Standards-Based Technology and Engineering Education Scott R. Bartholomew, Marie Hoepfl, P. John Williams, 2023-11-01
This book brings together authors from around the world to discuss the Standards for Technological and Engineering Literacy The Role of Technology and Engineering in STEM Education STEL released in July 2020 by the International Technology and Engineering Educators Association ITEEA The various chapters examine and elaborate on how educators must understand the structure of the standards used and their alignment with educational programs at specific levels and contexts both in the context of the USA and internationally It also showcases case studies analyzing the use of standards in their various contexts from a number of countries which have either adapted STEL or which have national Standards in Technology Education The STEL represents a major update to the content standards that has guided the field of technology education and later technology and engineering education in the USA since 2000 In contrast to previous standards STEL presents a substantial reduction in the number of standards and associated benchmarks and the benchmarks have been operationalized to identify the key knowledge skills and dispositions associated with each standard It also emphasizes a focus on core standards that should allow for deeper levels of understanding and engagement on the part of students who in comprehensive educational programs will continue to revisit these core standards in increasingly sophisticated ways as they progress from Pre K through Grade 12 arrangements In this process three challenges emerge for water governance to become adaptive to environmental change First is the need for legal reform to remove barriers to adaptive governance by authorizing government agencies to prepare for windows of opportunity through adaptive planning and to institutionalize the results of innovative solutions that arise once a window opens Second is the need for legal reform to give government agencies the authority to facilitate and participate in adaptive management and governance This must be accompanied by parallel legal reform to assure that engagement of private and economic actors and the increase in governmental flexibility does not destabilize basin economies or come at the expense of legitimacy accountability equity and justice Third development of means to continually assess thresholds and resilience of social ecological systems and the adaptive capacity of their current governance to structure actions at multiple scales The massive investment in water infrastructure on the river basins studied has improved the agricultural urban and economic sectors largely at the cost of other social and environmental values Today the infrastructure is aging and in need of substantial investment for those benefits to continue and adapt to ongoing environmental changes The renewal of institutions and heavily engineered water systems also presents the opportunity to modernize these systems to address inequity and align with the values and objectives of the 21st century Creative approaches are needed to transform and modernize water governance that increases the capacity of these water based social ecological systems to innovate adapt and learn will provide the tools needed to navigate an uncertain future
