Marriages Of Jacob A Poem Novella:

The Marriages of Jacob Charlotte Mandel, 1991 Dwelling in Possibility Yopie Prins, Maeera Shreiber, 2018-10-18

Dwelling in Possibility cuts across conventional boundaries between critical and creative writing by featuring the work of both women poets and feminist critics as they explore and exemplify the relationship between gender and poetic genres. The contributors suggest new ways of thinking and writing about poetry in light of contemporary questions about history and identity. Most of the contributions are published here for the first time. The Victorian Verse-novel Stefanie Markovits, 2017

The Victorian Verse Novel Aspiring to Life considers the rise of a hybrid generic form, the verse novel, in the second half of the nineteenth century. Such poems combined epic length with novelistic plots in the attempt to capture not a heroic past but the quotidian present. Victorian verse novels also tended to be rough, mixed their narrative sections interspersed with shorter lyrical verses in varied measures. In flouting the rules of contemporary genre theory, which saw poetry as the purview of the eternal and ideal and relegated the everyday to the domain of novelistic prose, verse novels proved well suited to upsetting other hierarchies as well, including those of gender and class. The genre's radical energies often emerge from the competition between lyric and narrative drives, between the desire for transcendence and the quest to find meaning in what happens next. The unusual marriage plots that structure such poems prove crucibles of these rival forces. Generic tensions also yield complex attitudes towards time and space: the book's first half considers the temporality of love, while its second looks at generic geography through the engagement of novels in verse with Europe and the form's transatlantic travels. Both well-known verse novels, Elizabeth Barrett Browning's Aurora Leigh and Arthur Hugh Clough's Amours de Voyage, Coventry Patmore's The Angel in the House, and lesser-known examples are read closely alongside a few nearly related works: Tennyson's Idylls of the King, Robert Browning's The Ring and the Book. An Afterword traces the verse novel's substantial influence on the modernist novel. Feminist Measures Lynn Keller, 1994

Explores the role of gender in poetic production, the tensions between poetry and contemporary literary theory, and the fluid boundaries between theoretical and literary writing.

Obsession Carolyn Beard Whitlow, Marilyn Krysl, 2014-03-04

The sestina, of medieval French origin, is a complex poetic form of 39 lines: six sestets and a three-line envoy in which the six end words (teleutons) of the lines of the first sestet stanza are repeated in a specific order as teleutons in the five succeeding sestets. In the envoy, the six teleutons are again picked up, one of them being buried in and one finishing each line. Because of the complexity of the form, the sestina fell out of favor with poets for several decades. However, a twenty-first-century revival of the form is underway. This is the first anthology of sestinas that showcases both traditional and innovative examples of the form by modern and contemporary poets, award winners and emerging writers alike. Organized by such themes as Americana, Art, Love, and Sex, and Memory, Contemplation, Retrospection, and Death, the collection also includes sestinas with irregular teleutons and unconventional sestinas. An evocative introduction by Marilyn Krysl acquaints readers with the form. The volume concludes with useful indexes of first
