Unruly Visions Gayatri Gopinath, 2018-10-25 In Unruly Visions Gayatri Gopinath brings queer studies to bear on investigations of diaspora and visuality tracing the interrelation of affect archive region and aesthetics through an examination of a wide range of contemporary queer visual culture Spanning film fine art poetry and photography these cultural forms which Gopinath conceptualizes as aesthetic practices of queer diaspora reveal the intimacies of seemingly disparate histories of post colonial dwelling and displacement and are a product of diasporic trajectories Countering standard formulations of diaspora that inevitably foreground the nation state as well as familiar formulations of queerness that ignore regional gender and sexual formations she stages unexpected encounters between works by South Asian Middle Eastern African Australian and Latinx artists such as Tracey Moffatt Akram Zaatari and Allan deSouza Gopinath shows how their art functions as regional queer archives that express alternative understandings of time space and relationality The queer optics produced by these visual practices creates South to South region to region and diaspora to region cartographies that profoundly challenge disciplinary and area studies rubrics Gopinath thereby provides new critical perspectives on settler colonialism empire military occupation racialization and diasporic dislocation as they indelibly mark both bodies and landscapes

Strike the Fire Lacey Dancer, 2018-10-10 Lydia North turned visions into homes and businesses Her company North Enterprises built to last to be kind to the environment and to lift an area into the future while still paying homage to the past Archer Channing and Alex Weston had a vision for the agricultural community of Live Oak Now it was her vision too This time she wasn't just building but investing financially in the future Along comes Max Greene ready and willing to buy into the concept that Archer and Alex have for Live Oak's step into the twenty first century He's in the mood for a change and decides he wants to be more than a behind the scenes money man He wants to get his hands dirty It has been years since he had done manual labor but a man doesn't forget his roots But first he has to convince a tiny female dynamo with inky black hair and a body to send even a dead man's blood pressure skyrocketing that he could get the job done He solves the first problem but the second is a bit more difficult How did he convince a woman who needed no man to protect and support her that he wanted to walk beside her not have her walk behind him Lydia recognized a challenge when Max stared her in the face She had cut her teeth on the males of the species and thought she knew all the moves Max showed her more about herself than she thought existed From the first he accepted the woman she was the woman who rode a motorcycle to unwind who lived in a motorhome instead of a house and climbed onto heavy construction equipment as though she had been born an excavator When Lydia set a goal a hurricane couldn't stop her When Max built his success a bomb didn't destroy him Are their differences greater than their strengths

Gillis,1997 Discusses ritual events we regard as family traditions and how they must be open to perpetual revision so we can satisfy our human needs and changing circumstances Eugenics ,1928 Englishwoman's Domestic Magazine ,1862 A Midsummer Night's Dream William Shakespeare,1898 Para-Narratives in the Odyssey Maureen Alden,2017-09-15 Readers coming to the Odyssey for the first time are often dazzled and bewildered by the wealth of material it contains which is seemingly unrelated to the central story the main plot of Odysseus return to Ithaca is complicated by myriad secondary narratives related by the poet and his characters including Odysseus own fantastic tales of Lotus Eaters Sirens and cannibal giants Although these para narratives are a source of pleasure and entertainment in their own right each also has a special relevance to its immediate context elucidating Odysseus predicament and also subtly influencing and guiding the audience s reception of the main story By exploring variations on the basic story shape drawing on familiar tales anecdotes and mythology or inserting analogous situations they create illuminating parallels to the main narrative and prompt specific responses in readers or listeners This is the case even when details are suppressed or altered as the audience may still experience the reverberations of the better known version of the tradition and it also applies to the characters themselves who are often provided with a model of action for imitation or avoidance in their immediate contexts The Neurocognitive Theory of Dreaming G. William Domhoff,2022-10-04 A comprehensive neurocognitive theory of dreaming based on the theories methodologies and findings of cognitive neuroscience and the psychological sciences G William Domhoff s neurocognitive theory of dreaming is the only theory of dreaming that makes full use of the new neuroimaging findings on all forms of spontaneous thought and shows how well they explain the results of rigorous quantitative studies of dream content Domhoff identifies five separate issues neural substrates cognitive processes the psychological meaning of dream content evolutionarily adaptive functions and historically invented cultural uses and then explores how they are intertwined He also discusses the degree to which there is symbolism in dreams the development of dreaming in children and the relative frequency of emotions in the dreams of children and adults During dreaming the neural substrates that support waking sensory input task oriented thinking and movement are relatively deactivated Domhoff presents the conditions that have to be fulfilled before dreaming can occur spontaneously He describes the specific cognitive processes supported by the neural substrate of dreaming and then looks at dream reports of research participants The why of dreaming he says may be the most counterintuitive outcome of empirical dream research Though the question is usually framed in terms of adaptation there is no positive evidence for an adaptive theory of dreaming Research by anthropologists historians and comparative religion scholars however suggests that dreaming has psychological and cultural uses with the most important of these found in religious ceremonies and healing practices Finally he offers suggestions for how future dream studies might take advantage of new technologies including smart phones     The Nation ,1913
