The Routledge International Handbook of Life and Values Education in Asia

John Chi-Kin Lee, Kerry J Kennedy, 2024-06-28 This Handbook provides a comprehensive look at the educational scope of life and values that characterize 21st century Asia as well as those values shared across cultures Some values are deeply resonant with the region s past while others reflect modernity and the new contexts in which Asian societies find themselves Exploring these values of different types and the way they are constructed in Eastern and Western contexts the contributors delve into the diversity of religious moral and social education to promote greater understanding across cultures While a range of values is identified here there is no single set of values that can be applied to all people in all contexts The time has long gone even for single societies when values can be imposed Yet this Handbook emphasizes both the extent and importance of values to individuals and their societies how they respond to these values may provide the key to better and more caring societies and to better lives for all Academics and teachers will find this Handbook resourceful because it raises important theoretical issues related to social values and their formation in distinctive contexts and provides novel insights into the diverse educational landscape in Asia Policymakers and educators will also find this text helpful in learning to think about new ways to improve the quality of people's lives

Third World Education Anthony R. Welch, 2002-05-03 This book debunks the argument that quality in education can only be achieved by limiting or trading off equality The quality of schooling is a major issue for Third World nations across the globe However there is no single measure which is universally accepted Whether it is as some economists might argue an issue of the number of desks per classroom or one of national sovereignty is widely disputed Defining equality in education becomes increasingly difficult in an era of globalization in which there exists a wide gap between rich and poor both within and between nations In the context of an international move towards New Right politics and neo liberal economic ideologies both the quality and equality of education are imperiled This book argues that any worthy definition of quality education must include the interests and participation of the underprivileged

China Since the 'Gang of Four' Bill Brugger, 2018-09-18 This book first published in 1980 addresses the questions raised by the death of Mao Zedong and the arrest of the Gang of Four Was China reverting to a capitalist form of development and abandoning Mao's policies Was China's leadership remaining loyal to Mao's strategy but correcting damage done by the Gang of Four The essays in this book analyse these questions and illustrate differences in interpretation amongst the post Mao leadership Individual chapters deal with disagreements over political line the role of the CCP economic policy and industrial management policy towards the rural sector controversies over the role of art and literature the nature and function of the education system and the incorporation of China into the international economy
