Katherine Clarke

Rome Time And Eternity:

Rome Anthony Woodward, 1995 Jews and Christians on Time and Eternity Annette Aronowicz, 1998 This book grapples with a wide range of contemporary ethical and religious issues through the lens of the reflections of Charles P. Guy on his friend and mentor Bernard Lazare. Both P. Guy, a leading French Catholic poet and philosopher, and Bernard Lazare, an iconoclastic Jewish intellectual, were passionately involved in the Dreyfus Affair, which forms the background of these reflections. The book is in four parts. The first sets P. Guy's portrait of Bernard Lazare in a series of contexts, analyzing it against the background of the rampant antisemitism of its time, situating it in relation to present-day discussions about the Other, and especially placing it within various twentieth-century attempts to rethink religion. P. Guy's great contribution in this area lies in redirecting our attention to the ways human beings respond to defeat and to the ways the intellect is oriented by something outside itself as keys to the discovery of the transcendent. His work reformulates the meaning of hope and incarnation. The second part of the book presents P. Guy's portrait of Bernard Lazare in a complete English translation. In the third part, the author shows the affinity of P. Guy's thought to that of two Jewish thinkers, Franz Rosenzweig and Emmanuel Levinas. All three, in rethinking the religious dimension, located it amidst the daily interactions between people. The final part explores the implications of this notion of transcendence for the task of interpretation in the social sciences and the humanities.

Time in the Eternal City, 2020-10-12 Time in the Eternal City: Perceiving and Controlling Time in Late Medieval and Renaissance Rome is a major contribution to the study of time and its numerous aspects in late medieval and Renaissance Rome. The authors offer a versatile view on the variety of ways time could be perceived. Individual chapters concentrate on the grass root levels of everyday life, on various uses of the past in the present, as well as on the control of time by the ecclesiastical authorities. These studies reveal a wealth of new information that demonstrates the almost endlessly fluid manner in which time could be perceived, as well as the innovative ways in which time could be used by individuals and authorities alike. Contributors are members of Tuomas Heikkilä's research group at the Finnish Institute in Rome: Holger Kaasik, Urpo Kantola, Marko Halonen, Jasmin Lukkari, and Saku Pihko.

Encyclopedia of Time H. James Birk, 2009-01-13 Surveying the major facts, concepts, theories, and speculations that infuse our present comprehension of time, the Encyclopedia of Time: Science, Philosophy, Theology, and Culture explores the contributions of scientists, philosophers, theologians, and creative artists from ancient times to the present. By drawing together into one collection ideas from scholars around the globe and in a wide range of disciplines, this Encyclopedia will provide readers with a greater understanding of and appreciation for the elusive phenomenon experienced as time. Features: Surveys historical thought about time, including those that emerged in ancient Greece, early Christianity, the Italian Renaissance, the Age of Enlightenment, and other periods. Covers the original and lasting insights of evolutionary biologist Charles Darwin, physicist Albert Einstein, philosopher Alfred North Whitehead, and theologian Pierre Teilhard de Chardin. Discusses the significance of time in the writings of Isaac Asimov.

The Eternal Time of History - Part II

Simone Malacrida,2025-06-27 Following the family saga originated by Servius Italicus his descendants will find themselves facing new challenges and new problems unfolding throughout the second century The conquest of Dacia the endless wars against the Parthians the barbarian incursions will mark the territorial and cultural expansion of the adoptive principality one of the most glorious pages of the Empire until the definitive caesura given by the Antonine plague and the civil war In the background remain the personal passions the intrepid exploratory journeys the magisterial and senatorial careers the loves and doubts of entire generations The complementary vision of the century will be given by the same enemies of Rome that Parthian kingdom and those barbarian tribes always divided between coexistence or conflict

The Eternal Time of History - Part I Simone Malacrida,2025-06-04 Servius Italicus choice to break with his family s traditions will give rise to a lineage that for five generations will walk alongside the history of the first century From the defeat of Teutoburg to the conquest of Britain from the death of Octavian Augustus to the fire of Rome from the eruption of Vesuvius to the first campaign of Dacia men and women will find themselves in the presence of the founding idea of the Roman Empire shaken by novelties and evolutions in an attempt to defend the values of an ancestral and now past virtue To complete the vision of the century two collateral stories intertwine in the plot trade and cultivation in the Chinese Empire following the rise and fall of the Eastern Han dynasty and the growing tensions in a family of zealots between Judea and Syria

The Space of Time

David van Dusen,2014-05-09 From Robert Grosseteste to Jean Fran ois Lyotard Augustine s suggestion that time is a dilation of the soul distentio animi has been taken up as a seminal and controversial time concept yet in The Space of Time David van Dusen argues that this dilation has been fundamentally misinterpreted Time in Confessions XI is a dilation of the senses in beasts as in humans And Augustine s time concept in Confessions XI is not Platonic but in schematic terms Epicurean Identifying new influences on the Confessions from Aristoxenus to Lucretius while keeping Augustine s phenomenological interpreters in view The Space of Time is a path breaking work on Confessions X to XII and a ranging contribution to the history of the concept of time

Time and Uncertainty

Paul André Harris,Michael Crawford,2004-05-01 The essays in this volume all originated at the 2001 conference of the International Society for the Study of Time The theme Time and Uncertainty sounds redundant but the contributions try to come to terms with the irreducible openness of time and the impermanence of life The essays from various disciplines have been grouped around fracture and rupture grappling with time and uncertainty as a breach and rapture and structure solving uncertainty into pattern Making Time for the Past Katherine Clarke, 2008-03-20 This book has two main and connected themes the conception and articulation of time in the Greek world and the creation of history especially in the context of the Greek city Both how time is expressed and how the past is presented have often been seen as reflections of society By looking at the construction of the past through the medium of local historiography where we can view these issues in the relatively restricted world of individual city states we can gain a clearer insight into how different versions of the past and different constructions of time were offered to the community for approval In this way the citizens were able to negotiate time past and indeed their own history and thereby to express their values and aspirations The Philosophy of Literature Condé Benoist Pallen, 1897 Eternity and Eternal Life Tibor Horvath, 2006-01-01 The Newtonian concept of time has been changed by Einsteinian insight Yet the Einsteinian world view might make it difficult to appreciate traditional concepts of eschatology like heaven and hell death and immortality life after death and resurrection last day and final judgments because these expressions presuppose a pre Einsteinian view of the universe Since theology cannot remain unaffected by the new research in concepts of time Eternity and Eternal Life tries to express the eschatological faith of the Church by using the time language of our age To achieve this it provides an overview on the research in the nature of time done in geology cosmology physics biology psychology sociology history and philosophy and proposes a notion of time for timely Christology and for timely eschatology By using the singularity event as literary form Horvath scrutinizes how Christ's time can lead to the times of all existing realities through death to eternity This is a pioneering work one that needs to be tested in the community of interested readers It is a communal search for an understanding of life death and eternal life not only in the light of abstract ideas and cultural linguistic doctrines in the world of religions but also in the light of science and especially of a person as the horizon of understanding for both time and eternity Christ as the eschatological union of time and eternity becomes the work's unifying focus and its paradigm which solves recognized problems and opens our minds to new ones Bede and Time Máirín MacCarron, 2019-09-19 Awarded the Irish Historical Research Prize 2021 The Venerable Bede c 673-735 was the leading intellectual figure of the early Anglo Saxon Church and his extensive corpus of writings encompassed themes of exegesis computus dating of Easter and construction of calendars history and hagiography Rather than look at these works in isolation Máirín MacCarron argues that Bede's work in different genres needs to be read together to be properly understood This book provides the first integrated analysis of Bede's thought on time and demonstrates that such a comprehensive examination allows a greater understanding of Bede's writings on time and illuminates the place of time and chronology in his other works Bede was an outstanding intellect whose creativity and ingenuity were apparent in various genres of writing This book argues that in innovatively combining computus theology and history Bede transformed his contemporaries' understanding of time and chronology Walking Tours of Ancient Rome: A Secular Guidebook to the Eternal City (Mercury Guides) Gary M.

Devore,2008-04-12 This guidebook is designed for tourists and scholars who are interested in exploring first hand the grandeur and magnificence that was ancient Rome through a Humanist secular and freethinking lens Twelve walking tours are designed around districts of the city Two appendices also describe day trips that are possible from the city center the ruins of Rome s port city of Ostia and the remains of the emperor Hadrian s splendid villa at Tivoli Time, Eternity, and the Trinity Eunsoo Kim,2010-03-01 One of the vital issues in contemporary Christian theology is the problem of a renewed understanding of God s eternity and its relation to time This is not merely a peripheral doctrinal issue but lies at the heart of our understanding of God and humanity and contributes to our entire worldview This study focuses on a long standing debate between two competing views on God s eternity one focused on God s absolute timelessness in classical theism and the other on God s temporal everlastingness in contemporary panentheism In contrast to both of these well worn options this book presents an alternative Trinitarian analogical understanding of God s eternity and its relation to time especially through a critical reflection on Karl Barth s and Hans Urs von Balthasar s engagement of the issue This analogical approach based on the dynamic and dramatic concepts of God s being in relation and of the Triune God s communicative action in eternity and time has the potential to resolve the debate between absolute timeless eternity and temporal everlasting duration

The Contest for Time and Space in the Roman Imperial Cults and 1 Peter Wei Hsien Wan, 2019-10-17 Wei Hsien Wan builds on the work of David Horrell and Travis Williams for his argument that the letter of 1 Peter engages in a subtle calculated form of resistance to Rome that has often gone undetected Whilst previous discussion of the topic has remained largely focused on the letter's stance toward specific Roman institutions such as the emperor household structures and the imperial cults Wan takes the conversation beyond these confines and examines 1 Peter's critique of the Roman Empire in terms of its ideology or worldview Using the work of James Scott to conceptualize ideological resistance against domination Wan considers how the imperial cults of Anatolia and 1 Peter offered distinct constructions of time and space that is how they envisioned reality differently Insofar as these differences led to divergent ways of conceiving the social order they acquired political power and generated potential for conflict Wan thus argues that 1 Peter confronts Rome on a cosmic scale with its alternative construal of time and space and examines the evidence that the Petrine author consciously if cautiously interrogated the imperial imagination at its most foundational levels and set forth in its place a theocentric Christological understanding of the world

Conceptions of Time in Greek and Roman Antiquity Richard Faure, Simon-Pierre Valli, Arnaud Zucker, 2022-06-06 This collection of articles is an important milestone in the history of the study of time conceptions in Greek and Roman Antiquity It spans from Homer to Neoplatonism Conceptions of time are considered from different points of view and sources Reflections on time were both central and various throughout the history of ancient philosophy Time was a topic but also material for poets historians and doctors Importantly the contributions also explore implicit conceptions and how language influences our thought categories

On Roman Time Michele Renee Salzman, 1991-03-25 Because they list all the public holidays and pagan festivals of the age calendars provide unique insights into the culture and everyday life of ancient Rome The Codex Calendar of 354 miraculously survived the Fall of Rome Although it was subsequently lost the copies made in the Renaissance remain invaluable documents of Roman society and religion in the years between Constantine's conversion and the fall of the Western Empire In this richly illustrated book Michele Renee Salzman establishes that the traditions of Roman art and literature were still very much alive in the mid fourth century Going beyond this analysis of precedents and genre Salzman also studies the Calendar of 354 as a reflection of the world that produced and used it Her work reveals the continuing importance of pagan festivals and cults in the Christian era and highlights the rise of a respectable aristocratic Christianity that combined pagan and Christian practices Salzman stresses the key role of the Christian emperors and imperial institutions in supporting pagan rituals Such policies of accommodation and assimilation resulted in a gradual and relatively peaceful transformation of Rome from a pagan to a Christian capital Time in Ancient Stories of Origin Anke Walter, 2020-06-29 Greek and Roman stories of origin or aetia provide a fascinating window onto ancient conceptions of time Aetia pervade ancient literature at all its stages and connect the past with the present by telling us which aspects of the past survive even now or ever since then Yet while the standard aetiological formulae remain surprisingly stable over time the understanding of time that lies behind stories of origin undergoes profound changes By studying a broad range of texts and by closely examining select stories of origin from archaic Greece Hellenistic Greece Augustan Rome and early Christian literature Time in Ancient Stories of Origin traces the changing forms of stories of origin and the underlying changing attitudes to time to the interaction of the time of gods and men to historical time to change and continuity as well as to a time beyond the present one Walter provides a model of how to analyse the temporal construction of aetia by combining close attention to detail with a view towards the larger temporal agenda of each work In the process new insights are provided both into some of the best known aetiological works of antiquity e g by Hesiod Callimachus Vergil Ovid and lesser known works e g Ephorus Prudentius Orosius This volume shows that aetia do not merely convey factual information about the continuity of the past but implicate the present in ever new complex messages about time The Eternal Time of History

- Part IV Simone Malacrida, 2025-09-07 With the rise of Constantine to the helm of the Roman Empire religion became a crucial element along with civil wars and barbarian invasions shaping the entire history of the fourth century This was characterized by a continuous transformation of society much more concerned with cultural philosophical and theological aspects than with military tradition The Italics were no exception and generations adapted to these new customs a clear sign of a decline that was both inevitable and almost indefinitely postponed The foundations for the collapse lay in the emergence of new peoples represented by eternal past enemies such as the Sassanids and by adversaries who mistakenly would even be considered allies such as the Visigoths
