Rothko Chapel Paintings:

The Rothko Chapel Paintings Sheldon Nodelman, 1997 The paintings executed in 1964-1967 by American artist Mark Rothko for the Rothko Chapel in Houston represent the fulfillment of the artist's lifelong ambition and a breakthrough in twentieth century art. Unlike previous sets of paintings commissioned for the Seagram Building and Harvard University, the Chapel commission allowed Rothko to determine the architectural setting and lighting in which the paintings would appear. This proved to be the catalyst for a new mode of pictorial dynamics based on a kind of interaction of paintings, architecture, and light previously unknown. No painting in the set could be understood in isolation from the rest or apart from its place in the architectural setting. The Rothko Chapel Paintings explore this interdependence of paintings and place. As viewers move about the Chapel's octagonal enclosure over whose walls the fourteen panels are continuously distributed, they discover systems of pictorial interactions which become the terms or characters of a cosmological drama in which the viewer is a necessary participant. In the act of vision, the embodied viewer is prompted not merely to witness but also to reenact that questioning of human destiny which has preoccupied the Western spiritual tradition.

The Rothko Chapel Dominique de Menil, 2010 This elegant collection commemorates the timeless words and inspired thoughts of Dominique de Menil, a woman whose life's task was to inspire a better world. With her husband John, she founded the inter-religious Rothko Chapel in Houston in 1971. The de Menils' dream was for the Chapel to promote interfaith dialogue, human rights, and the arts. They famously commissioned the artist Mark Rothko to create a suite of paintings specifically for the Chapel. Gathered here is a selection of de Menil's thought-provoking speeches, interviews, letters, and other commentaries, beginning with her inaugural address for the Rothko Chapel and concluding with remarks she offered at a human rights award ceremony in 1997. The writings testify to de Menil's profound belief in the transcendent dimension of life and in the motivating power of the principles of truth and justice. More relevant today than ever her visionary ideas seem both prescient and deeply important in the strife ridden world of the 21st century

Saving Abstraction Ryan Dohoney, 2019-10-25 Saving Abstraction Morton Feldman the de Menils and the Rothko Chapel tells the story of the 1972 premier of Morton Feldman's music for the Rothko Chapel in Houston Built in 1971 for people of all faiths or none the chapel houses 14 monumental paintings by famed abstract expressionist Mark Rothko who had committed suicide only one year earlier Upon its opening visitors responses to the chapel ranged from spiritual succor to abject tragedy the latter being closest to Rothko's intentions However the chapel's founders art collectors and philanthropists Dominique and John de Menil opened the space to provide an ecumenically and spiritually affirming environment that spoke to their avant garde approach to Catholicism A year after the chapel opened Morton Feldman's musical work Rothko Chapel proved essential to correcting the unintentionally grave atmosphere of the de Menil's chapel translating Rothko's existential dread into sacred ecumenism for visitors Author Ryan Dohoney reconstructs the network of artists musicians and patrons who collaborated on the premier of Feldman's music for the space and documents the ways collaborators struggled over fundamental questions about the emotional efficacy of art and its potential translation into religious feeling Rather than frame the debate as a conflict of art versus religion Dohoney argues that the popular claim of modernism's autonomy from religion has been overstated and that the two have been continually intertwined in an agonistic tension that animates many 20th century artistic collaborations

Mark Rothko Annie Cohen-Solal, 2015-01-01 Mark Rothko was not only one of the most influential American painters of the twentieth century he was a scholar an educator and a deeply spiritual human being Born Marcus Yakovlevich Rotkovitch he emigrated from the Russian Empire to the United States at age ten already well educated in the Talmud and carrying with him bitter memories of the pogroms and persecutions visited upon the Jews of Latvia Few artists have achieved success as quickly and by the mid twentieth century Rothko's artwork was being displayed in major museums throughout the world In May 2012 his painting Orange Red Yellow was auctioned for nearly 87 million setting a new Christie's record Author Annie Cohen Solal gained access to archival materials no previous biographer had seen As a result her book is an extraordinarily detailed portrait of Rothko the man and the artist an uncommonly successful painter who was never comfortable with the idea of his art as a commodity Mark Rothko Julia Davis,1998 The Rothko Chapel Susan Barnes,2020-02 ~THEœ ROTHKO CHAPEL. Susan J. Barnes,1989 The Rothko Chapel Craig Ronald Johnson,1983 Mark Rothko Anna Chave,Mark Rothko,1989-01-01 A visual analysis of the New York School painter which examines the structure of Rothko s paintings while arguing that they implement traces of certain basic symbolically charged pictorial conventions The Art of the Sacred Graham Howes,2006-11-24 The field of art and religion is fast becoming one of the most dynamic areas of religious studies Uniquely The Art of the Sacred explores the relationship between religion and the visual arts and vice versa within Christianity and other major religious traditions It identifies and describes the main historical theological sociological and aesthetic dimensions of religious art with particular attention to popular as well as high culture and within societies of the developing world It also attempts to locate and predict the forms and functions of such art in a changing contemporary context of obligation modernity secularism and fundamentalism The author concentrates on four chief dimensions where religious art and religious belief converge the iconographic the didactic the institutional and the aesthetic This clear well organised and imaginative treatment of the subject should prove especially attractive to students of religion and visual culture as well as to artists and art historians
