industry in the name of high art Like many too familiar stories this one neither holds up to the facts nor helps us understand Hollywood novels Instead Chip Rhodes argues these novels tell us a great deal about the ways that Hollywood has shaped both the American political landscape and American definitions of romance and desire Rhodes considers how novels about the film industry changed between the studio era of the 1930s and 1940s and the era of deregulated film making that has existed since the 1960s He asserts that Americans are now driven by cultural rather than class differences and that our mainstream notion of love has gone from repressed desire to abnormal desire to finally strictly business Politics Desire and the Hollywood Novel pays close attention to six authors Nathanael West Raymond Chandler Budd Schulberg Joan Didion Bruce Wagner and Elmore Leonard who have toiled in the film industry and written to tell about it More specifically Rhodes considers both screenplays and novels with an eye toward the different formulations of sexuality art and ultimately political action that exist in these two kinds of storytelling
