Roman House:

Living Theatre in the Ancient Roman House Richard C. Beacham, Hugh Denard, 2023-01-12 For the Romans much of life was seen expressed and experienced as a form of theatre In their homes patrons performed the lead with a supporting cast of residents and visitors This sumptuously illustrated book the result of extensive interdisciplinary research is the first to investigate describe and show how ancient Roman houses and villas in their domestic spaces activities and function could constitute highly theatricalised environments indeed a sort of living theatre Their layout purpose and use reflected and informed a culture in which theatre was both a major medium of entertainment and communication and an art form drawing upon myths exploring the core values and beliefs of society For elite Romans their homes as veritable stage sets served as visible and tangible expressions of their owners prestige importance and achievements The Roman home was a carefully crafted realm in which patrons displayed themselves while stage managing the behaviour and responses of visitor spectators

The Roman House in Britain Dominic Perring, 2002-09-11 This authoritative and original work sets the results of recent archaeological research in the context of classical scholarship as it explores three main aspects of Romano British buildings general characteristics of form and structure the ways in which they were built and decorated the range of activities for which they were designed This evidence is then used to discuss the social practices and domestic arrangements that characterised Romano British elite society Fully illustrated this volume is the essential guide to how houses were built used and understood in Roman Britain

Roman House Churches for Today Reta Halteman Finger, 2007-09-14 Placing the biblical book of Romans in its historical and cultural context Reta Halteman Finger here creates a simulation of the Roman house churches that first heard Paul's Romans letter and its call for inclusiveness among the people of God Finger guides readers in small groups to re create house churches as in first century Rome Based on the text of Romans participants play various roles and converse even debate with other characters from different ethnic and religious backgrounds This experiential approach makes Romans come alive in new concrete ways and applies Romans theology to current issues that often still divide groups of Christians Roman House Churches for Today includes aids and suggestions for simulation leaders sample character sketches and website links with resources for further deeper study Not only small groups but also individuals will profit from this unique Bible study

Ancient Roman Homes Brian Williams, 2003 Discusses the homes of the ancient Romans including who lived in them what they looked like and how historians discovered this information

The Houses of Roman Italy, 100 B.C.- A.D. 250 John R. Clarke, 1991 Extensively documented with well chosen good quality photographs Clarke's book effectively surveys these representative examples from the Late Republic to the Late Empire illustrating the shift in the agendas of decoration as well as in the patterns of the lives played out behind closed doors within these highly charged domestic interiors Richard Brilliant author of Visual Narratives Storytelling in Etruscan Roman Art An enlightening and engaging walk through Roman cultural history This book will be essential to anyone interested in the classical past in artistic ensembles or in the experience of architecture Diane Favro University of California Los Angeles Real experts in Roman painting are few This book should be very welcome to Roman art historians and social historians wanting to present this material to their students Eleanor Winsor Leach author of The Rhetoric of Space Public and Private in the Roman House and Society Kaius Tuori, Laura Nissin, 2015 Roman Housing Simon P. Ellis, 2002-12-27 An examination of housing throughout the Roman world from Britain to Egypt dating from the sixth century AD Domestic sculpture decoration gardens architecture lighting furniture the use of water and ways of living are all considered To be a Roman Margaret A. Brucia, Gregory Neil Daugherty, Each chapter in this workbook designed for middle and high school aged students focuses on a particular topic Several pages explain the topic in a lively and readable fashion and are then followed by objective exercises and suggestions for student projects and classroom discussions The Houses of Roman Italy, 100 B.C.-A.D. 250 John R. Clarke, 1991 Extensively documented with well chosen good quality photographs Clarke's book effectively surveys these representative examples from the Late Republic to the Late Empire illustrating the shift in the agendas of decoration as well as in the patterns of the lives played out behind closed doors within these highly charged domestic interiors Richard Brilliant author of Visual Narratives Storytelling in Etruscan Roman Art An enlightening and engaging walk through Roman cultural history This book will be essential to anyone interested in the classical past in artistic ensembles or in the experience of architecture Diane Favro University of California Los Angeles Real experts in Roman painting are few This book should be very welcome to Roman art historians and social historians wanting to present this material to their students Eleanor Winsor Leach author of The Rhetoric of Space Houses and Society in Pompeii and Herculaneum Andrew Wallace-Hadrill, 1994 As Wallace Hadrill remarks in his preface according to the recommendations of the teachers of oratory the house should serve as a storehouse of memories Life in Roman Empire Stanford Mc Krause, 1951 At its peak the population of the city of Rome probably exceeded one million However the Roman Empire was an agricultural society where most people made a living from farming although there were many artisans Only a small minority of the population lived in cities There were basically two types of people citizens and non citizens Roman citizens had certain privileges In 212 AD all free people in the Roman Empire became citizens Edict of Caracalla A Dictionary of Greek and Roman Antiquities Charles Athon, 1843 Patriarchy, Property and Death in the Roman Family Richard P. Saller, 1994 This innovative study of the patriarchy belies the accepted notion of the father figure as tyrannical and exploitative Housing the New Romans Katharine T. von Stackelberg, Elizabeth Macaulay-Lewis, 2017 In the last twenty years reception studies have significantly enhanced our understanding of the ways in which Classics has shaped modern Western culture but very little attention has been directed toward the reception of classical architecture Housing the New Romans Architectural Reception and Classical Style in the Modern World addresses this gap by investigating ways in which appropriation and allusion facilitated the reception of Classical Greece and Rome through the requisition and redeployment of classicizing tropes to create neo Antique sites of dwelling in the 19th and early 20th centuries The volume across nine essays will cover both European and American iterations of place making including Sir John Soanes house in London the Hotel de Beauharnais in Paris and the Getty Villa in California By focusing on structures and places that are oriented towards private life houses hotels clubs tombs and gardens the volume directs the critical gaze towards diverse and complex sites of curatorial self fashioning The goal of the volume is to provide a multiplicity of interpretative frameworks e g object agency enchantment hyperreality memory infrastructure that may be applied to the study of architectural reception This critical approach makes Housing the New Romans the first work of its kind in the emerging field of architectural and landscape reception studies and in the hitherto textually dominated field of classical reception

Roman Art in the Private Sphere Elaine K. Gazda, Anne E. Haeckl, 1991 This is a stimulating book and should be compulsory reading for all students of Roman art Classical Review For all the authors attention to the ensemble a sense of the relation between the formal and the iconographic and the desire to historicize their material contribute to making this anthology unusual in its rigorous and creative attention to the way that art and architecture participate in the construction of the image of the Roman elite Art Bulletin Roman Art in the Private Sphere presents an impressive case for the social and art historical importance of the paintings mosaics and sculptures that filled the private houses of the Roman elite The six essays in this volume range from the first century B C E to the fourth century C E and from the Italian peninsula to the Eastern Empire and North African provinces The essays treat works of art that belonged to every major Roman housing type the single family atrium houses and the insula apartment blocks in Italian cities the dramatically sited villas of the Campanian coast and countryside and the palatial mansions of late antique provincial aristocrats In a complementary fashion the essays consider domestic art in relation to questions of decorum status wealth social privilege and obligation Patrons emerge as actively interested in the character of their surroundings artists appear as responsive to the desire of their patrons The evidence in private art of homosexual conduct in high society is also set forth Originality of subject matter sophisticated appreciation of stylistic and compositional nuance and philosophical perceptions of the relationship of humanity and nature are among the themes that the essays explore Together they demonstrate that Roman domestic art must be viewed on its own terms Elaine K Gazda is Professor of the History of Art and Curator of Hellenistic and Roman Antiquities at the Kelsey Museum of Archaeology University of Michigan

Fores et Fenestrae: A Computational Study of Doors and Windows in Roman Domestic Space Lucia Michielin, 2021-06-10 The role doors and windows play in shaping the life and structure of Roman private dwellings has been underestimated they are structures that connect not only rooms but houses to the outside world and they relate to privacy security and light in domestic spaces This volume analyses these structures as an essential part of daily life
