Mary Kingsley A Reassessment:

Mary Kingsley John Edgar Flint, Institute of Commonwealth studies (Londres), 1963 Mary Kingsley - a Reassessment John E. Flint, 1963 Mary Kingsley Dea Birkett, 1992-02-11 Victorian traveller Mary Kingsley has been portrayed as a victim of nineteenth century attitudes towards women a brave and daring explorer an anti imperialist agitator and even a feminist heroine In this challenging and controversial new biography Dea Birkett breaks through the shallow clichs which have defined this extraordinary female figure to frame a new image of the traveller as actively constructing her own history For the first time Mary Kingsley is seen as responding to and part of her time English Prose of the Nineteenth Century Hilary Fraser, Daniel Brown, 2017-07-12 Hilary Fraser provides a comprehensive and thorough survey of English prose in the nineteenth century which draws from a wide variety of fields including art literary theory and criticism biography letters journals sermons and travel reportage Through these works the cultural social literary and political life of the twentieth century a period of great intellectual activity can be charted discussed and assessed For the first time an inclusive critical survey of nineteenth century non fiction is presented that traces the century s ideological and cultural upheavals as they are registered in the literary textures of some of its most widely read and influential writings The book explores the relations between writers who are generally perceived as occupying different discursive spheres for example between John Stuart Mill Florence Nightingale and Mrs Beeton between Cardinal Newman Elizabeth Gaskell and Hannah Cullwick and between Charles Darwin David Livingstone and Henry Mayhew The establishment and development of different genres and their interactions over the century are clearly mapped The genre of the periodical essay a distinctively modern and flexible form catering to the mass readership is the subject of the introduction and then more specialist fields are discussed covering scientific writing travel and exploration literature social reportage biography autobiography journals letters religious and philosophical prose political writing and history Mary Kingsley Robert D. Pearce, 1990 Mary Kingsley (1862-1900) Dea Birkett, 1993 Imperial Desire Philip Holden, Richard R. Ruppel, 2003 West African Studies Mary Kingsley, 2013-04-03 Contains important eye witness accounts by English traders who had many years experience in the Delta area British Humanitarianism and the Congo Reform Movement, 1896-1913 Dean Pavlakis, 2016-03-09 The Congo Free State was under the personal rule of King Leopold II of the Belgians from 1885 to 1908 The accolades that attended its founding were soon contested by accusations of brutality oppression and murderous misrule but the controversy by itself proved insufficient to prompt changes Starting in 1896 concerned men and women used public opinion to influence government policy in Britain and the United States to create space for reforming forces in Belgium itself to pry the Congo from Leopold s grasp and implement reforms Examining key factors in the successes and failures of a pivotal movement that aided the colonized people of the Congo and broadened the idea of human rights British Humanitarianism and the Congo Reform Movement provides a valuable update to scholarship on the history of humanitarianism in Africa The Congo Reform movement built on the institutional experience of overseas humanitarianism the energy of evangelical political involvement and innovations in racial imperial and nationalist discourse to create political energy Often portrayed as the efforts of a few key people especially E D Morel this book demonstrates that the movement increasingly manifested itself as an institutionalized and transnational campaign with support from key government officials that ultimately made a material difference to the lives of the people of the Congo

19th Century Female Explorers Caroline Roope, 2025-08-05 As any historian will testify a nineteenth century woman's place was very much at home Or was it For a lucky and plucky few who had a little determination and the ability to withstand lice infestations climbing mountains in corsets rascally guides and occasional certain death as well as the raised eyebrows of the society they left behind then the world really was their oyster In this lively re telling of twenty two extraordinary ladies who did just that Caroline Roope invites you to journey to the further corners of the earth along with them From humble missionary Annie Royle Taylor who knew God would keep her safe to the haughty aristocrat Lady Hester Stanhope who defied convention and dressed as a Turkish man including pistol knife and turban their collective voices still resonate hundreds of years later Drawing on their original accounts and archival sources this expertly researched book brings to light a wealth of stories that are full of grit sometimes literally courage and just enough humor to wish we'd been there with them on their adventures on the other side of the horizon So pack a suitcase along with a good thick skirt la Mary Kingsley and prepare to go beyond the garden gate

European Women and the Second British Empire Margaret Strobel, 1991 It enhances our understanding of intracultural and cross cultural relationships and raises significant questions about the complexities of the colonial phenomenon in the modern era Journal of World History

Imperialism and Human Rights Bonny Ibhawoh, 2008-01-03 2007 CHOICE Outstanding Academic Title In this seminal study Bonny Ibhawoh investigates the links between European imperialism and human rights discourses in African history Using British colonized Nigeria as a case study he examines how diverse interest groups within colonial society deployed the language of rights and liberties to serve varied socioeconomic and political ends Ibhawoh challenges the linear progressivism that dominates human rights scholarship by arguing that in the colonial African context rights discourses were not simple monolithic or progressive narratives They served both to insulate and legitimize power just as much as they facilitated transformative processes Drawing extensively on archival material this book shows how the language of rights like that of civilization and modernity became an important part of the discourses deployed to rationalize and legitimize empire

Critics of Empire Bernard Porter, 2007-10-24 The notion of empire has been at the forefront of world politics for over a century Bernard Porter's landmark work traces the critical response to the British imperial project in the years leading up to World War I Imperial adventures including the intervention in Egypt and the Anglo Boer War together with the jingoistic clamour that surrounded them attracted powerful hostility as well as support Criticism of Empire is the subject of Porter's stimulating book Long regarded as the classic account the author has now added a substantial new

Introduction He demonstrates the power and influence of major critics such as J A Hobson the acknowledged creator of the capitalist theory of imperialism E D Morel and Mary Kingsley and of organisations like the Congo Reform Association With themes which are also highly relevant to the present day discourse on the American empire this book will prove essential reading for all students of imperial and international history Edward Wilmot Blyden Hollis R. ›Crisis of Whiteness‹ in the ›Heart of Darkness‹ Felix Lösing, 2021-01-12 The British and American Congo Reform Movement ca 1890 1913 has been praised extensively for its heroic confrontation of colonial atrocities in the Congo Free State Its commitment to white supremacy and colonial domination however continues to be overlooked denied or trivialised This historical sociological study argues that racism was the ideological cornerstone and formed the main agenda of this first major human rights campaign of the 20th century Through a thorough analysis of contemporary sources Felix L sing unmasks the colonial and racist formation of the modern human rights discourse and investigates the historical work of racism at a crossroads between imperial power and white crisis Victorian Travel Writing and Imperial Violence Laura E. Franey, 2003-10-14 This study explores the cultural and political impact of Victorian travelers descriptions of physical and verbal violence in Africa Travel narratives provide a rich entry into the shifting meanings of colonialism as formal imperialism replaced informal control in the Nineteenth century Offering a wide ranging approach to travel literature s significance in Victorian life this book features analysis of physical and verbal violence in major exploration narratives as well as lesser known volumes and newspaper accounts of expeditions It also presents new perspectives on Olive Schreiner and Joseph Conrad by linking violence in their fictional travelogues with the rhetoric of humanitarian trusteeship Cassidy et al.: Women and Empire, 1750-1939, Vol. III Elizabeth Dimock, 2021-12-24 First published in 2008 Women and Empire 1750 1939 functions to extend significantly the range of the History of Feminism series co published by Routledge and Edition Synapse bringing together the histories of British and American women s emancipation represented in earlier sets into juxtaposition with histories produced by different kinds of imperial and colonial governments The alignment of writings from a range of Anglo imperial contexts reveals the overlapping histories and problems while foregrounding cultural specificities and contextual inflections of imperialism The volumes focus on countries regions or continents formerly colonized in part by Britain Volume I Australia Volume II New Zealand Volume III Africa Volume IV India Volume V Canada Perhaps the most novel aspect of this collection is its capacity to highlight the common aspects of the functions of empire in their impact on women and their production of gender and conversely to demonstrate the actual specificity of particular regional manifestations Concerning questions of power gender class and race this new Routledge Edition Synapse Major Work will be of particular interest to scholars and students of imperialism colonization women s history and women s writing Gender, Geography and Empire Cheryl McEwan, 2019-06-03 This title was first published 2000 This text is intended to draw together two important developments in contemporary geography firstly the recognition of the need to write critical histories of geographical thought and particularly the relationship between modern geography and European imperialism and secondly the attempt by feminist geographers to countervail the absence of women in the histories The author focuses on the narratives of British women travellers in West Africa between 1840 and 1915 exploring their contributions to British imperial culture the ways in which they were empowered in the imperial context by virtue of both race and class and their various representations of West African landscapes and peoples The book argues for the inclusion of women and their experiences in histories of geographical thought and explores the possibilities and problems of combining feminist and post colonial approaches to these histories
