The Oxford Handbook of Neo-Latin Stefan Tilg, Sarah Knight, 2015 From the dawn of the early modern period around 1400 until the eighteenth century Latin was still the European language and its influence extended as far as Asia and the Americas At the same time the production of Latin writing exploded thanks to book printing and new literary and cultural dynamics Latin also entered into a complex interplay with the rising vernacular languages This Handbook gives an accessible survey of the main genres contexts and regions of Neo Latin as we have come to call Latin writing composed in the wake of Petrarch 1304-74 Its emphasis is on the period of Neo Latin's greatest cultural relevance from the fifteenth to the eighteenth centuries Its chapters written by specialists in the field present individual methodologies and focuses while retaining an introductory character The Handbook will be valuable to all readers wanting to orientate themselves in the immense ocean of Neo Latin literature and culture It will be particularly helpful for those working on early modern languages and literatures as well as to classicists working on the culture of ancient Rome its early modern reception and the shifting characteristics of post classical Latin language and literature Political social cultural and intellectual historians will find much relevant material in the Handbook and it will provide a rich range of material to scholars researching the history of their respective geographical areas of interest
