Shameful Autobiographies Rosamund Dalziell, 2018-07-04 Writing autobiography is a risky business What is shameful can be inadvertently rather than deliberately revealed Yet reading autobiography can also be risky as it may lead to the confrontation of shame in ourselves Perhaps it is this element of risk together with the magnetism of another person's confession of shameful experience that make us such avid readers of autobiography Rosamund Dalziell proposes that shame is the driving force in many Australian autobiographies Indeed she suggests that the representation of shame is fundamental to the autobiographical process Shame seeks concealment and this she argues explains both why this fascinating link has not before been explored and why when it is pointed out we immediately know it to be authentic Shameful Autobiographies looks at pervasive patterns of shame in the autobiographies of such leading Australian writers as Germaine Greer Sally Morgan Bernard Smith Kathleen Fitzpatrick Morris Lurie Ruby Langford Ginibi and Robert Dessaix In so doing it establishes the centrality of shame to problems of Australian identity and to current political debate for instance it is shame that fuels angry repudiations of the so called black armband view of history The calm clarity of Rosamund Dalziell's writing strengthens her powerful insights and arguments the most potent of which is that autobiographical confrontation with shame can heal deep wounds both for writers and for readers This mature and innovative book will enrich the experience of all readers of autobiography

Mannix Brenda Niall, 2015-03-25 Winner of the 2016 Australian Literature Society's Gold Medal and the National Biography Award Daniel Mannix Archbishop of Melbourne from 1917 until his death aged ninety nine in 1963 was a towering figure in Melbourne's Catholic community But his political interventions had a profound effect on the wider Australian nation too Award winning biographer Brenda Niall has made some unexpected discoveries in Irish and Australian archives which overturn some widely held views She also draws on her own memories of meeting and interviewing Mannix to get to the essence of this man of contradictions controversies and mystery Mannix is not only an astonishing new look at a remarkable life but a fascinating depiction of Melbourne in the first half last century Brenda Niall is one of Australia's foremost biographers She is the author of five award winning biographies including her acclaimed accounts of the Boyd family In 2016 she won the Australian Literature Society's Gold Medal and the National Biography Award for Mannix Brenda has degrees from the University of Melbourne the Australian National University and Monash University In 2004 she was awarded the Order of Australia for services to Australian literature as an academic biographer and literary critic She frequently reviews for the Age Sydney Morning Herald and Australian Book Review For readers interested in the political and cultural life of Australia during the first half of the 20th century Niall's highly readable biography will reward handsomely Books Publishing With characteristic insight sensitivity and tact Niall confirms that Daniel Mannix is a major if elusive figure in the modern history of Australia Ireland and the Catholic Church a balanced and convincing account of Mannix's life and times Australian Book Review Brenda Niall's central challenge was to uncover the personal face of Mannix from his public speeches She does this modestly and penetratingly Catholic News This is the best life of Mannix we have Writing from inside the Melbourne Catholic experience Brenda Niall shows how people's affection for Mannix muted their criticisms of him even if they knew better Global Pulse I should say that I expected to take my time over this biography as I usually do reading a chapter every other day But not so I could not put it down ANZ LitLovers For my money Brenda Niall's Mannix is the most wise shrewd and elegant biography yet produced of this complex and beguiling man Niall's irresistible prose strengthens the candour of this fine book Age Calmly magisterial Niall gives a sense of Mannix's greatness and of why we can still be awed by him Australian An extraordinary man and an extraordinary book Weekly Times Among living Australian biographers only Philip Ayres matches Brenda Niall for painstaking research serving narratives at once spirited and judicious Spectator This book is the work of a master of the art of biography Gripping Irish Echo A fond and fluent life of Mannix that captures the crispness and the passion the humour and the enigma of the man who meddled with politics like a master magician Sydney Review of Books Niall has written a generous and penetrating biography Madonna Magazine Australian Classics Jane Gleeson-White, 2010 What are the classic works of Australian literature And what can they tell us about ourselves and the land we live in Providing a selected overview of Australia's greatest literature Australian Classics is an accessible companion to our literature and a story of writing in Australia from the nineteenth century to the present Australian Class Australian Book Review, 2004 Oliver & Boyd's new Edinburgh almanac and national repository. [With] Western suppl Oliver and Boyd's new Edinburgh almanac, 1884 Can You Hear the Sea? Brenda Niall, 2017-10-30 An affectionate tribute to someone who quietly but firmly shaped her own place in the world Books Publishing Brenda Niall has turned her biographer's eye to a personal subject her grandmother Aggie She tells the story of a fiercely independent and intelligent woman who braved a new country as a single woman teaching in a country school before marrying a Riverina grazier whose large powerful family was wary of the newcomer with ideas of her own Aggie dealt with hardships and loneliness after the early and drawn out death of her husband and brought up her seven children to be happy all with a calm determination But it was the memory box and her longing for the sea that captured the imagination of her granddaughter Brenda Niall is one of Australia's foremost biographers She is the author of five award winning biographies including her acclaimed accounts of the Boyd family In 2016 she won the Australian Literature Society's Gold Medal and the National Biography Award for Mannix Brenda has degrees from the University of Melbourne the Australian National University and Monash University In 2004 she was awarded the Order of Australia for services to Australian literature as an academic biographer and literary critic She frequently reviews for the Age Sydney Morning Herald and Australian Book Review Can You Hear the Sea creates a portrait from other kinds of evidence of a woman whose silence sealed her most intimate moments With a light touch Niall looks at her grandmother s life through the prism of the imaginative world in which she was immersed Aggie s is a story of independence and grit understated necessary uncelebrated Australian Aggies gift of the shell and the empty box put two questions to Brenda Niall They also addressed her craft and her desire Could she recreate the sounds and feel of the past out of unpromising materials and could she fill the empty box while recognising that it remained empty This book answers both questions with assurance One might hope that among the next generation of Aggie s descendants another young person will hear in it the sea that flows into story telling Eureka Street Niall s beautifully told tale will have echoes in thousands of other Australian families SA Weekend Gentle and engaging biography Aggie was undoubtedly a remarkable and intelligent woman and this book is a lovely testament to her life Good Reading Insightful Yours Niall is clear about her process asking questions noting gaps offering her own memories with an easy blend of intimacy and distance in an authoritative yet conversational voice Niall writes with respect for a woman who built a dynasty across centuries was adventurous and stable traditional and ahead of her time English and embodied the best of Australia Australian Book Review Agnes s story charts the changing role of women in the colonies the impact of the world wars and the rise and fall of family fortunes Niall s beautifully told tale will have echoes in thousands of other Australian families SA Weekend Niall s skill is to listen with a discerning ear to acknowledge the views and to seek always the social political and historical context and influences Her craft as a skilled biographer gives her grandmother a fresh life one that will resonate with many in families of similar background but wider than that provide another piece in the picture of the European settlement of Australasia Otago Daily Times A fascinating subject Hopefully people still find ways to write biographies that so adeptly capture the particularity of lived experience Saturday Paper

Campaign of the Century Irwin F. Gellman,2022-01-04 Based on massive new research a compelling and surprising account of the twentieth century s closest election The 1960 presidential election between John F Kennedy and Richard Nixon is one of the most frequently described political events of the twentieth century yet the accounts to date have been remarkably unbalanced Far more attention is given to Kennedy s side than to Nixon s The imbalance began with the first book on that election Theodore White s The Making of the President 1960 in which as he later admitted White deliberately cast Kennedy as the hero and Nixon as the villain and it has been perpetuated in almost every book since then Few historians have attempted an unbiased account of the election and none have done the archival research that Irwin F Gellman has done Based on previously unused sources such as the FBI s surveillance of JFK and the papers of Leon Jaworski vice presidential candidate Henry Cabot Lodge and many others this book presents the first even handed history of both the primary campaigns and the general election The result is a fresh engaging chronicle that shatters long held myths and reveals the strengths and weaknesses of both candidates
