Reflections on Knowledge, Learning and Social Movements Aziz Choudry, Salim Vally, 2017-12-12 How do educators and activists in today's struggles for change use historical materials from earlier periods of organizing for political education? How do they create and engage with independent and often informal archives and debates? How do they ultimately connect this historical knowledge with contemporary struggles? Reflections on Knowledge Learning and Social Movements aims to advance the understanding of relationships between learning, knowledge production, history, and social change. In four sections, this unique collection explores: Engagement with activist movement archives; Learning and teaching militant histories; Lessons from liberatory and anti-imperialist struggles; Learning from student youth and education struggles. Six chapters foreground insights from the breadth and diversity of South Africa's rich progressive social movements, while others explore connections between ideas and practices of historical and contemporary struggles in other parts of the world, including Argentina, Iran, Britain, Palestine, and the US. Besides its great relevance to scholars and students of Education, Sociology, and History, this innovative title will be of particular interest to adult educators, labour educators, archivists, community workers, and others concerned with education for social change.

Melish's Travels John Melish, 2003-01-30 Scottish-born John Melish visited the United States several times, beginning in 1806, finally deciding to settle in Philadelphia in 1811. This work contains Melish's first maps, and they formed the basis for his later career in cartography. Reinforcing his observations of the places he visited, these first-hand maps focused on cities, towns, or transportation hubs and included topography and information on local settlements and roads, predominantly covering the Mid-Atlantic and Mid-West. Considered to be some of the best local maps of the time, they were regularly updated with each publication. Melish's maps came to dominate the cartography industry in America, and he set the standard for future American map makers.

Reflections James O. Jeffers, 2003 The book chronicles James Jeffers' life from about age two, but it purposefully falls short of being either memoirs or autobiography. With this work, he has attempted to simply record for his children, grandchildren, and others the wonderful events of his life as he experienced them. The book covers thousands of miles of travel, along with living and working with peoples of differing cultures on three continents and in the Caribbean, five foreign countries, and fifteen different states, spanning the nation from coast to coast to coast.

Spiritual Care Reflections from a Hospice Chaplain Jr. Charles J. Lopez, 2015-10-13 From the good sisters and monks of the 11th century, hospice care grew through the passions of 20th-century people like Dame Cecily Saunders and Elizabeth Kubler-Ross, and into the recognized modality it is today of compassionate and palliative care for those who are on their final journey from this world. Pastor Lopez rightly fills this name as he reaches out not only to patients and their families but the team of nurses, doctors, social workers, and caregivers who offer their hands and hearts to those in need.
