The Music Space / Poems Daniel Abdal-Hayy Moore, 2007-07-01 THE MUSIC SPACE written in 2001 is a series of poems most acutely attuned to the sounds of our universe composed for the most part while traveling back and forth to New York unexpectedly ending with the world transforming events of 9/11 completing in an apocalyptic way an unforeseen circle This is the music space where music is most difficult this place of joy and horror I think the music of the spheres can be heard in this space And the original sound is the sound of God alone audible to Himself and we are the humming elements of that sound

Contemporary Women's Poetry and Urban Space Z. Skoulding, 2013-10-03 This book focuses on the role of the city and its processes of mutual transformation in poetry by experimental women writers Readings of their work are placed in the context of theories of urban space while new visions of the contemporary city and its global relationships are drawn from their innovations in language and form      The Landscapes of W. Vít, 2021-12-14 This is the first book length study foregrounding Auden's sense of place as a means for enhancing our grasp of this crucial twentieth century poet Proposing that Auden had a remarkable spatial sensibility this book concentrates on his treatment of his homeland England as well as the North Pennines and Iceland both of which served as his good places holy grounds and sources of topophilic sentiment The readings draw on the scholarship of humanistic geography tracing patterns of mental constructs which emerge from spatial experience In a scholarly but engaging way this book argues that focusing on Auden's poetics of place as it emerged and evolved can be instrumental to our understanding of this influential poet not only in relation to his epoch but also to the Anglophone poetic tradition Precisely because of his stature these elaborations on Auden's preoccupation with places escapism borders and local identity promise to enrich our understanding of the cultural and intellectual climate of the interwar period when established notions of local places and cultures were beginning to be contested by internationalisation This study will be of interest to both academics and students in the field of Anglophone literary studies while also appealing to those attracted to Auden's poetry interwar culture and the literary representation of space

The Poetry Circuit Peter B. Howarth, 2024-09-17 Live performance has changed poetry more than anything else in the last hundred years it has given poets new audiences and a new economy and it has generated new styles from Imagism to confessional to contemporary Spoken Word But the creative impact that public reading had right through the twentieth century has not been well understood Mixing close listening to archive performances with intimate histories of modernist venues and promoters The Poetry Circuit tells the story of how poets met their audience again and how the feedback loops between their voices the venues and the occasions turned poems into running dramas between poet and listener A nervous T S Eliot reveals himself to be anything but impersonal while Marianne Moore's accident prone readings become subtle ways of keeping her poems in constant re draft Robert Frost used his poems to spar with his fans and rivals while Langston Hughes wrote Ask Your Mama to expose the prejudice circulating in the room as he spoke it The Poetry Circuit also shows how the post war reading boom made new kinds of poetry involving their audience and setting in the performance such as John Ashbery's anti charismatic Poets Theatre Amiri Baraka's documentary soundtracks of the streets or the confessional readings of Allen Ginsberg which shame the listeners more than the poet Covering the first seventy years of the poetry reading The Poetry Circuit demonstrates that there never were page and stage poets the reading simply changed what every modern poet could do
