Reducing Threats At The Source A European Perspective On Cooperative Threat Reduction:

Reducing Threats at the Source Ian Anthony, 2004      Reducing Threats at the Source , At their meeting in Kananaskis Canada in June 2002 the Heads of State and Government of the G8 countries announced a Global Partnership Against the Spread of Weapons and Materials of Mass Destruction Global Partnership to provide assistance to states in the first instance the Russian Federation that lack the means to implement shared disarmament non proliferation and counter terrorism object The EU is represented by the President of the European Commission and by the leader of the country that holds the presidency of the European Council at the time of the G8 summit meeting To the extent that armed conflict and state collapse in the developing world are recognized to contribute to the causes of and openings for terrorism the relationship of the stockpiles and flows of small arms and light weapons SALW to such conflicts also draws projects to secure and destroy SALW into the sphere of relevance The scope for projects in the area of practical disarmament and under the auspices of the PFP seems to be a particularly wide given the progressively expanded technical coverage of CTR For example the commission is the only actor that participates in all of the G8 the Northern Dimension including NDEP and MNEPR the European Nuclear Cities Initiative ENCI the ISTC and the STCU      The Challenges of Nuclear Non-Proliferation Richard Dean Burns, Philip E. Coyle, 2015-03-12 The Challenges of Nuclear Non Proliferation is an exhaustive survey of the many aspects of non proliferation efforts It explains why some nations pursued nuclear programs while others abandoned them as well as the challenges strengths and weaknesses of non proliferation efforts It addresses key issues such as concerns over rogue states and stateless rogues delivery systems made possible by technology and the connection between nuclear weapons and ballistic missiles examining whether non proliferation regimes can deal with these threats or whether economic or military sanctions need to be developed It also examines the feasibility of eliminating or greatly reducing the number of nuclear weapons A broad survey of one of today's great threats to international security this text provides undergraduates students with the tools needed to evaluate current events and global threats      The European Union's Nuclear Non-proliferation Policy Manuel Herrera, 2025-04-15 This book looks at European Union EU attempts to manage the risks associated with nuclear non proliferation and assesses its performance and external challenges The introductory section delves into current academic scholarship elucidating the concepts of contestation and performance The second section provides an overview of the historical and institutional evolution and the third scrutinizes the performance The final section examines present policy with case studies on the EU's bilateral relations with Iran and India Adopting a focus on both the development and performance of the EU's non proliferation and disarmament policy as well as its contestation from non Western countries this book provides a solid and innovative contribution to existing debates on both the EU's non proliferation and foreign policy The book will appeal to scholars researchers and practitioners of International Relations European Union Studies and Nuclear Non Proliferation as it provides an analysis of the intricacy of the EU's non proliferation policy offering fresh perspectives and empirical evidence      Routledge Handbook on the European Union and International Institutions Knud Erik Jørgensen, Katie Verlin Laatikainen, 2013 This Handbook addresses the increasingly contested issue of profound political importance Europe's presence in multilateral institutions It assesses both the evolving role of Europe in international institutions and the transformations in international institutions themselves      The Global Partnership Against WMD Alan Heyes, Wyn Q. Bowen, Hugh Chalmers, 2012-08-21 The 9/11 terrorist attacks prompted a new urgency in efforts to deal with chemical biological radiological and nuclear proliferation The potential acquisition and use by terrorist groups of such weaponry was suddenly a much increased threat The G8 Global Partnership against the Spread of Weapons and Materials of Mass Destruction subsequently encouraged some twenty two countries and the European Union to pledge up to 20 billion to address this challenge The creation of the Global Partnership was the first time so many countries agreed to collaborate on a range of non proliferation security and nuclear safety programmes as well as commit such an amount of resources to them Based on extensive primary research this Whitehall Paper assesses the success and shortcomings to date of the Global Partnership and suggests how the mechanism can be bolstered and taken forward      Countering Biological Threats National Research Council, Policy and Global Affairs, Development, Security, and Cooperation, Office for Central Europe and Eurasia, Committee on Prevention of Proliferation of Biological Weapons in States Beyond the Former Soviet Union, 2009-05-27 In response to a request from the U S Congress this book examines how the unique experience and extensive capabilities of the Department of Defense DOD can be extended to reduce the threat of bioterrorism within developing countries outside the former Soviet Union FSU During the past 12 years DOD has invested 800 million in reducing the risk from bioterrorism with roots in the states of the FSU The program's accomplishments are many fold The risk of bioterrorism in other countries is too great for DOD not to be among the leaders in addressing threats beyond the FSU Taking into account possible sensitivities about a U S military presence DOD should engage interested governments in about ten developing countries outside the FSU in biological threat reduction programs during the next five years Whenever possible DOD should partner with other organizations that have well established humanitarian reputations in the countries of interest For example the U S Agency for International Development the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and the World Health Organization should be considered as potential partners      A Global History of the Nuclear Arms Race Richard Dean Burns, Joseph M. Siracusa, 2013-04-23 Written by two preeminent authors in the field this book provides an accessible global narrative of the nuclear arms race since 1945 that focuses on the roles of key scientists military chiefs and political leaders The first book of its kind to provide a global perspective of the arms race this two volume work connects episodes worldwide involving nuclear weapons in a comprehensive narrative fashion Beginning with a discussion of the scientific research of the 1930s and 1940s and the Hiroshima decision the authors focus on five basic themes political dimensions technological developments military and diplomatic strategies and impact The history of the international nuclear arms race is examined within the context of four historical eras America's nuclear monopoly America's nuclear superiority superpower parity and the post Cold War era Information about the historical development of the independent deterrence of Britain France and China as well as the piecemeal deterrence of newcomers Israel India Pakistan and North Korea is also included as is coverage of the efforts aimed at the international control of nuclear weapons and the diplomatic architecture that underpins the global nuclear non proliferation regime

EU External Relations Law and Policy in the Post-Lisbon Era Paul James Cardwell, 2011-11-17 This is a collection of works which considers the many different facets of the EU's increasingly important engagement with the world beyond its borders The Treaty of Lisbon marked a change in the powers and competences endowed on the EU the contributions to this collection consider both the direct and indirect impact of the Treaty on the contemporary state of EU external relations The authors are drawn from legal political science and international relations disciplines and consider innovations or changes brought about by the Treaty itself the European External Action Service the roles of the High Representative and President the collapse of the pillar structure and new competences such as those for foreign investment Other chapters cover developments which reflect the latest incremental changes upon which the post Lisbon Treaty arrangements have some bearing including the COREU network the transatlantic and neighbourhood relations and the external dimension of internal security Useful for academics working in the field of EU external relations law and foreign policy as well as the EU law politics European studies market more generally

European Security, Terrorism and Intelligence C. Kaunert, S. Leonard, 2013-05-07 The EU has long been seen as confederation that has failed to assert itself effectively on the international stage In this collection a series of experts discuss how the EU has shed its reputation as a weak international actor in light of its policies on police cooperation and intelligence sharing as part of the global effort to combat terrorism

The Nordic Countries and the European Security and Defence Policy Alyson J. K. Bailes, Gunilla Herolf, Bengt Sundelius, 2006 In 1999 the EU decided to develop its own military capacities for crisis management This book brings together a group of experts to examine the consequences of this decision on Nordic policy establishments as well as to shed new light on the defence and security issues that matter for Europe as a whole

Ethics and Law for Chemical, Biological, Radiological, Nuclear & Explosive Crises Dónal P. O'Mathúna, Iñigo de Miguel Beriain, 2019-04-25 This book provides a current analysis of the legal and ethical challenges in preparing for and responding to chemical biological radiological nuclear and explosive CBRNE crises From past events like the Chernobyl nuclear incident in Russia or the Bhopal chemical calamity in India to the more recent tsunami and nuclear accident in Japan or the Ebola crisis in Africa and with the on going threat of bioterrorism the need to be ready to respond to CBRNE crises is uncontroversial What is controversial is whether we are on a path that adequately prepares us for the next event The ethical and legal scholars in this volume hold that much work remains to be done and offer this book to stimulate further reflection and dialogue around CBRNE crises This is an indispensable book for both students and scholars of bioethics international law public health as well as for regulators and administrators developing policy and legislation related to public health planning and emergency responses

Europe and Iran Shannon N. Kile, 2005 The recent controversy over Iran's nuclear programme represents an early and important test for a distinctively European approach to addressing concerns about suspected programmes for the development of weapons of mass destruction Against this background the report brings together European and Iranian perspectives on a range of security and proliferation related issues that have a bearing on diplomatic efforts to resolve the controversy The contributors describe the discussions under way between Europe Iran and the International Atomic Energy Agency aimed at clarifying the scope and nature of Iran's nuclear activities They examine the development of the European Union's strategy to combat the spread of WMD Iran's evolving security and defence structures and policies including Iranian thinking about deterrence based defence strategies and the requirements for credibly implementing them and the internal dynamics of security policy decision making in Iran The report highlights some of the problems and possibilities inherent in the EU's efforts to implement a more targeted multifunctional strategy to prevent WMD proliferation

SIPRI Yearbook 2007 Stockholm International Peace Research Institute, 2007 The 38th edition of the SIPRI Yearbook analyses developments in 2006 in Security and conflicts Military spending and armaments Non proliferation arms control and disarmament The SIPRI Yearbook contains extensive annexes on the implementation of arms control and disarmament agreements and a chronology of events during the year in the area of security and arms control The annual accounts and analyses are extensively footnoted providing a comprehensive bibliography in each subject area

European Security Governance and the European Neighbourhood after the Lisbon Treaty Christian Kaunert, Sarah Léonard, 2013-09-13 The EU has often been considered to be a weak security actor However any assessment of the EU's role in international security is underpinned by a specific understanding of security This book is based on a broad understanding of security We consider that security concerns are increasingly triggered by challenges such as terrorism climate change mass migration flows and many other non traditional security issues This book tries to capture these aspects of the EU's fast changing security policies following the entry into force of the Lisbon Treaty on 1 December 2009 There are several common themes stemming from a combined reading of the chapters Firstly the EU has sought to simultaneously pursue its security objectives and spread its values such as democracy the rule of law and human rights by encouraging reforms in its neighbourhood However it is increasingly evident that there are tensions and contradictions between these two objectives which can be illuminated and better understood by considering another strand of literature with which there has been little engagement in EU studies to date namely the literature on human security This book is the first to analyse these hugely topical developments in European security after the Lisbon Treaty It was published as a special issue of Perspectives on European Politics and Society

Managing a Multilevel Foreign Policy Paolo Foradori, Paolo Rosa, Riccardo Scartezzini, 2007-01-01 Managing a Multilevel Foreign Policy is a helpful resource for enhancing current understanding of the European Union as an emerging actor in the global system It introduces and examines the latest developments in the fields of EU foreign security and defense policies providing a complete overview of the ways in which the EU has grown as a global actor with a significant impact on international affairs      Denationalisation of Defence Janne Haaland Matlary, Øyvind Østerud, 2016-05-23 Denationalisation of Defence consists of two major parts first a generic and analytical section which presents the developmental trends in privatization and internationalization of armed force and second an empirical section analyzing the impact of these trends on the Nordic countries defence and security sectors The Nordic countries have a special relevance as objects of study given their traditionally strong public spheres and state orientated systems of governance This volume questions whether the process of denationalization has reached a point where countries are reacting to changes in their security environment by increasingly introducing elements of privatization and international integration

The SAGE Handbook of European Foreign Policy Knud Erik Jorgensen, Aasne Kalland Aarstad, Edith Drieskens, Katie Laatikainen, Ben Tonra, 2015-04-30 During the last two decades the study of European foreign policy has experienced remarkable growth presumably reflecting a more significant international role of the European Union The Union has significantly expanded its policy portfolio and though empty symbolic politics still exists the Union's international relations have become more substantial and its foreign policy more focused European foreign policy has become a dynamic policy area being adapted to changing challenges and environments such as the Arab Spring new emerging economies powers the crisis of multilateralism and much more The SAGE Handbook of European Foreign Policy Two Volume set is a major reference work for Foreign Policy Programmes around the world The Handbook is designed to be accessible to graduate and postgraduate students in a wide variety of disciplines across the humanities and social sciences Both volumes are structured to address areas of critical concern to scholars at the cutting edge of all major dimensions of foreign policy The volumes are composed of original chapters written specifically to the following themes Research traditions and historical experience Theoretical perspectives EU actors State actors Societal actors The politics of European foreign policy Bilateral relations Relations with multilateral institutions Individual policies Transnational challenges The Handbook will be an essential reference for both advanced students and scholars      SIPRI Yearbook 2008 Stockholm International Peace Research Institute, 2008 The 39th edition of the SIPRI Yearbook analyses developments in 2007 in Security and conflicts Military spending and armaments Non proliferation arms control and disarmament The SIPRI Yearbook contains extensive annexes on the implementation of arms control and disarmament agreements and a chronology of events during the year in the area of security and arms control      U.S. Cooperative Threat Reduction and Nonproliferation Programs United States.
