Negotiation In International Conflict Understanding Persuasion:

Negotiation in International Conflict Deborah Goodwin, 2002 This work explores the application and structure of negotiation within existing international conflicts and assesses the effectiveness or otherwise of such forms of dispute resolution It examines the role of negotiation and the skills required by any practitioner in the field Negotiation in International Conflict Deborah Goodwin, 2002 This work explores the application and structure of negotiation within existing international conflicts and assesses the effectiveness or otherwise of such forms of dispute resolution It examines the role of negotiation and the skills required by any practitioner in the field Grassroots Activism of Ancient China Hung-yok Ip, 2022-02-24 This book examines Mohism as a movement in early China focusing on the Mohists pursuit of power Fashioning themselves as grassroots activists the Mohists hoped to impact the elite by gaining entry in its community and influencing it from within To create a less violent world they deployed strategies of persuasion and negotiation but did not discard counterviolence in their dealings with the ruling class In executing their activism the Mohists produced knowledge that allowed them to hone their nonviolent strategies as well as to mount armed resistance to aggression In addition the Mohists paid significant attention to the issue of personhood constructing a self cultivation tradition unsparing in its demands for overcoming human conditions that would impede their performance as activists This book situates Mohism in the history of nonviolent activism and in that of negotiation and conflict resolution Conflict Management and Resolution Ho-Won Jeong, 2009-12-04 Conflict Management and Resolution provides students with an overview of the main theories of conflict management and conflict resolution and will equip them to respond to the complex phenomena of international conflict The book covers these four key concepts in detail negotiation mediation facilitation reconciliation It examines how to prevent manage and eventually resolve various types of conflict that originate from inter state and inter group competition and expands the existing scope of conflict management and resolution theories by examining emerging theories on the identity power and structural dimensions of adversarial relationships The volume is designed to enhance our understanding of effective response strategies to conflict in multiple social settings as well as violent struggles and utilizes numerous case studies both past and current These include the Iranian and North Korean nuclear weapons programmes the war in Lebanon the Arab Israeli conflict civil wars in Africa and ethnic conflicts in Europe and Asia This book will be essential reading for all students of conflict management and resolution mediation peacekeeping peace and conflict studies and International Relations in general Ho Won Jeong is Professor of Conflict Analysis and Resolution George Mason University USA He has published nine books in the field of international relations peace and conflict studies He is also a senior editor of the International Journal of Peace Studies Constructive Interventions L. Kirchhoff, 2008-05-16 In the contemporary discipline of conflict resolution adjudication and alternative dispute resolution ADR are often seen as antagonistic trends This important book contends that on the contrary it is the bringing together of these trends that holds the most promise for an effective system of international justice With great insight and passion built firmly on a vast knowledge of the field Lars Kirchhoff exposes the contemporary structural barriers to effective conflict resolution defining where adjudication ends and ADR and particularly the recent development of mediated third party intervention from an art to a veritable science must come into play The work starts by defining the challenges potentials and shortcomings of different approaches to conflict resolution in an interdependent world where the multiplicity of actors topics and interests involved even in seemingly bilateral conflict situations is clearly manifest and goes on to define useful models and connect the various elements relevant for the resolution of conflicts in a transparent way In the course of its investigation the book accomplishes the following illustrates the various departure points and perspectives scholars of conflict resolution have taken as the basis for their work discusses who should become involved in conflicts as a third party and by which techniques this should occur systematically conveys the nature and consequences of intervention through mediation focusing on the method s critical challenges and clarifies the particular model of international mediation under development through UN initiatives In approaching these intertwined topics the author draws concrete conclusions for the realms of international law and related disciplines as well as for the organizational context of the United Nations He explores such diverse scenarios as conflicts between States conflicts involving international organizations and in accordance with the changing parameters of international law even conflicts involving individuals clarifying which constellations can be tackled by international mediation and which conflicts should be dealt with by other forms of diplomacy or adjudication It is the conviction of many intermediaries and scholars that the considerable potential inherent in resolving conflicts peacefully is rarely put into practice Although some of the reasons for this phenomenon are beyond the influence of scholarly debate in many instances the reasons for failure of peaceful resolution processes are more structural or systemic in nature It is the great virtue of this book that it establishes enough clarity in an unclear and complex field to make concrete and workable recommendations in these instances and for that reason it will be of immeasurable value and benefit to all scholars policymakers and activists dedicated to the pursuit of peace

Evaluating Peacekeeping Missions Sarah-Myriam Martin- Brûlé, 2016-07-15 This book offers a new perspective on peace missions in intra state wars based on comparative field research In theoretical terms this book proposes a new definition of peace operation success based on two crucial elements the re establishment of order and the accomplishment of the mandate The work presents a new typology for assessing peace operations as failures partial failures partial successes or successes This focus on blurry outcomes provides a clearer theoretical framework to understand what constitutes successful peace operations It explains the different outcomes of peace operations based on the type of success failure by outlining the effect s of the combination of the key ingredients strategy and the type of interveners Empirically this book tests the saliency of the theoretical framework by examining the peace operations which took place in Somalia Sierra Leone and Liberia This book refutes the classification of these three cases as the worst context for transitional politics and demonstrates that peace operations may succeed partially or totally in challenging contexts and that the diverse outcomes are better explained by the type of intervener and the strategy employed than by the type of context This work shows that for a peace operation in an intra state war the adoption of a deterrence strategy works best for re establishing order while the involvement of a great power facilitates the accomplishment of the mandate This book will be of much interest to students of peacekeeping conflict resolution civil wars security studies and IR in general The Military and Negotiation Deborah Goodwin, 2004-11-23 A new investigation of the role of the modern soldier diplomat and the nature of military negotiation in comparison with negotiation in other key contexts This new book presents a detailed analysis of the role of the military in current operations as negotiators and liaison workers in the field It shows how very few in the academic world are writing on this specific role of the military and the nature of negotiation in this situation and such a volatile context This publication is a first in this context and has a keen audience in light of the current world order This study breaks new ground in analyzing the nature of military negotiation in relation to more generic forms of negotiation and assessing the role of the modern soldier diplomat in recent deployments around the world The author is an academic working within the military environment very few people have the same capacity and accessibility to firsthand evidence and observation Whilst peacekeeping has grown in the last decade or so no one has successfully investigated the role of the military and their approach to non violent conflict resolution on the ground as few have access to such work to make a viable detailed assessment of the nature of negotiation in a violent context but Dr Goodwin is able to do so

Research Handbook on Organizational Resilience Edward H. Powley, Brianna Barker Caza, Arran Caza, 2020-08-28 This Research Handbook identifies how resilience has evolved as a critical theoretical concept in the organizational sciences International resilience scholars conceptualize and explore the various ways resilience can be embedded in theory and practice offering new and updated perspectives on the importance of resilience in multiple contexts

The Law of International Humanitarian Relief in Non-International Armed Conflicts Matthias Vanhullebusch, 2021-10-05 This book comprehensively covers the entire scope of conflicting rights and duties of the fighting parties and international humanitarian relief actors in non international armed conflicts namely from the moment of the initiation of international humanitarian relief actions till their authorisation and throughout the consecutive stages of the delivery of relief From the practice of frontline humanitarian negotiations this book reconceptualizes how those rights and duties are coming into being and how compliance with agreements on humanitarian access and other international humanitarian law and international human rights norms can be ensured and or their normativity can be strengthened

Britain, NATO and the Lessons of the Balkan Conflicts, 1991 -1999 Stephen Badsey, Paul Latawski, 2004-05-13 This publication considers the lessons to be gained for Britain the British armed forces and for NATO as a whole from the Yugoslav wars of dissolution 1991 1999 with particular emphasis on the Kosovo crisis The papers come from a diverse and high quality mixture of analysts practitioners and policy makers The Falklands Conflict Twenty Years on Stephen

Badsey, Robin Paul Whittick Havers, Mark J. Grove, 2005 This book is based on a conference at Sandhurst Military College held to re-examine the events in the Falklands of spring 1982 It is a mix of those who participated in the event with historians political scientists and journalists United Nations Disarmament Processes in Intra-State Conflict S. Hill, 2004-10-01

During the 1990s the United Nations was called upon to conduct unprecedented peacekeeping and humanitarian operations in order to bring peace to war-torn states Essential to the resolution of these conflicts was deemed to be the disarmament of the former warring parties United Nations Disarmament Processes in Intra State Conflict therefore seeks to identify the most important lessons taught by the UN's experiences in disarmament and constructs an original analytical framework to explain the variation in the UN's success On this basis Stephen M Hill proffers recommendations for the UN's present and future disarmament operations Political and Civic Leadership Richard A.
