Subject Guide to Books in Print, 1997 The Publishers Weekly, 1994 Newman University Church, Dublin
Niamh Bhalla, 2024-07-01. In 1854 John Henry Newman one of the foremost intellectual figures of the nineteenth century was officially installed as the rector of the first Catholic university in Ireland. University Church constructed in 1855-6 was Newman's first objective when he agreed to the rectorship and it can be considered as a tangible manifestation of the idea behind the unprecedented Catholic university in Dublin: the posing of an erudite Catholic alternative to post-Enlightenment secularism and Protestant hegemony through a style-based analogy to the early Church. Despite physically embodying what Newman wished to achieve in and through his new university, this early Christian style church which drew upon Roman and Byzantine basilicas has received little attention. This book charts for the first time the significant place that the building occupies within the history of Victorian revivalist architecture. Niamh Bhalla explores the meaningful connection between the church's context and the ambiguity of its early Christian style. In the intersection of these two things a significant monument was created. The study of University Church therefore provides an effective lens to understand more comprehensively the architectural revivalism that dominated the nineteenth century, particularly the first stirrings of basilican and Byzantine revivalist architectures in the British Isles. Praise for Newman University Church, Dublin. Newman University Church, Dublin is an important contribution to the burgeoning study of historicist architecture of the nineteenth century. In studying the larger contexts of the church, Niamh Bhalla illuminates the aspirations of Cardinal Newman for the university that he directed and Catholicism in Ireland and the United Kingdom. Robert S. Nelson, Yale University. A riveting analysis of the University Church and its intellectual background. Niamh Bhalla steers us effortlessly through the many strands of architectural and religious thought that lie behind Newman's church while revealing its seminal place in the history of the Byzantine revival. Roger Stalley, Trinity College, Dublin. Saothar, 1995 Metropolis, 1994 Dublin Deirdre O'Connor, John Graby, 1993
