Rome Its Story:

Rome and Its Story Welbore St. Clair Baddeley, Lina Duff Gordon, 1904 Rome Greg Woolf, 2012-11-01 The very idea of empire was created in ancient Rome and even today traces of its monuments literature and institutions can be found across Europe the Near East and North Africa and sometimes even further afield In Rome historian Greg Woolf expertly recounts how this mammoth empire was created how it was sustained in crisis and how it shaped the world of its rulers and subjects a story spanning a millennium and a half of history The personalities and events of Roman history have become part of the West's cultural lexicon and Woolf provides brilliant retellings of each of these from the war with Carthage to Octavian's victory over Cleopatra from the height of territorial expansion under the emperors Trajan and Hadrian to the founding of Constantinople and the barbarian invasions which resulted in Rome's ultimate collapse Throughout Woolf carefully considers the conditions that made Rome's success possible and so durable covering topics as diverse as ecology slavery and religion Woolf also compares Rome to other ancient empires and to its many later imitators bringing into vivid relief the Empire's most distinctive and enduring features As Woolf demonstrates nobody ever planned to create a state that would last more than a millennium and a half yet Rome was able in the end to survive barbarian migrations economic collapse and even the conflicts between a series of world religions that had grown up within its borders in the process generating an image and a myth of empire that is apparently indestructible Based on new research and compellingly told this sweeping account promises to eclipse all previously published histories of the empire Rome and Its Story Welbore St. Clair Baddeley, Lina Duff Gordon, 1904

Rome and Its Story (Classic Reprint) St. Clair Baddeley, 2016-11-20. Excerpt from Rome and Its Story. To present within the compass of a single volume anything like a serviceable sketch of the history and monuments of the city of Rome is a task of extreme difficulty and one which it might take the labour of years to perform with any approach to completeness. Nevertheless I hope that the modern pilgrim may find in the following pages some help in the bewildering effort to recover from amid the encumbrances of the modern city some coherent image or series of images of old Rome in the successive stages of its development. It is a story in stone told by the buildings and monuments of the great Forum of Rome, one of the most interesting places in all the world. And the story tells not only of the making of the Forum but of the many things that happened there and from it we learn of a people strong and warlike, of a nation of conquerors and lawgivers who became the masters of the ancient world.
