Masochism Jill D. Montgomery, Ann C. Greif, 1989 Delineates a point of view about masochism through clinical narrative Chapters cover patients diagnosed as neurotic character disordered borderline narcissistic and schizophrenic Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR When the Body Is the Target Sharon Klayman Farber, 2002-11-05 In this comprehensive and insightful work Dr Sharon K Farber provides an invaluable resource for the mental health professional who is struggling to understand self harm and its origins Using attachment theory to explain how addictive connections to pain and suffering develop she discusses various kinds and functions of self harm behavior From eating disorders to body modifications such as tattooing Dr Farber explores the language of self harm and the translation of that language and its psychic functions in the therapeutic setting She tells us When the body weeps tears of blood we need to wonder what terrible sorrows cannot be spoken Brilliantly illustrated with rich clinical material this book offers a practical approach to the diagnosis assessment and treatment of the increasing number of patients whose emotions are expressed through bodily harm The challenges of working with patients who tend to view the world of relationships in terms of predator and prey are clearly explicated and the stormy countertransference responses that threaten to destroy the treatment are given a full hearing Finally she shows how the attachment relationship formed in treatment can repair the traumatic attachment in mind body psyche and soul and can serve as the cornerstone of therapeutic change A Jason Aronson Book Wounds of Love Frank Graziano, 2004-01-15 The Peruvian mystic St Rose of Lima Isabel Flores y Oliva 1586 1617 was canonized in 1671 as the first saint of the New World and remains the object of widespread devotion today In this engrossing new study Frank Graziano uses the example of St Rose to explore the meaning of female mysticism and the way in which saints are products of their cultures Virginité austerity eucharistic devotion incessant mortification and mystical marriage to Christ characterized the devotional regimen that structured St Rose's entire life Many of her mystical practices echo the symptoms of such modern psychological disorders as masochism depression hysteria and anorexia nervosa Graziano offers a sophisticated argument not only for the origins and meaning of these behaviors in Rose's case but also for the reason her culture venerated them as signs of sanctity In the process he explores a wide range of themes from the idea of suffering as an expression of love to the assimilation of childhood trauma through religious repetition Graziano also offers a penetrating analysis of the politics of Rose's canonization He finds that her mystical union with God bypassing the institutional channels of sacrament and priestly mediation was inherently subversive to the bureaucratized Church Canonization was a cooptation by which Rose's competing claim to Christ was integrated into the Catholic canon The book concludes with a fascinating exploration of mystical eroticism with its intense experiences of vision and ecstasy The eroticized suffering of many mystics is shown to be very human in origin the mystic's wounded love is projected onto a God conceived to accommodate it Wounds of Love is based on a decade of research in archives rare books and an extraordinary range of secondary sources Introducing an innovative method that integrates history cultural studies psychoanalysis and clinical psychology this compelling work offers a bold new interpretation of female mysticism The Masochistic Pleasures of Sentimental Literature Marianne Noble,2000-04-04 For generations critics have noticed in nineteenth century American women s sentimentality a streak of masochism but their discussions of it have over simplified its complex relationship to women s power Marianne Noble argues that tropes of eroticized domination in sentimental literature must be recognized for what they were a double edged sword of both oppression and empowerment She begins by exploring the cultural forces that came together to create this ideology of desire particularly Protestant discourses relating suffering to love and middle class discourses of true womanhood She goes on to demonstrate how sentimental literature takes advantage of the expressive power in the convergence of these two discourses to imagine women s romantic desire Therefore in sentimental literature images of eroticized domination are not antithetical to female pleasure but rather can be constitutive of it The book however does not simply celebrate that fact In readings of Warner s The Wide Wide World Stowe s Uncle Tom s Cabin and Dickinson s sentimental poetry it addresses the complex benefits and costs of nineteenth century women s literary masochism Ultimately it shows how these authors both exploited and were shaped by this discursive practice The Masochistic Pleasures of Sentimental Literature exemplifies new trends in Third Wave feminist scholarship presenting cultural and historical research informed by clear lucid discussions of psychoanalytic and literary theory It demonstrates that contemporary theories of masochism including those of Deleuze Bataille Kristeva Benjamin Bersani Noyes Mansfield are more relevant and comprehensible when considered in relation to sentimental literature The Persistence of Purgatory Richard K. Fenn,1995 Richard K Fenn focuses on the significance of time in modern society and why we take it so seriously He traces contemporary western attitudes toward time back to the doctrine and myth of Purgatory Fenn makes a provocative case that especially for Americans the sense of the scarcity of time is a sign of social character shaped by a purgatorial complex He demonstrates the impact of Purgatory on Protestant preachers such as Baxter and Channing but also argues that Locke s views of religion education and the nature of the state can only be understood in this context Seriousness about time has become evidence of the good faith of the citizen Novelists like Robbins Mailer Vonnegut and Brautigan portray a society that oppresses the individual through time constraints For Dickens America seemed a purgatorial wasteland a place where time is always of the essence Journal of Contemporary Psychotherapy, 1991 Female Psychology Eleanor Schuker,Nadine A. Levinson,2020-09-23 This book provides a psychoanalytic perspective on female psychology and includes articles with divergent theoretical viewpoints It is useful for both research and clinical study and may also provide a bridge to scholars teachers and clinicians outside of psychoanalysis itself Violent Attachments Reid J. Meloy,1997-02-01 This ebook is now available from Bloomsbury Academic Bloomsbury Academic publish acclaimed resources for undergraduate and postgraduate courses as well as the general reader across a broad range of subjects including Archaeology Art Visual Culture Biblical Studies Business Management Drama Performance

Body Talk Jane M. Ussher, 1997 Psychology has traditionally examined human experience from a realist perspective focusing on observable facts This is especially so in areas of psychology which focus on the body such as sexuality madness or reproduction In contrast many sociologists anthropologists and feminists have focused exclusively on the cultural and communicative aspects of the body treating it purely as an object constructed within socio cultural discourse This new collection of sophisticated discursive analyses explores this divide from a variety of theoretical standpoints including psychoanalysis social representations theory feminist theory critical realism post structuralism and social constructionism Body Talk reconciles the divide by putting forward a new materialist discursive approach It also provides an introduction to social constructionist and discursive approaches which is accessible to those with limited previous knowledge of socio linguistic theory and showcases the distinctive contribution that psychologists can make to the field

Between Winnicott and Lacan Lewis A. Kirshner, 2011-03-25 D W Winnicott and Jacques Lacan two of the most innovative and important psychoanalytic theorists since Freud are also seemingly the most incompatible And yet in different ways both men emphasized the psychic process of becoming a subject or of developing a separate self and both believed in the possibility of a creative reworking or new beginning for the person seeking psychoanalytic help The possibility of working between their contrasting perspectives on a central issue for psychoanalysis the nature of the human subject and how it can be approached in analytic work is explored in this book Their differences are critically evaluated with an eye toward constructing a more effective psychoanalytic practice that takes both relational and structural linguistic aspects of subjectivity into account The contributors address the Winnicott Lacan relationship itself and the evolution of their ideas and provide detailed examples of how they have been utilized in psychoanalytic work with patients Contributors Jeanne Wolff Bernstein James Gorney Andre Green Mardi Ireland Lewis Kirshner Deborah Luepnitz Mari Ruti Alain Vanier Francois Villa

Fenn, 2001 In his new book Richard Fenn looks at the way in which we experience time in a secular society He argues that secularization is virtually synonymous with individualism Fenn shows that the Church created the idea of individualism through its demystification of the universe its insistence on individual self discipline and its intensification of individual responsibility for the use of time Required to take responsibility for his or her own standing in the eyes of God the individual emerged from the protection of the Church into the full current of time No longer protected by Providence or connected to Eternity our lives have become radically temporal and contingent Fenn explores the modern experience of time as expressed in such phrases as wasting time and making up for lost time In particular he is interested in the idea of waiting which he believes is a defining characteristic of modern life He also argues that the secularization of time produced anxiety about death and shows the various strategies we have created for dealing with this anxiety Beautifully written and thoughtfully argued this volume raises the secularization debate to a new level of depth and sophistication The
