The Nordic, Baltic and Visegrád Small Powers in Europe Hilmar Hilmarsson, 2023-03-10 This volume addresses and seeks to answer a number of questions on the current issues facing small states/powers in Europe. How can small European states survive and prosper within a multipolar world of great powers? What part should small states take in European integration? Are EU fiscal and monetary policies allowing for Keynesian economic stimulus when needed, and are euro area convergence criteria viable as the world recovers from the COVID-19 crisis? Are small state alliances within the EU useful to counterbalance the influence of the larger EU member states? How far should EU and NATO expansion go? Should it include countries such as Ukraine? Can the EU rely on US leadership of NATO for its security? How should small states relate to great powers seeking to influence Europe, most notably the US, the People's Republic of China, and the Russian Federation? Do smaller states need to choose a single ally among the major powers? Using an interdisciplinary approach, the author discusses issues of economic policy, international relations, and politics, economic and political integration, as well as the effects of global and regional institutions and priorities in bilateral development cooperation, demonstrating how policies are shaped by the interaction between small states, small powers, and large states/great powers.

Sustainable History and Human Dignity Nayef R.F. Al-Rodhan, 2022-01-27 Sustainable History and the Dignity of Man is a new philosophy of history This volume outlines how sustainable history is propelled by good governance which balances the tension between the attributes of human nature emotionality amorality and egoisms and human dignity needs such as reason security human rights accountability transparency justice opportunity innovation and inclusiveness The author proposes minimum criteria for good governance that are sensitive to local cultures and histories but meet certain common global values to ensure maximum and sustainable moral and political cooperation Using an ocean model of a single collective human civilisation the author argues that we should think in terms of a common human story that is comprised of multiple geo cultural domains and sub cultures with a history of mutual borrowing and synergies The author argues that today all geo cultural domains must succeed if humanity as a whole is to triumph This collective triumph will also depend on reason and a recognition that a great deal of knowledge is indeterminate and may be temporally spatially and perhaps culturally constrained as is outlined in the author s new theory of knowledge Neuro rational Physicalism Dr Nayef R F Al Rodhan is Senior Scholar in Geostrategy and Director of the Programme on the Geopolitical Implications of Globalisation and Transnational Security at the Geneva Centre for Security Policy Geneva Switzerland This book is an exceptionally wide ranging examination of past and present approaches to the securing of a qualitatively adequate social life on the planet The need for intercultural dialogue is pressing and stated as a matter of urgency in the text That argument is well presented and it is helpfully accompanied by a large amount of empirical evidence The book is also a strong and ethically attractive humanist statement about the value of human interaction that incorporates a vision of mutual respect based on a mixture of scientific arguments and normative aspirations Those features are very impressive Professor Michael Freeden Professor of Politics Director of the Centre for Political Ideologies Professorial Fellow Mansfield College University of Oxford United Kingdom

Globalization of Unequal National Economies Adam Zwass, 2020-07-24 As the Seattle protests over the formation of the WTO showed all too clearly there is a strong need for in depth understanding of how the globalization of the world economy is affecting the economic political and social development of the individual nation states This book provides a detailed and authoritative examination of the on going issues related to globalization such as the increasingly unfair distribution of the world s resources and how this phenomenon is involving wildly disparate countries While the main focus of the book is the United States with its flexible markets wide social differences and its breath taking level of economic expansion extensive attention is also given to the other major players including the European Union and those central and eastern European nations who very much want to become member countries as well as China India Japan Russia and Southeast Asia
