Reframing Abstract Expressionism Michael Leja, 1993-01-01 In the wake of World War II the paintings of Jackson Pollock Mark Rothko Barnett Newman Willem de Kooning and other New York School artists participated in a culture wide initiative to reimagine the self At a time when widely held beliefs about human nature and the human condition were coming to seem to many commentators increasingly outdated and inadequate Abstract Expressionism gave compelling visual form to a new subjectivity a new experience and idea of self In this original and wide ranging study Michael Leja argues that the interest of these artists in tapping primitive and unconscious components of self aligns them with many contemporary essayists Hollywood filmmakers journalists and popular philosophers who were turning like the artists to psychology anthropology and philosophy in the effort to reformulate individual identity Taking Pollock's paintings and their reception as a case study Leja shows that critics located in Pollock's abstract forms a web of metaphors including spatial entrapment conflicted production energy flow gendered opposition and unconsciousness that situated the paintings in mainstream cultural discourses on the individual's sense of self and identity In this interpretative frame the cultural and ideological character of the art is illuminated According to Leja Abstract Expressionism effectively enacted and represented the new conflicted layered subjectivity a feature that helps to account for the support and interest it garnered from cultural and political institutions alike

The Poetics of Slumberland Scott Bukatman, 2012-03-26 In The Poetics of Slumberland Scott Bukatman celebrates play plasmatic possibility and the life of images in cartoons comics and cinema Bukatman begins with Winsor McCay's Little Nemo in Slumberland to explore how and why the emerging media of comics and cartoons brilliantly captured a playful rebellious energy characterized by hyperbolic emotion physicality and imagination The book broadens to consider similar animated behaviors in seemingly disparate media films about Jackson Pollock Pablo Picasso and Vincent van Gogh the musical My Fair Lady and the story of Frankenstein the slapstick comedies of Jerry Lewis and contemporary comic superheroes drawing them all together as the purveyors of embodied utopias of disorder

Furthermore she argues the original Dada movement was not incompatible with Abstract Expressionism In fact Dada provided a vital historical reference for artists and critics seeking to come to terms with the radical departure from tradition that Abstract Expressionism seemed to represent Tracing the activities of artists such as Robert Motherwell Barnett Newman and Jackson Pollock alongside Marcel Duchamp s renewed embrace of Dada in the late 1940s Craft explores the challenges facing artists trying to work in the wake of a destructive world war and the paintings objects writings and installations that resulted from their efforts Jacket

Think Tank Aesthetics Pamela M. Lee,2020-03-17 How the approaches and methods of think tanks including systems theory operational research and cybernetics paved the way for a peculiar genre of midcentury modernism In Think Tank Aesthetics Pamela Lee traces the complex encounters between Cold War think tanks and the art of that era Lee shows how the approaches and methods of think tanks including systems theory operations research and cybernetics paved the way for a peculiar genre of midcentury modernism and set the terms for contemporary neoliberalism Lee casts these shadowy institutions as sites of radical creativity and interdisciplinary practice in the service of defense strategy Describing the distinctive aesthetics that emerged from such institutions as the RAND Corporation she maps the multiple and overlapping networks that connected nuclear strategists mathematicians economists anthropologists artists designers and art historians Lee recounts among other things the decades long colloquy between Albert Wohlstetter a RAND analyst and his former professor the famous art historian Meyer Schapiro the anthropologist Margaret Mead's deployment of innovative visual aids that recall midcentury abstract art and the combination of cybernetics and modernist design in an Opsroom for the short lived socialist government of Salvador Allende in 1970s Chile and its restaging many years later as a work of art Lee suggests that we think of these connections less as disciplinary border crossings than as colonization of the specific interests of arts by the approaches and methods of the sciences Hearing the echoes of think tank aesthetics in today's pursuit of the interdisciplinary and in academia's science infused justification of the humanities Lee wonders what territory has been ceded in a laboratory approach to the arts

Peter Lanyon Andrew Causey, 2013-06-01 British painter Peter Lanyon transformed the art of landscape rescuing it from picturesque depictions of the English countryside and resituating it as an art form capable of expressing radical ideas The old European tradition of landscape mostly concerned with ownership and leisure and not the daily life of the working class was of no interest to Lanyon His work instead reframed the consequences of war and industrialization upon a rapidly changing coastal landscape In Peter Lanyon Andrew Causey sets out to explain just how this transformation occurred Lanyon's family resided in West Cornwall for generations and Causey asserts that the artist's concern with regional identity along with his resistance to what he saw as a history of outsider exploitation of St Ives and the surrounding areas were integral to his art Drawing on recent work by cultural geographers anthropologists and archeologists Causey makes sense of Lanyon's relationship to the landscape and the pre capitalist economy of his region Provocative and insightful Peter Lanyon is a thoroughly illuminating examination of the modern life of a landscape artist
