A History of Homosexuality in Europe, Vol. I & II Florence Tamagne, 2006 Outstanding Academic Title 2005 Choice Magazine The period between the two world wars was crucial in the history of homosexuality in Europe It was then that homosexuality first came out into the light of day Just crawling out from under the Victorian blanket Europe was devastated by a gruesome war that consumed the flower of its youth Tamagne examines the currents of nostalgia and yearning euphoria rebellion and exploration in the postwar era and the bonds forged at school and on the battlefield in a scholarly treatise charting the early days of the homosexual and lesbian scene Berlin became the capital of the new culture and the center of a political movement seeking rights and protections for what we now call gays and lesbians In England the struggle was brisk to undermine the structures and strictures of Victorianism whereas in France which was more tolerant over all homosexuality remained more subtle and nonmilitant However the social and political backlash soon became apparent first of all in Germany More conservative attitudes arrested the evolution of the new mores and it was not until the 1960s that the new wave of the sexual revolution once again swept the continent Tamagne's work outlines the long and arduous journey from the shadows toward acceptability as the homosexual and lesbian community sets out to find a new legitimacy at various levels of society She weaves together cultural references from literature songs and theater news stories and private correspondence police reports and government documents to give a rounded picture of the evolving scene The first volume argues that homosexuality a high culture sort enjoyed a golden age consequent upon the Great War's liberalization of morals In volume 2 reaction and repression march through the 1930s A lively read Highly recommended CHOICE Magazine Florence Tamagne holds a PhD from the prestigious Institute of Political Studies in Paris France This is her second book tracing the evolution of homosexuality in Europe

Throughout the 19th and early 20th centuries countless distinguished writers made the long and arduous voyage across the seas to Australia They came to give lecture tours and make money to sort out difficult children sent here to be out of the way for health for science to escape demanding spouses back home or simply to satisfy a sense of adventure In 1890 for example Robert Louis Stevenson and his wife Fanny arrived at Circular Quay after a dramatic sea voyage only to be refused entry at the Victoria one of Sydney's most elegant hotels Stevenson threw a tantrum but was forced to go to a cheaper less fussy establishment Next day the Victoria's manager recognising the famous author from a picture in the paper rushed to find Stevenson and beg him to return He did not In Brief Encounters renowned author and speaker Susannah Fullerton examines a diverse array of writers including Charles Darwin Rudyard Kipling Stevenson Anthony Trollope Mark Twain Arthur Conan Doyle DH Lawrence Joseph Conrad HG Wells Agatha Christie and Jack London to discover what they did when they got here what their opinion was of Australia and Australians how the public and media reacted to them and how their future works were shaped or influenced by this country An Exploration of a New Poetic Expression Beyond Dichotomy Shin'ichiro Ishikawa, 2004 This study attempts to re-evaluate Lawrence's poetry which has often been read as a set of biographical documents or supplementary notes to his novels as fully independent literary work in the light of post modern critical theory The author carefully examines how Lawrence needed to misread his precursors the nineteenth century Romantics to establish himself as one of the modern poets What separates his poetry from his precursors is his self-consciousness as a modern poet His search for radical freedom in language and his meta-poetic exploration of a new poetic expression make him a true pioneer of the terra incognita in English poetry Bertrand Russell Ray Monk, 1996 Russell's avant garde philosophy of free love combined with his principled pacificism would make him an icon of the international Left in the 1960s

American Biography, 1928 Drama and Religion: Volume 5 James Redmond, 1983 Themes in Drama brings together articles and review about the dramatic and theatrical activity of a wide range of cultures and periods The Eastern Underwriter, 1920 Uncommon Readers Christopher J. Knight, 2003-01-01 Impressive in scope and erudition Christopher Knight's Uncommon Readers focuses on three critics whose voices mixing eloquence with pugnacity stand out as among the most notable independent critics working during the last half century The critics are Denis Donoghue Frank Kermode and George Steiner and their independence a striking characteristic in a time of corporate criticism is reflective of both their backgrounds Donoghue's Catholic upbringing in Protestant ruled Northern Ireland Kermode's Manx beginnings and Steiner's Jewish upbringing in pre Holocaust Europe and their temperaments Each represents a part of one fact that has on the one hand made them the object of the occasional vituperative dismissal and on the other contributed to their influence and remarkable longevity Since the 1950s Steiner Donoghue and Kermode have each maintained a highly public profile regularly contributing to such influential publications as Encounter New Yorker New York Review of Books Times Literary Supplement and the London Review of Books This aspect of their work receives particular attention in Uncommon Readers for it illustrates a renewed interest in the role of the public critic especially in relation to the genre of the literary review essay and signals a sustained conversation with an educated public namely the common reader Knight makes the argument for the review essay as a serious and still viable genre and he examines the three critics in light of this assumption He expounds upon the critics separate interests Kermode's identification with discussions of canonicity Steiner's with cultural politics and Donoghue's with the persistent claims of the imagination while also revealing the ways in which their work often reflects theological interests Lastly he attempts to adjudicate some of the conflicts that have arisen between these critics and other literary theorists especially the post structuralists and to discuss the question of whether it is still possible for critics to work independently Original and deliberative Uncommon Readers presents a renewed defense of the tradition of the common reader In the Shadow of the Lord Mrs. Hugh Fraser, 1906 The American Mercury, 1926 Show World Wilton Barnhardt, 2013-07-02 The author of the beloved novels Gospel and Emma Who Saved My Life Wilton Barnhardt is a writer of rare and extraordinary talent who has yet to walk the same ground twice With Show World he offers a contemporary woman's story that will haunt its every reader Samantha Flint the figure at the book's center flees the Midwest for Smith College to shake her past to invent a future she can live with There she meets the redoubtable Mimi Mohr together and apart they move from New York to DC to LA Yet even as each new city takes them to fresh heights of power and wealth everything Sam wants seems to elude her and after a series of lapses both desperate and careless she finds her dreams have turned against her A work of withering satire and unmatched imagination Show World is Wilton Barnhardt's clear eyed estimate of America and what we all want out of her Moving Picture World and View Photographer, 1916 The American Mercury Henry Louis Mencken, 1926 The London Journal, 1862 The Yale Law Journal, 1927
