Mass Media Unleashed Carl R. Ramey, 2007 Everyone complains about mass media but only the FCC and Congress are expressly empowered to do something about it and that's why America deserves better from its media policymakers Mass Media Unleashed touches on the key issues stirring the current debate over mass media policy such as consolidation the steady dismantling of regulatory standards the roles mass media must play but increasingly fail to perform in today's helter skelter world and the vastly different ways these media are now delivered to and used by busy on the go Americans Carl Ramey a long time Washington communications lawyer has observed the policymaking process up close and personal for thirty years Warning that time is running out for taking actions that will make a real difference Ramey shines a critical light on the massive transformation of government policy that has taken place since 1980 and has led to vast changes in today's electronic media more consolidation less public service and everything ruled by the bottom line Before the game is over Washington policymakers must step to the plate and hit a home run for America scrapping the old regulatory system and writing an entirely new policy script that for the first time is specifically designed to guarantee a broadcast service that is free local and dedicated to serving Americans as citizens not just as consumers This provocative read is a must for everyone concerned about mass media's responsibilities and the policies that shape them

New York Times Co. v. Sullivan Forty Years Later W. Wat Hopkins, 2017-10-03 The need to protect free speech on matters of governing importance more than any other element of government is the defining factor of a free society Nowhere in the law is that prospect more clearly explained than in the opinion in Times v. Sullivan This special issue provides an example of the breadth and scope of Times v. Sullivan and the ways in which the case continues to impact the jurisprudence of free expression It is introduced by two essays designed to provide an overview of the case providing insights into the origins of the dispute the Court was called upon to settle The next four articles are testimony to breadth the opinion in this case particularly dealing with aspects not often considered Combined they all demonstrate the lasting significance of what may be the most important free expression case the Court has delivered

Gertz V. Robert Welch, Inc Elmer Gertz, 1992 Elmer Gertz recalls his long battle in what legal scholars regard as the second most important libel case in legal history Gertz v Robert Welch Inc Gertz's ordeal began in Chicago during the violent peace demonstrations of 1968. A youth, Ronald Nelson, was killed by a Chicago policeman, Richard Nuccio. Gertz represented the Nelson family in civil suits against Nuccio and the Chicago police department. After Nuccio was convicted of murder, the John Birch Society published an article in its journal American Opinion claiming that Nuccio was framed by Communists. Gertz was targeted as a prime Communist instigator. After reading and studying the article, Gertz filed suit against Robert Welch Inc, charging that it had defamed him by publishing highly harmful lies impugning his reputation and patriotism. Gertz writes in detail of his landmark case which involved two trials, two reviews in the court of appeals, and two battles in the Supreme Court. Although the case was finally decided in April 1981 when a U.S. district court jury awarded him 100,000 compensatory damages and 300,000 punitive damages, Gertz did not receive payment until May 1983 after Robert Welch Inc had filed two unsuccessful appeals.
