Reflective Learning For Social Work:

Reflective Practice in Social Work Christine Knott, Terry Scragg, 2010-04-16 Reflective practice is a key element of learning and development on social work courses This fully updated new edition explores a range of approaches to reflective practice and includes sections on gender reflecting on emotion and using reflection as a catalyst for change as well as asking the fundamental question what is reflective practice Written in three parts this essential guide starts with a broad exploration of reflection drawing on some key texts that have informed its development It then moves on to real practice issues including the management of social work practice and interprofessional working Reflective Learning for Social Work Nick Gould, Imogen Taylor, 2017-03-02 Since the publication of Donald Schön's The Reflective Practitioner in 1983 there has been a dramatic growth of research and writing developing the concept of reflective learning Surprisingly there has been little application of concepts of reflective learning to social work education This volume makes accessible for the first time to a social work readership a book which focuses on reflective learning in social work brings together material on reflective learning from both academic and practice settings creates a seminal text for educators and trainers in universities and practice settings has relevance to an international readership with contributions from the UK USA Canada and Australia

Handbook of Reflection and Reflective Inquiry Nona Lyons, 2010-04-07 Philosophers have warned of the perils of a life spent without reflection but what constitutes reflective inquiry and why it is necessary in our lives can be an elusive concept Synthesizing ideas from minds as diverse as John Dewey and Paulo Freire the Handbook of Reflection and Reflective Inquiry presents reflective thought in its most vital aspects not as a fanciful or nostalgic exercise but as a powerful means of seeing familiar events anew encouraging critical thinking and crucial insight teaching and learning In its opening pages two seasoned educators Maxine Greene and Lee Shulman discuss reflective inquiry as a form of active attention Thoreau's wide awakeness an act of consciousness and a process by which people can understand themselves their work particularly in the form of life projects and others Building on this foundation the Handbook analyzes through the work of 40 internationally oriented authors Definitional issues concerning reflection what it is and is not Worldwide social and moral conditions contributing to the growing interest in reflective inquiry in professional education Reflection as promoted across professional educational domains including K 12 education teacher education occupational therapy and the law Methods of facilitating and scaffolding reflective engagement Current pedagogical and research practices in reflection Approaches to assessing reflective inquiry Educators across the professions as well as adult educators counselors and psychologists and curriculum developers concerned with adult learning will find the Handbook of Reflection and Reflective Inquiry an invaluable teaching tool for challenging times Reflective Reader: Social Work and Human Development Karin Crawford, 2006-06-27 This book is an original way to introduce students and practitioners to reflective learning and knowledge based practice both of which are key aspects of a social worker's role Readers will consider the impact of social work practice from a life course perspective by using extracts from topical research theory academic texts and national strategy and policy Numerous activities prompt personal reflection and help readers to develop skills in critical analysis as well as providing ways in which they can evidence the impact this learning has on their professional development Reflective Learning for Social Work Nick Gould, Imogen Taylor, 1996 The 1st volume to bring to a social work readership a book which focuses on reflective learning in social work this text brings together conceptual research and case material on reflective learning from academic and practice settings

Handbook for Practice Learning in Social Work and Social Care Joyce Lishman, 2007-05-15 This substantially revised expanded and updated edition of the popular Handbook of Theory for Practice Teachers is a comprehensive summary of the theory knowledge research and evidence relating to practice learning in social care focussing on knowledge based practice with a focus on improving outcomes Teaching Reflective Learning in Higher Education Mary Elizabeth Ryan, 2014-11-05 This book is about understanding the nature and application of reflection in higher education It provides a theoretical model to guide the implementation of reflective learning and reflective practice across multiple disciplines and international contexts in higher education The book presents research into the ways in which reflection is both considered and implemented in different ways across different professional disciplines while maintaining a common purpose to transform and improve learning and or practice The Readers will find this book is innovative and new in three key ways Firstly in its holistic theorisation of reflection within the pedagogic field of higher education Secondly in conceptualising reflection in different modes to achieve specific purposes in different disciplines and finally in providing conceptual guidance for embedding reflective learning and reflective practice in a systematic way across whole programmes faculties or institutions in higher education The book considers important contextual factors that influence the teaching of forms and methods of reflection It provides a functional analysis of multiple modes of reflection including written oral visual auditory and embodied forms Empirical chapters analyse the application of these modes across disciplines and at different stages of a programme The theoretical model accounts for students stage of development in the disciplinary field along with progressive and cyclical levels of higher order thinking and learning and professional practice that are expected within different disciplines and professional fields Secondly in conceptualising reflection in different modes to achieve specific purposes in different disciplines It provides a functional analysis of multiple modes of reflection including written oral visual auditory and embodied forms Empirical chapters analyse the application of these modes across disciplines and at different stages of a programme in terms of demonstrating levels of reflection The book includes images diagrams and different text forms to support the creative applications of reflection And thirdly the book is innovative in providing conceptual guidance for embedding reflective learning and reflective practice systematically across whole programmes faculties or institutions in higher education contexts across the world

Learning and Teaching in Social Work Margaret Yelloly, 1995 This book addresses contemporary themes in the professional education of social workers The contributors raise important questions about the nature and purpose of professional social work practice in a modern changing and complex society

Web-Based Education in the Human Services Richard Schoech, Brenda Moore, Robert James Macfadden, Marilyn Herie, 2014-02-25 A much needed look at innovative and effective methods for creating virtual learning environments for human services Web Based Education in the Human Services reflects the vitality and diversity of Web based courses currently delivered within human services Unlike previous texts that have combined technologies such as Interactive Television ITV and two way audio where Web involvement was minimal this unique book focuses on Web based models tools and techniques used in courses where the majority of the content is delivered online The book s contributors emphasize the social aspects of learning examining topical areas not usually associated with Web based education as they remind us of the need to move beyond the similarities between WBE and face to face FTF approaches Web Based Education in the Human Services documents a course delivery method coming of age in its desire to create virtual learning environments that incorporate a variety of techniques and strategies These environments use concepts and tools beyond what packages such as WebCT currently offer highlighting the power of designing a complete Web based curriculum rather than viewing each course separately Many of the most successful approaches presented in this invaluable book don't involve sophisticated tools or programming but the creative design of interactive scenarios emotional content and feedback mechanisms that reinforce the instructor's role as the crucial ingredient for success Web Based Education in the Human Services examines adult learning theories teaching practice skills through Web based technology how to bridge the gap between theory and practice faculty perceptions of the effectiveness of Web based instruction compared to face to face instruction the accessibility of Web based education the significance of emotion in learning Web based delivery of a graduate professional training program the creation delivery and evaluation of a pilot course using Blackboard 6 the development of a Web based undergraduate child welfare course the use of Web based video clips for counselor skills training the design development pilot and revision of a Web based social work practice course an online format for agency based field instruction the design of a Web based graduate program in counseling psychology and much more Web Based Education in the Human Services is an invaluable resource for social work and human services educators including education nursing and psychology Web course developers and college and university administrators

Practice Learning in the Caring Professions Dave Evans, 2016-12-05 Dave Evans makes a convincing case that practice learning occupies a central role in the education and training of the caring professions In doing so he affirms the activities of many service agency staff involved in practice teaching and assessment and offers them clear models and illustrative examples to aid their development He also explores ways in which practice learning and assessment can be effectively developed in academic settings

Best Practice in Professional Supervision, Second Edition Allyson Davys, Liz Beddoe, 2020-12-21 This second edition of Best Practice in Professional Supervision is a fully updated and revised guide to being an excellent supervisor in the social care nursing counselling and allied health professions This field has developed rapidly in the past 10 years and this new edition contains essential updates reflecting the very latest research and practice The book covers basic skills the practicalities of forming and maintaining the supervision relationship and the organisational context and culture of supervision Viewing supervision as a place for learning the book also considers how supervision can help practitioners to develop professional resilience and promote their own wellbeing despite the stresses of complex work environments It also includes specific chapters on supervision of clinical student placements and in child protection settings Full of clinical case vignettes illustrating good practice this is an essential guide for all those undertaking supervision or supervision training

Learning Critical Reflection Laura Béres, Jan Fook, 2019-08-13 Learning Critical Reflection documents the actual learning experiences of social work students and practitioners It explores how a more in depth understanding of the process of learning combined with an analysis of how to critically reflect will help improve the learning process The contributors are all professionals who have learnt in a formalised way how to critically reflect on their practice They speak in depth and with feeling about their experiences how downsides and upsides worked together to transform the way they understood themselves their professional identity and their practice Existing literature about critical reflection is reviewed identifying the details of learning and pulling no punches in recognising the difficulty and complexity of becoming transformed through this learning process The editors of this book also contribute their own reflections on learning how to teach critical reflection and include the findings of a research study conducted on students learning Edited by two experienced educators this book showcases the process of learning from the perspective of the learners in order that educators and students managers supervisors and frontline practitioners alike may make the most of opportunities to critically reflect in both educational and workplace settings It should be considered essential reading for social work students practitioners and educators

Researching Critical Reflection Jan Fook, Val Collington, Fiona Ross, Gillian Ruch, Linden West, 2015-10-05 Critical reflection helps professionals to learn directly from their practice experience so that they can improve their own work in an ongoing and flexible way something essential in today's complex and changing organisations It allows change to be managed in a way which enables individuals to preserve a sense of what is fundamentally important to them as professionals It is particularly important as it can also help make sense of some fundamental issues and so also has implications for how we live our lives However more systematic research on critical reflection is needed to help us understand what works best for professionals in different settings This timely work explores how critical reflection is researched evaluated and used as a research method itself with the aim of improving how it is taught and practised in a rigorous and transferable way Developing a more comprehensive and multi disciplinary view of the current state of critical reflection and the research directions which need to be taken the book is divided into four parts It Provides an overview of different perspectives on critical reflection and stimulates dialogue between them Establishes some common platforms from which to develop further research directions Identifies the major issues in evaluating critical reflection teaching and main methods for doing so Contributes to social science methodological innovations by exploring how methods based on critical reflection can be used for researching professional practice Contains contributions from academics who are internationally known and highly experienced in different aspects of critical reflection Researching Critical Reflection is an important reference for all students practitioners and researchers including in the areas of education management health and social work who engage with critical reflection to develop their practice

Early Childhood Studies Rod Parker-Rees, Caroline Leeson, 2015-07-13 For students of Early Childhood Studies questions are as important as answers What is childhood Is childhood the same in all cultures How do children grow and develop What space do we make for children in our society How do adults approach risk and what does this mean for children Can children's play be planned by adults Early Childhood Studies tackles these questions and more It explores the why how and what of studying and working with young children and their families considering how a range of theories can help us to identify useful questions This is a comprehensive up to date challenging and accessible core text for the Early Childhood Studies course Throughout key theories and research findings are highlighted and explored to help link theory and practice It covers the important themes of child development communication wellbeing observation working with parents inclusive practice leadership and research This fourth edition has been fully updated throughout and includes new chapters on children and risk inclusive learning environments play and adults concepts of childhood

Transfer of Learning in Professional and Vocational Education Vivienne E. Cree, Cathlin Macaulay, 2000 In this book the authors unpack the concept of transfer of learning examine it in relation to current debates in education and show how it can be used most effectively to benefit students

Developing Learning In Professional Education Taylor, Imogen, 1997-10-01 This book is about professional education and developing the required knowledge and skills to equip students for the pressing needs of professional practice Student professionals from health care teaching business law and social work must learn how to practise both independently to respond to a constantly changing environment and collaboratively to respond to the complexity of today's society also they must learn how to work in partnership with the consumers of professional services Imogen Taylor explores how professional education can develop approaches to teaching and learning which both help learners to be reflexive self monitoring practitioners and meet the requirements of professional accrediting bodies She draws upon her own research into students experiencing professional education based on small group problem based learning on an extensive range of relevant international theory and research and on her own long experience in professional education training and practice This is a timely addition to the literature which provides a challenge to professional education both through its portrayal of a highly innovative problem based course and the rich detail of students experience which shows how a learner centred approach can impact on participants and through its location in much wider contexts of teaching and learning in professional education and in debates about the relationship between university education and professional practice Professor David Boud At a time when attention is being directed increasingly towards lifelong learning this book offers an extremely timely guide to the development of the learning skills needed to make this a reality Readable relevant and full of practical illustrations it will be widely read by educators in a variety of professional contexts Professor Patricia Broadfoot This is an important resource for all those educators and trainers in professional education seeking to improve their own practice

The Transfer of Learning Sarah Leberman, Lex McDonald, Stephanie Doyle, 2006 This book addresses a crucial issue for all involved in education and training the transfer of learning to new and different contexts Educators employers and learners face the problem of ensuring that what is learnt in the classroom is able to be adapted and used in the workplace The authors provide an accessible book on the transfer of learning which draws on multi disciplinary perspectives from education psychology and management It combines theory and practice from international research and the authors own case studies of transfer involving learners engaged in professional development and study towards qualifications The book is unique in that it adopts a phenomenological perspective and underscores the significance of the participants voices in understanding issues

workers This his autobiography is a vivid testimony to his long life dedicated to social work sociology psychotherapy and social action Born in Germany in 1933 he immigrated with his family to Palestine In the nascent state of Israel Rosenfeld very quickly made his mark on the field of social work that was still in its infancy Then through his drive determination and creativity saw it develop and mature Significantly he clarified the task of social work serving the excluded in our midst and showed how they can be enabled by social workers to improve their lives After aligning himself with ATD The Fourth World Movement he worked internationally with families living in extreme poverty and exclusion The book ends with a call to address two man made evils genocide and poverty as a world wide challenge for the future

Handbook of Research on Applying Universal Design for Learning Across Disciplines: Concepts, Case Studies, and Practical Implementation Fovet, Frederic, 2021-01-22 Universal design for learning UDL has been hailed for over a decade as a revolutionary lens that allows campuses to shift their efforts to create inclusive environments In recent years UDL has gone beyond the field of disability and been explored with regards to international and indigenous students There is now a sizable body of literature that details the benefits of implementing UDL in higher education as well as a number of emerging studies examining the strategic challenges of developing UDL across institutions There is however still a relative paucity of research discussing the transformation of instruction or assessment in concrete terms Therefore there is a necessity for research and information on UDL that has already been implemented in classrooms and the practical examples of what this process of transformation looks like The Handbook of Research on Applying Universal Design for Learning Across Disciplines Concepts Case Studies and Practical Implementation offers practical examples of UDL having successfully been embedded in courses within various disciplines and classroom formats as well as across the undergraduate and graduate sectors The chapters provide case studies and concrete examples of what the UDL reflection on practice might look like in specific faculties and departments While highlighting UDL in areas such as educational technology student engagement assignment design and inclusive education this book is ideally intended for inservice and preservice teachers administrators teacher educators higher education professors and leaders practitioners researchers academicians and students interested in the integration of UDL into strategic academic plans
