This book offers an engaging and accessible introduction to data visualization for communicators covering everything from data collection and analysis to the creation of effective data visuals. Straying from the typical how-to visualize data genre often written for technical audiences, Big Data in Small Slices offers those new to data gathering and visualization the opportunity to better understand data itself. Using the concept of the data backstory, each chapter features discussions with experts from marine scientists to pediatricians and city government officials who produce datasets in their daily work. The reader is guided through the process of designing effective visualizations based on their data, delving into how datasets are produced and vetted and how to assess their weaknesses and strengths, ultimately offering readers the knowledge needed to produce their own effective data visuals. This book is an invaluable resource for anyone interested in data visualization and storytelling, from journalism and communications students to public relations professionals. Making Animals Public, 2024-06-01. Making Animals Public: television, animality, and political engagement focuses on the proliferation of animal content on television and how this has transformed how animals are known and encountered, generating unique modes of televisual animality. The book examines the multiplicity of public realities and knowledges that animals on TV have constituted, from scientific objectivity to the unique Australian environment to controversial victims of gross exploitation. Just as television has made animals public in very particular ways, it has also made new publics that have learnt to be affected by them. Thanks to extraordinary access to the ABC's Natural History and general archives, the authors are able to investigate the dynamic relation between making animals public and making publics over time.

Moon Pool Jim Broman, 2014-12-20. From a fifth grader who brought a pickled octopus in a jar for show and tell to a high school dropout who joined the military tactical fighter squadron to a deep water diver, international entrepreneur and adventurer to a hippie and Australian bushman, author Jim Broman has seen it all, done it all, and lived it all. Some of the moon pools brought Broman to the face of death; others have shown him the true meaning of life. They've all been life-altering experiences in their own way, challenges, opportunities for growth or change, or healing, incredible moments of varying duration filled with deep and far reaching significance This memoir describes his life of risk and adventure and also his love of nature and the sea set against the backdrop of some of the most magnificent exotic locales in the world By his own admission Broman always loved thrills and extremes But it takes more than loving them to survive combat and deep water diving You have to know how to access the inner core of yourself if you re going to make it and thrive through extreme situations This memoir chronicles his adventures his inward journey and the place where they merged the moon pool
