Hut Pavilion Shrine: Architectural Archetypes in Mid-Century Modernism Miles David Samson, 2016-03-09 The phase of American architectural history we call mid century modernism 1940 1980 saw the spread of Modern Movement tenets of functionalism social service and anonymity into mainstream practice It also saw the spread of their seeming opposites Temples arcades domes and other traditional types occur in both modernist and traditionalist forms from the 1950s to the 1970s Hut Pavilion Shrine examines this crossroads of modernism and the archetypal and critiques its buildings and theory The book centers on one particularly important and omnipresent type the pavilion a type which was the basis of major work by Louis I Kahn Paul Rudolph Philip Johnson Minoru Yamasaki and other eminent architects While focusing primarily on the architecture culture of the United States it also includes the work of British European Team X and Scandinavian designers and writers Making connections between formal analysis historical context and theory the book continues lines of inquiry which have been pursued by Neil Levine and Anthony Vidler on representation and by Sarah Goldhagen and Alice Friedman on modernism's forbidden elements of the honorific and the visually pleasurable It highlights the significance of pavilionizing mid century designers such as Victor Lundy John Johansen Eero Saarinen and Edward Durrell Stone and shows how frequently essentialist and traditionalist types appeared in the roadside vernacular of drive in restaurants gas stations furniture and car showrooms branch banks and motels The book ties together the threads in mid century architectural theory that addressed aspects of type essential structure and primal humanistic aspects of environment making and discusses how these concerns outlived the mid century moment and in the designs and writings of Aldo Rossi and others they paved the way for Post Modernism

The Man in the Glass House Mark Lamster,2018-11-06 A smoothly written and fair minded Wall Street Journal biography of architect Philip Johnson a finalist for the National Book Critic s Circle Award When Philip Johnson died in 2005 at the age of 98 he was still one of the most recognizable and influential figures on the American cultural landscape The first recipient of the Pritzker Prize and MoMA s founding architectural curator Johnson made his mark as one of America s leading architects with his famous Glass House in New Caanan CT and his controversial AT T Building in NYC among many others in nearly every city in the country but his most natural role was as a consummate power broker and shaper of public opinion Johnson introduced European modernism the sleek glass and steel architecture that now dominates our cities to America and mentored generations of architects designers and artists to follow He defined the era of starchitecture with its flamboyant buildings and celebrity designers who esteemed aesthetics and style above all other concerns But Johnson was also a man of deep paradoxes he was a Nazi sympathizer a designer of synagogues an enfant terrible into his old age a populist and a snob His clients ranged from the Rockefellers to televangelists to Donald Trump Award winning architectural critic and biographer Mark Lamster s The Man in the Glass House lifts the veil on Johnson s controversial and endlessly contradictory life to tell the story of a charming yet deeply flawed man A rollercoaster tale of the perils of wealth privilege and ambition this book probes the dynamics of American culture that made him so powerful and tells the story of the built environment in modern America
