The Mourner's Song James Tatum, 2018-10-30 No matter when or where they are fought all wars have one thing in common a relentless progression to monuments and memorials for the dead Likewise all art made from war begins and ends in mourning and remembrance In The Mourner's Song James Tatum offers incisive discussions of physical and literary memorials constructed in the wake of war from the Vietnam Veterans Memorial to the writings of Stephen Crane Edmund Wilson Tim O'Brien and Robert Lowell Tatum's touchstone throughout is the Iliad not just one of the earliest war poems but also one of the most powerful examples of the way poetry can be a tribute to and consolation for what is lost in war Reading the Iliad alongside later works inspired by war Tatum reveals how the forms and processes of art convert mourning to memorial He examines the role of remembrance and the distance from war it requires the significance of landscape in memorialization the artifacts of war that fire the imagination the intimate relationship between war and love and its effects on the ferocity with which soldiers wage battle and finally the idea of memorialization itself Because all survivors suffer the losses of war Tatum's is a story of both victims and victors commanders and soldiers women and men Photographs of war memorials in Vietnam France and the United States beautifully augment his testimonials Eloquent and deeply moving The Mourner's Song will speak to anyone interested in the literature of war and the relevance of the classics to our most pressing contemporary needs

Apennine Crossings Nick Havely, 2024-07-12 The Apennines are Italy exclaimed The Examiner two centuries ago yet this unique region and its striking literary and cultural connections are underappreciated in the English speaking world Apennine Crossings Travellers on the Edge of Tuscany links a twenty first century journey in the mountains of Northern Italy to past writers routes and travellers It follows the modern long distance walking trail of the Great Apennine Excursion whilst moving back and forth in time from the Middle Ages to World War Two and from the journeys of pilgrims merchants and tourists to those of soldiers partisans and poets Stories of past travellers in the region continually intersect with a contemporary account of a walk across the ridge of the Northern Apennines Alongside Nick Havely s present day narrator and traveller the cast of characters includes major writers and poets such as Dante Montaigne Goethe Shelley and Stendhal together with a multitude of less well known figures whose journeys experiences and responses cast new light on a landscape that is close to yet remote from the sites typically visited by modern travellers to Italy Havely draws these earlier travellers stories from a wide range of published and unpublished sources such as letters journals memoirs poems and interviews Together they illustrate several significant themes the histories of mountain passes remote lakes and ancient sanctuaries perceptions of the mountains the social and religious culture of the Northern Apennines the preoccupations of literary tourism the impact of campaigns and conflict during World War Two and the effects of depopulation and deforestation The Apennine region features in its full literary historical and cultural richness Included are twenty six illustrations with maps for the whole route and for the sections covered by each of the book s seven chapters

War, Massacre, and Recovery in Central Italy, 1943-1948

Victoria Belco,2010-01-01 The Second World War wreaked unprecedented devastation throughout Europe necessitating monumental reconstruction efforts that burdened not only governments but the lives of ordinary citizens War Massacre and Recovery in Central Italy 1943 1948 examines this transitional period in the province of Arezzo by detailing the daily experiences of civilians through the traumas of war and the difficulties of recovery Studying the aftermath of war in a new and insightful way Victoria C Belco shifts the perspective from the national to the local level With this localized focus she provides valuable insight into the ways in which civilians coped with an overwhelming range of problems from adjusting to Allied occupation and widespread displacement to rampant unemployment and the restructuring of local administrations and institutions after fascism Recreating the post war atmosphere of disorder need and political upheaval Belco shows how the competing community interests caused social fragmentations that impeded change while the unity of a shared past prevented civil war
