Patient Compliance With and Attitudes Towards Health Buddy, 2000 This report discusses patient acceptance of a device called Health Buddy TM Placed in the home of a chronically ill patient in our example one with congestive heart failure or CHF this device enables two way communication between the patient and a care provider in a case management program Health Hero Inc the company that developed the Health Buddy TM and offers the communication service based on it writes The service is designed to give care providers the frequent communication and baseline data that yield more opportunities to identify potentially serious situations sooner help caregivers focus their attention on those who need it most and enable them to motivate and educate their patients Communication occurs via Health Buddy TM when the patient responds to a short automated survey of perhaps a dozen questions This is in contrast to most case management programs where the case manager usually a nurse takes the initiative by telephoning the patient Accordingly the patient s acceptance of Health Buddy TM and his or her willingness to use it daily is crucial to its success This report should be of interest to any who contemplate establishing case management programs for chronically ill patients Examples may be found in hospitals independent practice associations and health maintenance organizations it should also interest those who like Health Hero offer services in support of case management programs Funding for this work was provided by Health Hero Patient Compliance with and Attitudes Towards Health Buddy James H. behave as social actors toward others and even how we align ourselves with or come to understand the signs of difference or change as we age are phenomena achieved primarily through communication experiences Synthesizing the vast amount of research that has been published on communication and aging in numerous international outlets over the last three decades the book's contributors include scholars from North America and the United Kingdom who are active researchers in the perspectives covered in their particular chapter Many of the chapters work to deny earlier images of aging as involving normative decrement to provide a picture of aging as a process of development involving positive choices and providing new opportunities A recurring theme in many chapters is that of the heterogeneity of the group of people who are variously categorized as older aged elderly or over 65 The contributors review the literature analytically in a way that reveals not only current theoretical and methodological approaches to communication and aging research but also sets the future agenda This handbook will be of great interest to scholars and researchers in gerontology developmental psychology and communication and in this updated edition will continue to play a key role in the study of communication and aging
