Romanian Politics 1859-1871 From Prince Cuza To Prince Carol From Prince Cuza To Prince Carol:

The Routledge History Handbook of Central and Eastern Europe in the Twentieth Century Włodzimierz Borodziej, Sabina Ferhadbegović, Joachim von Puttkamer, 2020-04-21 Statehood examines the extending lines of development of nation state systems in Eastern Europe in particular considering why certain tendencies in state development found a different expression in this region compared to other parts of the continent This volume discusses the differences between the social developments political decisions and historical experience that have influenced processes of state building with a focus on the structural problems of the region and the different paths taken to overcome them The book addresses processes of building social orders and examines the contribution of state institutions to social and cultural integration and disintegration It analyses institutional and personnel continuities that have outlasted the great political changes of the twentieth century and addresses the expansion of state activity in shaping property relations in agriculture and industry as well as in social security and family politics Taking a comparative approach based on experiential history allowing individual experience to be detached from specific national references the volume delineates a transnational comparison of problems shared within the region as they have been passed down through history providing definition to the specificity of Eastern Europe and situating the historical experience of the region within a pan European context The second in a four volume set on Central and Eastern Europe in the twentieth century it is the go to resource for those interested in statehood and state building in this complex region

The Making of Modern Romanian Culture Alex Drace-Francis, 2005-11-23 How do literacy and the development of literary culture promote the development of a national identity This well researched and readable book explores the rise of Romanian language literary educational and printing institutions in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries bringing out a story that has not been fully explored in English In twenty concise yet scholarly chapters Alex Drace Francis builds on and engages with current knowledge about print culture modernization national identity and state formation to make an original contribution to ongoing debates in these areas

Entangled Histories of the Balkans - Volume One, 2013-07-15 Modern Balkan history has traditionally been studied by national historians in terms of separate national histories taking place within bounded state territories The authors in this volume take a different approach They all seek to treat the modern history of the region from a transnational and relational perspective in terms of shared and connected as well as entangled histories transfers and crossings This goes along with an interest in the way ideas institutions and techniques were selected transferred and adapted to Balkan conditions and how they interacted with those conditions The volume also invites reflection on the interacting entities in the very process of their creation and consecutive transformations rather than taking them as givens Contributors include Alexander Vezhenkov Constantin Iordachi Raymond Detrez Ronelle Alexander Roumen Daskalov and Tchavdar Marinov

Religion and Politics in Post-Communist Romania

Lavinia Stan, Lucian Turcescu, 2007-10-25 In the post communist era it has become evident that the emerging democracies in Eastern Europe will be determined by many factors only some of them political Throughout the region the Orthodox Roman Catholic and Greek Catholic churches have tried to impose their views on democracy through direct political engagement Moreover surveys show that the churches and the army enjoy more popular confidence than elected political bodies such as parliaments These results reflect widespread disenchantment with a democratization process that has allowed politicians to advance their own agendas rather than work to solve the urgent socio economic problems these countries face In this penetrating study Lavinia Stan and Lucian Turcescu investigate the interaction of religion and politics in one such country Romania Facing internal challenges and external competitions from other religions old and new the Orthodox Church in Romania has sought to consolidate its position and ensure Romania's version of democracy recognizes its privileged position of national Church enforcing the Church's stances on issues such as homosexuality and abortion The post communist state and political elite in turn rely on the Church for compliance with educational and cultural policies and to quell the insistent demands of the Hungarian minority for autonomy Stan and Turcescu examine the complex relationship between church and state in this new Romania providing analysis in key areas church collaboration with communist authorities post communist electoral politics nationalism and ethno politics restitution of Greek Catholic property religious education and sexual behavior and reproduction As the first scholars to be given access to confidential materials from the archives of the communist political police the notorious Securitate Stan and Turcescu also examine church archives legislation news reports and interviews with politicians and church leaders This study will move the debate from common analyses of nationalism in isolation to more comprehensive investigations which consider the impact of religious actors on a multitude of other issues relevant to the political and social life of the country
