Handbook of Long-Term Care Administration and Policy Cynthia Massie Mara, Laura Olson, 2008-03-27 Attitudes toward long term care contain a strong residue of negativity in today's society and current problems with the system augment such perceptions Unless dealt with now this will only get worse as the 85 and older crowd is the fastest growing part of the population and the first wave of Baby Boomers is approaching 60

Exploring and delineating Community Care for Older People Susan Tester, 1996-03-06 This accessible textbook compares ways in which basic components of community care are funded organised and provided by governmental and non governmental agencies allowing practitioners and policy makers to learn from the experiences of their counterparts in Europe and North America

Legislative Agenda for an Aging Society, 1988 and Beyond, 1988 Residential Care for the Elderly Sharon Baggett, 1989-09-25 Although residential care and assisted living for older adults has expanded rapidly in recent decades it has done so in a policy environment beset by confusion and conflicting purposes Sharon A Baggett traces many of the current problems to insufficient knowledge of the population these policies are designed to serve In her examination of the frequently neglected interface between policy and people she provides a comprehensive review of current federal and state policies a detailed case study of a state residential care program and an analysis of the needs and characteristics of persons in assisted living facilities Baggett s policy overview covers such areas as the confusion between housing and care supply and demand factors in the economics of residential care conditions contributing to the increase in numbers of assisted living facilities and current policies that define and limit the choice of residential alternatives A case study of Oregon s residential care program shows how that state has adapted federal initiatives to local goals and philosophies of long term care Funding mechanisms regulations and the role of state agencies in developing and monitoring compliance are discussed Following a comprehensive profile of facility residents the question of using functional assessment measures to determine individual needs is explored Linking the larger policy issues with an in depth analysis of residents served and actual services provided this book will be helpful to policy planners and developers administrators and case managers as well as students and academics concerned with housing and assisted living services for the elderly
