German Essays on Film Richard McCormick, Alison Guenther-Pal, 2010-06-15 This fascinating volume is for all serious students of European cinema as well as historians of Germany in the 20th century

German Essays on Film is divided into five parts Late Wilhelmine Germany Weimar Republic 1918 33 Inside the Third Reich 1933 45 Intellectuals in Exile and Postwar Germany since 1945 Among the writers thinkers filmmakers and scholars anthologized are Alfred Döblin Georg Lukács Claire Goll Hugo von Hofmannsthal Fritz Lang F W Murnau Joseph Goebbels Leni Riefenstahl Walter Benjamin Max Horkheimer Theodor W Adorno Siegfried Kracauer R W Fassbinder Wim Wenders Gertrud Koch and many others The introduction by McCormick and Guenther Pal along with generous headnotes help to put all these essays into historic perspective Regenerating England, 2016-08-29 In the inter war years there was much debate in Britain as to whether the best path to post World War I regeneration would be found in the promises of science and technology in continued and increased efficiency in specialization and professionalization or whether the future of the nation depended on a rediscovery of older and more authentic ways of doing things on a defiant anti modernism This debate on Britain's future was often conducted in terms of Englishness and the rebirth of a lost more spiritual village England However Englishness also entered inter war social thinking through eclectic assimilations of diverse traditions Prominent themes in the discourses on Britain's post war regeneration include national character citizenship fitness education utopia community and so on The chapters in the present volume address these themes and break new ground by examining debates well known in political and literary history through their relations to science medicine architecture and ideas of social and political health

Being Modern Robert Bud, Paul Greenhalgh, Frank James, Morag Shiach, 2018-10-05 In the early decades of the twentieth century engagement with science was commonly used as an emblem of modernity This phenomenon is now attracting increasing attention in different historical specialties Being Modern builds on this recent scholarly interest to explore engagement with science across culture from the end of the nineteenth century to approximately 1940 Addressing the breadth of cultural forms in Britain and the western world from the architecture of Le Corbusier to working class British science fiction Being Modern paints a rich picture Seventeen distinguished contributors from a range of fields including the cultural study of science and technology art and architecture English culture and literature examine the issues involved The book will be a valuable resource for students and a spur to scholars to further examination of culture as an interconnected web of which science is a critical part and to supersede such tired formulations as Science and culture Pursuing the Unity of Science Harmke Kamminga, Geert Somsen, 2016-05-20 From 1918 to the late 1940s a host of influential scientists and intellectuals in Europe and North America were engaged in a number of far reaching unity of science projects In this period of deep social and political divisions scientists collaborated to unify sciences across disciplinary boundaries and to set up the international scientific community as a model for global political co operation They strove to align scientific and social objectives through rational planning and to promote unified science as the driving force of human civilization and progress This volume explores the unity of science movement providing a synthetic view of its pursuits and placing it in its historical context as a scientific and political force Through a coherent set of original case studies looking at the significance of various projects and strategies of unification the book highlights the great variety of manifestations of this endeavour These range from unifying nuclear physics to the evolutionary synthesis and from the democratization of scientific planning to the utopianism of H G Wells s world state At the same time the collection brings out the substantive links between these different pursuits especially in the form of interconnected networks of unification and the alignment of objectives among them Notably it shows that opposition to fascism using the instrument of unified science became the most urgent common goal in the 1930s and 1940s In addressing these issues the book makes visible important historical developments showing how scientists participated in and actively helped to create an interwar ideology of unification and bringing to light the cultural and political significance of this enterprise Cinema Babel Markus Nornes,2007 Uncovering the vital role of interpreters dubbers and subtitlers in global film Nornes examines the relationships between moving image media and translation and contends that film was a globalized medium from its beginning and that its transnational traffic has been greatly influenced by interpreters

Kracauer Jörg Später,2020-06-11 Siegfried Kracauer was one of the most important German thinkers of the twentieth century His writings on Weimar culture mass society photography and film were groundbreaking and they anticipated many of the themes later developed members of the Frankfurt School and other cultural theorists No less remarkable were the circumstances under which he made these contributions After his early years as a journalist in Germany the rise of the Nazis forced Kracauer into exile first in Paris and then after a protracted flight via Marseilles and Lisbon to the United States The existential challenges personal losses and unrelenting hardship Kracauer faced during these years of exile formed the backdrop against which he offered his acute observations of modern life J rg Später provides the first comprehensive biography of this extraordinary man Based on extensive archival research Später s biography expertly traces the key influences on Kracauer s intellectual development and presents his most important works and ideas with great clarity At the same time Später ably documents the intensity of Kracauer s personal relationships the trauma of his flight and exile and his embrace of his new homeland where finally the groundlessness of refugee existence gave way to a more stable life and with it some of the intellectually most fruitful years of Kracauer s career The result is a vivid portrait of a man driven both by an urge to capture reality to attend to the things that are overlooked or misjudged that still lack a name as he put it and by a need to find his place in a hostile threatening world Film: an Anthology Daniel Talbot,1975 An anthology of writings on film studies A Companion to Documentary Film History Joshua Malitsky,2021-04-13 This volume offers a new and expanded history of the documentary form across a range of times and contexts featuring original essays by leading historians in the field In a contemporary media culture suffused with competing truth claims documentary media have become one of the most significant means through which we think in depth about the past The most rigorous collection of essays on nonfiction film and media history and historiography currently available A Companion to Documentary Film History offers an in depth global examination of central historical issues and approaches in documentary and of documentary s engagement with historical and contemporary topics debates and themes The Companion s twenty original essays by prominent nonfiction film and media historians challenge prevalent conceptions of what documentary is and was and explore its growth development and function over time The authors provide fresh insights on the mode s reception geographies authorship multimedia contexts and movements and address documentary s many aesthetic industrial historiographical and social dimensions This authoritative volume Offers both historical specificity and conceptual flexibility in approaching nonfiction and documentary media Explores documentary s multiple complex geographic and geopolitical frameworks Covers a diversity of national and historical contexts including Revolution era Soviet Union post World War Two Canada and Europe and contemporary China Establishes new connections and interpretive contexts for key individual films and film movements using new primary sources Interrogates established assumptions about documentary authorship audiences and documentary s historical connection to other media practices A Companion to Documentary Film History is an ideal text for undergraduate and graduate courses covering documentary or nonfiction film and media an excellent supplement for courses on national or regional media histories and an important new resource for all film and media studies scholars particularly those in nonfiction media

Shadows of Progress Patrick Russell, James Piers Taylor, 2019-07-25 Britain emerged from war a changed country facing new social industrial and cultural challenges Its documentary film tradition established in the 1930s and 1940s around legendary figures such as Grierson Rotha and Jennings continued evolving utilising technical advances displaying robust aesthetic concerns and benefiting from the entry into the industry of wealthy commercial sponsors Thousands of films were seen by millions worldwide Received wisdom has been that British documentary went into swift decline after the war resurrected only by Free Cinema and the arrival of television documentary Shadows of Progress demolishes these simplistic assumptions presenting instead a complex and nuanced picture of the sponsored documentary in flux Patrick Russell and James Piers Taylor explore the reasons for the period s critical neglect and address the sponsorship production distribution and key themes of British documentary They paint a vivid picture of institutions from public bodies to multinational industries constantly redefining their relationships with film as a form of enlightened public relations Many of the issues that these films addressed could not be more topical today the rise of environmentalism the balance of state and industry individual and community a nation and a world travelling from bust to boom and back again In the second part of the book contributors from the curatorial and academic world provide career biographies of key film makers of the period From Lindsay Anderson s lesser known early career to neglected film makers like John Krish Sarah Erulkar Eric Marquis and Derrick Knight a kaleidoscopic picture is built up of the myriad relationships of artist and sponsor
