Richer By Asia:

A New Geography on the Comparative Method, with Maps and Diagrams and an Outline of Commercial Geography John Miller Dow Meiklejohn, 1895 The Greening of Asia Mark L. Clifford, 2015-04-07 One of Asia's best respected writers on business and economy Hong Kong based author Mark L Clifford provides a behind the scenes look at what companies in China India Japan Korea the Philippines Indonesia Hong Kong Singapore and Thailand are doing to build businesses that will lessen the environmental impact of Asia's extraordinary economic growth Dirty air foul water and hellishly overcrowded cities are threatening to choke the region's impressive prosperity Recognizing a business opportunity in solving social problems Asian businesses have developed innovative responses to the region's environmental crises From solar and wind power technologies to green buildings electric cars water services and sustainable tropical forestry Asian corporations are upending old business models in their home countries and throughout the world Companies have the money the technology and the people to act yet as Clifford emphasizes support from the government in the form of more effective market friendly policies and the engagement of civil society are crucial for a region wide shift to greener business practices Clifford paints detailed profiles of what some of these companies are doing and includes a unique appendix that encapsulates the environmental business practices of more than fifty companies mentioned in the book The Geopolitics of Australia's Regional Relations D. Rumley, 2001-06-30 The origins of this book go back 30 years to the stimulation and interest generated by the political geography seminars led by John House at the University of Newcastle Upon Tyne I was very fortunate to graduate among its extremely capable sporty and enthusiastic class of 68 from where several academic geographers emerged Equally fortunately some of them and their predecessors had already blazed a trail to undertake graduate studies in Canada At the University of British Columbia I was supervised at different times by Julian Minghi and Victor Prescott both of whom are not only extremely capable academics but are also very fine people I owe an enormous debt to John Julian and Victor and to the British and Canadian taxpayers who provided financial support for my University studies In 1974 I began an academic career at the University of Western Australia where I have been ever since save for a two year period from 1991-3 as Professor of Australian Studies in the Department of International Relations at the University of Tokyo Viewing Australia and the Asia Pacific region from this different perspective within an extremely supportive Japanese environment had a profound impact I am especially grateful for the support provided by so many Japanese academic colleagues and friends beginning as early as 1976 Three individuals deserve special mention for their help guidance and enduring friendship George Ohshima Hiroshi Tanabe and Akihiro Kinda Richer by Asia. With a New Introduction by Robert Trumbull Edmond Taylor, 1966 Fault Lines in a Rising Asia Chung Min Lee, 2016-04-19 Asia has already risen by most hard power measures But without an understanding of the downsides of Asia's rise the conventional narrative is incomplete misleading and inaccurate Chung Min Lee explores the fundamental dichotomy that defines contemporary Asia While the region has been an unparalleled economic success it is also home to some of the world's most dangerous diverse and divisive challenges. Contrary to prevailing wisdom he says Asia's rise doesn't mean the demise of the West. Asia's rise over the past four decades is one of the most significant geopolitical and geoeconomic developments in world affairs as evinced by China's and more recently India's accelerated economic growth. Yet the conventional narrative of Asia's rise is incomplete if not misleading given the fundamental dichotomy that defines contemporary Asia: a region with unparalleled economic success but also home to the world's most dangerous diverse and divisive security, military and political challenges. How the strategically consequential Asian states manage to ameliorate or even overcome traditional geopolitical tinderboxes across the Taiwan Strait, the Korean Peninsula and the Indian subcontinent and new zones of strategic competition such as the South China Sea is to go to have a profound impact on the shaping of regional order well into the 21st century. Asia Yearbook, 1980
