Martyrs Shrine:

The Death and Afterlife of the North American Martyrs Emma Anderson, 2013-11-18 In the 1640s eight Jesuit missionaries met their deaths at the hands of native antagonists. With their collective canonization in 1930 these men became North America's first saints. Emma Anderson untangles the complexities of these seminal acts of violence and their ever-changing legacy across the centuries. While exploring how Jesuit missionaries perceived their terrifying final hours, she also seeks to comprehend the motivations of those who confronted them from the other side of the axe, musket, or caldron of boiling water, and to illuminate the experiences of those native Catholics who, though they died alongside their missionary mentors, have yet to receive comparable recognition as martyrs. In tracing the creation and evolution of the cult of the martyrs across the centuries, Anderson reveals the ways in which both believers and detractors have honored and preserved the memory of the martyrs in this afterlife and how their powerful story has been continually reinterpreted in the collective imagination. As rival shrines rose on either side of the U.S.-Canadian border, these figures would both unite and deeply divide natives and non-natives, francophones and anglophones, Protestants and Catholics, Canadians and Americans, forging a legacy as controversial as it has been enduring.

Image, Imagination and Imaginarium Lu Pan, 2021-01-02 This book explores five cases of monument and public commemorative space related to World War II (WWII) in contemporary China, Mainland Hong Kong, and Taiwan, all of which were built either prior to or right after the end of the War, and their physical existence still remains. Through the study on the monuments, the project illustrates past and ongoing controversies and contestations over Chinese nation sovereignty, modernism, and identity. Despite their historical affinities, the three societies in question—namely Mainland China, Hong Kong, and Taiwan—vary in their own ways of telling, remembering, and forgetting WWII. These divergences are not only rooted in their different political circumstances and social experiences but also in their current competitions, confrontations, and integrations. This book will be of great interest to historians, sinologists, and analysts of new Asian nationalism.

Hilduin of Saint-Denis Michael Lapidge, 2017-05-22 Hilduin c. 785–c. 860, abbot of Saint Denis in Paris and archchaplain to Louis the Pious, was one of the leading scholars and administrators of the Carolingian empire. He was the first to translate the mystical Greek writings of the pseudo-Dionysius into Latin; he then identified this Dionysius with the first bishop of Paris of that name and assigned his episcopacy and martyrdom to 96 A.D. Hilduin composed a life of St. Dionysius in prose and verse; the prose work has not been edited since 1580, and the verse work, a major new Carolingian Latin poem, has never before been printed. Both texts are accompanied by facing-page English translation and detailed commentary. Eleven appendices contain editions of the various texts on which Hilduin drew in compiling his fictitious account of St. Dionysius.

Love and Death Martin Avery, 2011 An Age of Saints?, 2013-02-06 The papers collected in this volume explore the strategies through which Christian authorities throughout the early medieval world both established and expressed their social position while at the same time drawing attention to the moments when those same processes were resisted and challenged Where previous studies of Christianisation have for the most part approached the issue of dissent through the continued existence of paganism and the various Christian heresies this volume suggests that the experience of doubt towards and articulation of resistance to the claims of Christian leaders extended far outside the circles of pagan intellectuals and dissident theologians The result is a view of Christianisation as far more piecemeal complex and incomplete than has often been acknowledged Contributors include Peter Turner Peter Kritzinger Collin Garbarino Philip Wood Ralph Lee Richard Payne Mike Humphreys Giorgia Vocino and Gerda Heydemann

Governing the Dead Linh D. Vu, 2021-08-15 In Governing the Dead Linh D Vu explains how the Chinese Nationalist regime consolidated control by honoring its millions of war dead allowing China to emerge rapidly from the wreckage of the first half of the twentieth century to become a powerful state supported by strong nationalistic sentiment and institutional infrastructure The fall of the empire internecine conflicts foreign invasion and war related disasters claimed twenty to thirty million Chinese lives Vu draws on government records newspapers and petition letters from mourning families to analyze how the Nationalist regime s commemoration of the dead and compensation of the bereaved actually fortified its central authority By enshrining the victims of violence as national ancestors the Republic of China connected citizenship to the idea of the nation promoting loyalty to the imagined community The regime constructed China s first public military cemetery and hundreds of martyrs shrines collectively mourned millions of fallen soldiers and civilians and disbursed millions of yuan to tens of thousands of widows and orphans The regime thus exerted control over the living by creating the state apparatus necessary to manage the dead Although the Communist forces prevailed in 1949 the Nationalists had already laid the foundation for the modern nation state through their governance of dead citizens The Nationalist policies of glorifying and compensating the loyal dead in an age of catastrophic destruction left an important legacy violence came to be celebrated rather than lamented

Contesting Chineseness Chang-Yau Hoon, Ying-kit Chan, 2021-03-15 Combining a historical approach of Chineseness and a contemporary perspective on the social construction of Chineseness this book provides comparative insights to understand the contingent complexities of ethnic and social formations in both China and among the Chinese diaspora in Southeast Asia This book focuses on the experiences and practices of these people who as mobile agents are free to embrace or reject being defined as Chinese by moving across borders and reinterpreting their own histories By historicizing the notion of Chineseness at local regional and global levels the book examines intersections of authenticity authority culture identity media power and international relations that support or undermine different instances of Chineseness and its representations It seeks to rescue the present from the past by presenting case studies of contingent encounters that produce the ideas practices and identities that become the categories nations need to justify their existence The dynamic fluid representations of Chineseness illustrate that it has never been an undifferentiated whole in both space and time Through physical movements and inherited knowledge agents of Chineseness have deployed various interpretive strategies to define and represent themselves vis vis the local regional and global in their respective temporal experiences This book will be relevant to students and scholars in Chinese studies and Asian studies more broadly with a focus on identity politics migration popular culture and international relations The Chinese overseas often saw themselves as caught between a rock and a hard place The collection of essays here highlights the variety of experiences in Southeast Asia and China that suggest that the rock can become a huge boulder with sharp edges and the hard places can have deadly spikes A must read for those who wonder whether Chineseness has ever been what it seems Wang Gungwu University Professor National University of Singapore By including reflections on constructions of Chineseness in both China itself and in various Southeast Asian sites the book shows that being Chinese is by no means necessarily intertwined with China as a geopolitical concept while at the same time highlighting the incongruities and tensions in the escapable relationship with China that diasporic Chinese subjects variously embody expressed in a wide range of social phenomena such as language use popular culture architecture and family relations The book is a very welcome addition to the necessary ongoing conversation on Chineseness in the 21st century Ien Ang Distinguished Professor of Cultural Studies Western Sydney University Foundations of Faith Violet M.
